Kate Smith Program Will Be Aired From Washington

Lionel Barrymore Will Visit Cast Of Good News Of 1939; Grace Moore To Be Heard On Vallee Spot

Because she will be in Washington for a command appearance before the King and Queen of England at the White House, Kate Smith will broadcast from the Nation's capital Thursday at 7 p. m. over WABC.

Kate's repeat broadcast at 11 p. m. probably will start without the Mistress-of-Ceremonies because she is scheduled to be singing before their Majesties at that time. As soon as she has concluded, she will be rushed by special government escort to the CBS studios for as much of the radio program as she can make. After the broadcast, she will return to the White House for the remainder of the reception.

Except for Kate herself, all the regular program, with Ethel Barrymore as guest star, will originate as usual from New York. Miss Barrymore of the "Royal Family of the Stage," will be heard in a special microphone drama written for her.

Kate has scheduled as her own vocal solos for the program, "New Moon, Old Serenade," "Don't Worry About Me," which she recently recorded, "East Side of Heaven" and "God Bless America."

Lionel Barrymore again will visit Robert Young, Fanny Brice, Frank Morgan, Meredith Willson, Connie Boswell and other members of the cast of Good News of 1939, when he stars in a dramatic sketch during the broadcast Thursday, from 8 to 9 p. m., over WEAF.

Connie Boswell's solos will be "Sunrise Serenade" and "The Lady's in Love With You." Meredith Willson's orchestra will open with "Tain't What You Do," and the Concert Hall feature will be "In the Hall of the Mountain King," from Grieg's Peer Gynt Suite. The Old Time Music Album selection will be Gus Edward's "By the Light of the Silvery Moon."

Grace Moore, Metropolitan opera star just home from a west coast tour that followed the closing of one of her busiest seasons in the opera, will sing two numbers on Rudy Vallee's program over WEAF Thursday at 7 p. m.

Other guests on this program will be Fay Wray, actress, whose scheduled appearance last week was postponed; Lou Holtz, comedian, and Franklin P. Adams, newspaper columnist and one of the wits of the Information Please program's board of experts. Miss Wray will be heard with Vallee in Milton Geiger's sketch, "Alias Captain Battle." Lou Holtz will have more tall tales to tell of the adventures of Sam Lapidus, and F. P. A. will deliver a typical bit of his comment.

Lucille Ball, Linda Ware and Bert Lahr will be presented by Bing Crosby as special guests during the Music Hall broadcast Thursday from 9 to 10 p. m., over WEAF.

Bing will attempt to explain the meaning of some of his "two bit" words to Miss Ball, the "beautiful but dumb" film star. Linda Ware, a new singing sensation, will make her KMH debut. Miss Ware is playing the role of a young singer discovered by Gus Edwards in Crosby's picture, "The Star Maker." Signed to a personal contract by Charles R. Rogers, the young singer, only 14 years old, is acclaimed as a great lyric soprano. She will sing Waltz of the Flowers, from Tschaikowsky's "Nutcracker Suite."

An English-American musical salute to King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, arranged in honor of their visit to this country, will be given by an NBC concert orchestra under the baton of Dr. Frank Black, on Thursday, from 8:00 to 9:00 p. m. over WJZ. The royal couple arrive in Washington, D. C., the same day.

Opening with the English national anthem, "God Save the King," the broadcast will continue with the "Pomp and Circumstance" march No. 1, in D-Major, by the late Sir Edward Elgar, and the "Indian" suite, Opus 48, No. 2, by Edward MacDowell. Three pieces in C-major —"Allemande," "Sarabande" and "Cebell"—by the famous English master, Henry Purcell, will be followed by "The Legend of John Henry" by Lamar Stringfield and the "Star Spangled Banner."

Wynn Murray, onetime fat girl and star of current Broadway show, "The Boys From Syracuse," is next in line for a CBS buildup similar to the one that started Kate Smith to stardom. She'll be heard in her own show five nights a week before long.

Al Pearce's program has been extended for another month, and will stay on the air thru July.

Ruth Borden, sister of Edith Meiser, writer of "Dr. Susan," has been sold as script writer on "Valiant Lady," which has just been renewed.

Chances are very good that both Frances Langford and Ken Murray will be heard next year on that Wednesday night oil program.

"Name Three" is proving a socko quiz show, because it's been renewed by its ciggy sponsor.

Phil Spitalny and his girl orchestra are playing at the Drake hotel in Chicago, and Phil turned down a summer radio commercial because of stage and hotel engagements.

Vivian della Chiesa is off for the west coast and on her return the talent soprano will probably guest star with Raymond Paige and his 99 Men over CBS.

