All DeCorrevont Does Is Draw 20,000 to Game

EVANSTON, Ill.—(U.P.)—Bill De Correvont, Chicago high school football sensation of a year ago, made his college debut Saturday as a member of the Northwestern freshman team which was swamped 32-0 by the varsity.

As the score indicates, De Correvont didn't accomplish much—except to draw 20,000 persons to the game.

He carried the ball nine times for a total gain of 16 yards and recovered a varsity fumble. His longest run was for 12 yards after he snared a lateral at the start of the game.

Star of the freshman team was De Correvont's high school teammate, Tackle Alf Baumann who blocked a kick and spent most of the afternoon in the varsity backfield.

De Correvont was operating behind a line that was far inferior to the varsity, so it looks as if football fans will have to wait until next year to find out what he really can do in big time competition behind an experienced line.

'Buzz' Reynolds Meets Gerber in Mat Semi-Windup

"Buzz" Reynolds, whose return to Madison last week brought him new popularity, will be back again Tuesday night to wrestle Dickie Gerber, who is well-known to mat fans here. Reynolds, nephew of the world's middleweight champion Jack, is from Salt Lake City and is in the middle west again after a swing around the country since he appeared here several times last winter.

Reynolds showed the same brilliance that his famed uncle emphasizes when he wrestled Duke Ruppenthal to a draw last week, impressing many fans with the fact that he was actually a better man than Ruppenthal. Reynolds produced a new idea in the wild modern wrestling, which he likes, when he tried consistently to smother the Duke by holding his hand over the latter's nose and mouth. The idea was not a violation of the "stranglehold" rule though it was an obvious evasion.

Gerber, like Reynolds, stresses fast action and has been quite popular here. He will give away a few pounds, but he too can be rough and so should be able to give as well as take punishment in their bout.

This match will be the semi-windup of the show in the order of appearance, although all three bouts on the card will be two out of three fall affairs with 60 minute time limits. The main event, previously announced, matches Ruppenthal with the 'Shadow', masked battler who has been unbeaten in almost a score of bouts here this season and has become the major "villian" for fans, who enjoy "hating" unruly ring performers.

Waukegan Trims Park Preps, 32-0

RACINE — Washington Park's inexperienced team picked a non-conference opponent that was much too tough Saturday afternoon and lost to Waukegan, Ill., High, 32-0. Giants-Pirates' Grid Opener Is Advanced

NEW YORK — (INS) — The New York football Giants announced Saturday that the professional grid game between the Giants and the Pittsburgh Pirates, originally scheduled for Oct. 30, had been moved up to Monday night, Oct. 3. The Giants and Pirates will open the season at the Polo grounds under the arc lights on that night, the Giants announced.

Packers Battle Cardinals Today

MILWAUKEE — (U.P.) — Bids for the professional football championship will be received here today when the evenly-matched Chicago Cardinals and the Green Bay Packers meet on the State Fair Park gridiron.

Whether the bids will be accepted will not be determined for more than a month, but the loser of today's game will have to stack his hopes on a record of two losses and one victory in the first three games of the season.

Both teams have defeated the Cleveland Rams. Both have lost to the Chicago Bears.

Green Bay left little doubt as to its superiority over the Rams when the Packers took to the air to defeat them 26-17. The Cardinals squeezed by the Rams with a 7-6 victory.

Bungling on a muddy, rain-swept field caused the Packers to lose to the Bears last week, 2-0. The Cardinals lost to their fellow townsmen, 16-13.

Rivaling Green Bay's passing attack, which centers about Arnold Herber, Cecil Isbell and Bob Monnett, the Cardinals have Pat Coffee, veteran halfback, and Dwight Sloan and Jack Robbins, freshmen from Arkansas.

On the receiving end of the passes, Coach Milan Creighton has Gaynell Tinsley, who last year rivaled Don Hutson, veteran Green Bay end, in number of passed received.

Auburn Rally Beats Birmingham-Southern

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — (INS) —Held scroeless in the first half by a fighting Birmingham-Southern Panther, Auburn's Plainsmen broke loose in the last two periods here Friday night to push across two touchdowns to open their 10-game schedule with a 14-0 win. Auburn's first marker came on a short pass, McGowen-Whatley, good for 20 yards. Captain Russell converted. Haynesworth plunged through left guard for the second Auburn score, and Thorps converted.

