Grant Park Series to Begin Tonight

Helen Wood (above), who plays Elaine Dascom in the serial, "Those We Love," checks up on her throat muscles before each broadcast. It's a practice Helen learned in the movies. By watching her throat muscles she caught on to the art of relaxed speech, and it comes in handy now that she's a featured actress in "Those We Love," broadcast on Mondays over the NBC-Blue network.

First in the summer series of Grant park concerts will be broadcast from Chicago tonight, with Rosa Raisa as soloist with the Chicago Civic Opera orchestra. Henry Weber will conduct.

Miss Raisa will sing arias from "La Traviata" and "Cavalleria Rusticana," and the orchestra will play "Afternoon of a Faun," Debussy; "Irish Rhapsody," Herbert; prelude and love-death from "Tristan and Isolde," Wagner; "Roses from the South," Strauss; and excerpts from Il Trovatore," Verdi, and "La Gioconda," Ponchielli.

The concert will be aired by WGN from 7 to 7:30; by WBBM from 8 to 8:45, and by WENR from 8:30 to 9.

Other aces tonight, classified:

War Costs Stop Japs' Navy Plans

By ROBERT G. NIXON

(Copyright 1938 by INS)

WASHINGTON—The tremendous cost of Japan's war on China has forced that nation to halt construction of three new 46,00-ton super-battleships, according to information reaching high official circles here.

For this reason, International News Service learned today, President Roosevelt has decided not, at this time, to launch the United States on a program of matching these super-dreadnaughts.

Thus the reason for the launching of the greatest world-wide naval armaments race ever known had temporarily disappeared today just at the moment the United States, Great Britain and France signed a new agreement scrapping the 35,000-ton limitation that has been in effect on capital ships since the Washington disarmament conference in 1922.

The United States, on April 7, because of reports that Japan was exceeding the 35,000-ton limitation and building the largest battleships ever to ride the waves, invoked the escape clause in the London naval treaty of 1936 which held the three democracies to the limitation. It became effective with the signing of a protocol between the three countries Thursday fixing the new limitation at 45,000 tons and its armament to 16-inch guns. Nothing even approaching this size of warships has ever been built with the exception of Britain's 42,000-ton Hood.

President Roosevelt's decision not to begin immediate building of 45,000-ton super-battleships does not, International News Service was informed; in any wise mean that their construction has been abandoned. It has simply been found that the press of necessity has been, for the time being, removed by Japan's economic plight.