Bob Ripley's "Odditorium" appears to be on the "must see" list of New York World's Fair visitors. The attraction is doing Broadway capacity business.

Her "court" will consist of "princesses" representing various southern states.

OCCUPANTS UNINJURED WHEN AUTOS COLLIDE

OTTAWA, June 8—Two men escaped without injury in a rear-end collision which badly damaged two autos about two miles north of Ottawa in Route 15, at 10:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Sheriff Arnold Potts said a car driven north in Route 15 by Bernard Brown, 33, Continental, was struck in the rear by another auto, also driven north by August Hermiller, 23, of near Miller. Rear of Brown's car and front of Hermiller's vehicle were both badly damaged.

Two Outstanding Pictures Offered On Lyric Program

New Films Are On Schedules For Other Theatres With Many Famous Players In Lead Roles

"Suez," the dramatic story of the building of one of the greatest engineering projects in history, is one of the current Lyric films. Tyrone Power and Annabella, (now Mr. and Mrs.) and Loretta Young have the leads in this mighty picture.

"Up the River," a bit of nonsense on prison life starring Preston Foster, Slim Summerville and Tony Martin, is the other Lyric picture.

Robert Young, as a young man who made a habit of never getting to his wedding after the "bachelor" dinner, is seen in the picture, "Bridal Suite" at the Ohio. Annabella, Walter Connolly, Reginald Owen, Gene Lockhart, Arthur Treacher and Billie Burke are among the supporting players.

"Bulldog Drummond's Secret Police" is the second Sigma offering. It again stars John Howard in the suave role of Bulldog Drummond and Heather Angel as his sweetheart.

A great double bill, "Topper Takes a Trip," starring Constance Bennett, Roland Young and Billie Burke, and "Pacific Liner," featuring Victor McLaglen and Chester Morris, opens Thursday at the State.

Just what happens to girls who come to New York to seek fame and fortune on the stage, is revealed in "Missing Daughters," one of the features now showing the Quilna. Rochelle Hudson, Richard Arlen and Isabel Jewell head the cast.

Comedy that is entirely different is flashed across the Quilna screen in "The Lady and the Mob," starring Fay Bainter, Ida Lupino, Lee Bowman and Warren Hymer.

OHIO

With laughter its sole mission, and zanies its emissaries of hilarity amid the snowy grandeurs of the Alpine mountains, "Bridal Suite," with Robert Young and Annabella, is at the Ohio theatre.

Aiding and abetting the leads are Walter Connolly as a psychiatrist, Reginald Owen as a penniless English lord anxious to marry off his daughter to money, Gene Lockhart as Young's father, Arthur Treacher as another member of the English nobility and Billie Burke as Young's fluttery mother.

The picture revels in uproarious comedy situations, among which are scenes wherein Connolly puts Young thru a side-splitting mental test; Young, Connolly and Annabella find themselves making love on a ledge over a yawning precipice, with the antagonistic Connolly between them; and a free-for-all fight aboard a trans-Atlantic liner.

The story details the efforts of Young's doting mother to have him cured of a mental condition which makes him even forget his wedding date. Connolly's the doctor, but Annabella upsets the apple cart and wins Young away from the society girl chosen by his mother when Young discovers that there's one thing he can never forget, namely, Annabella, the manageress of the Swiss inn, who taught him how to make nuss-pusserls while he made love.

QUILNA

Fay Bainter, brilliant stage star, makes her first screen appearance since winning a recent motion picture academy award for her work in "Jezebel" at the Quilna theatre in "The Lady and the Mob." Ida Lupino is featured with the actress whose recent screen record includes such films as "Yes, My Darling Daughter," "Quality Street" and "The Arkansas Traveler."

In "The Lady and the Mob" Miss Bainter is said to possess a role offering her unique opportunity for a memorable characterization. She is seen as Mrs. Leonard, wealthy, autocratic ruler of her community. When racketeers invade her city, she goes to the police and then to the mayor. Both prove powerless against the insidious menace, and Mrs. Leonard decides to take the law into her own hands.

It is with the story of America's "Missing Daughters" that the other Quilna picture concerns itself, showing what happens to inexperienced girls who strive for stage careers, the film tells the story of a courageous radio columnist who co-operates with the police in the smashing of a vicious gang of racketeers who prey on their credulous victims. Richard Arlen, long familiar to movie-goers, plays the part of the quick-thinking air gossip who is assisted in his dangerous task by Rochelle Hudson, seen as the sister of one of the vanished girls.

Isabel Jewell and Marian Marsh have prominent roles as two of the missing daughters.