Metz Cards 67 to Lead Crack Field

By HARRY FERGUSON
(United Press Sports Editor)

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y.—(U.P.)—Abronzed young man born 29 years ago in Kansas looked $13,500 squarely in the eye Saturday and putted with a hand as sure as death and taxes to get off into the lead of the 108-hole Westchester open golf tournament, richest event of the year.

Dick Metz, a Kansan who now plays out of Lake Forest, Ill., showed the way to the pick of the pros for a dazzling 67 along a course black with mud and swampy from a five-day rain. All he has to do is keep it up for 80 more holes and, come Tuesday evening, he will have tucked away the $5,000 that goes to the winner in this marathon golf adventure.

It was on the soggy back nine that Metz turned the trick Saturday. He did the first nine in a par 35, superior golf considering the condition of the course, but when he stepped on the 10th tee he really began shelling at par. The gallary gasped as the gray-sweatered figure moved from shot to shot with deadly irons and woods, but it was when Metz looked up the long 520-yard fairway that the spectators really got a run for the $2.75 they paid to see Saturday's shooting.

Eagle 3 Helps

Metz' drive was out 280 yards and he took a spoon for a do-or-die gamble for the distant green. The ball shot of the wet turf, picked up the wind behind it and went like a bullet for the pin. It struck the green, bounced once and stopped 15 feet from the pin. Metz surveyed the line of the putt and the ball rolled straight to the cup and dropped for an eagle three on the par-5 hole. After that there was no one to challenge him on Saturday's play.

But today and Monday and Tuesday are other days and the sharp shooters are hot on Metz's trail.

No man can get careless when Vic Chezzi, Billy Burke and Paul Runyan are only two strokes behind him in an 108-hole tournament. Nor is it any consolation to look back and see Jug McSpaden standing on a 70 along with Leon Pettigrew, a comparative unknown from Flushing, L. I.

The Chase Is Hot

Further back, but well within striking distance at 71, are such golfers as ene Sarazen, Tom Creavy, Harry Cooper, Ralph Guldahl and Ed Dudley. Sam Snead, who is a man to watch through a long tournament, ran into a duffer's seven on hte 543-yard third hole after he had driven three balls out of bounds and wound up with a 73. The way he was hitting the ball Saturday—280 yards off the tee without any roll—he is going to be heard from within a couple more sunsets.

The field will be cut to 150 before today's 18-hole round starts. Monday morning it will be cut to the low 75 men and Tuesday morning to the low 60. The tournament schedule calls for 336 holes Monday and Tuesday.

There never was a gallery like that which swarmed over Fenway Country club Saturday. They sat in bleachers around three greens and cheered like at a baseball game; they leaped fences and splashed through water; they chewed hot dogs and drank soda pop.

After all these years golf, once called a rich man's game, has been made safe for democracy.

$1.25 Tickets Are Selling Slowly

One class of football tickets—but only one—is not moving satisfactorily at the University of Wisconsin. This is the end seats for the Marquette and Indiana games. Harry Schwenker, Badger ticket sales director, believes this condition is due to a mistaken idea which may be quite generally held, that the university has only one price for its tickets this year, whereas this is true only of the Pittsburgh and Minnesota games.

There are 6,000 tickets each for the Marquette and Indiana games, which will be sold at $1.25—just half the price of the choicest seats. These low-priced seats are at the ends and on the corners of the field but all afford an excellent view of the play. While most of the low-priced seats are sold on the day of the game, they may be purchased at any time at the Athletic ticket office, 711 Langdon st.

Sale of all other classes of Wisconsin football tickets is far ahead of recent seasons. Season tickets sales are nearly double those of 1937 at this date and single game sales also are heavy. There are, however, still plenty of seats for sale on the sides of the stadium for all games.

National Amateur Ball Final Is Today

BATTLE CREEK, Mich.—(U.P.)—Battle Creek and Oklahoma City will meet today in the final game of the National Amateur Baseball tournament.

In a previous elimination game during early stages of the meet, Battle Creek defeated the Oklahomans, 10-7.

The Battle Creek club reached the championship game by defeating Chicago Saturday, 5-4, in 11 innings. In the other semi-final contest, Oklahoma City defeated Chattanooga, 4-1.

Under the tournament rules, a team must be defeated twice to be eliminated. Battle Creek and Oklahoma City both have suffered one loss.
