It's only a couple of pieces of gas pipe, but Bob Burns, bazooka is the sweetest instrument in the world to Barbara Ann Burns, his 11-months-old daughter. Bob features the bazooka as a sideline on the Music Hall program, heard Thursdays on stations WIBA and WMAQ at 9 p. m.

Gas Concerns Ask Permit to Consolidate

MILWAUKEE—(U.P.)—The Public Service Commission today considered the application of the Milwaukee Gas Light co. and four suburban gas concerns for consolidation.

Under the proposed Merger, the Wauwatosa, West Allis, Lakeshore and Wisconsin Eastern Gas companies would be turned over to the Milwaukee company in a series of stock transfers.

Officials of the companies predicted lower gas rates for the suburbs under the consolidation plan.

Arabian delegates who attended the Palestine Conference in London returned home by air.

Harlan Miller in Washington

HITLER AT FIFTY

That flabby, sinister little man, Adolf Hitler, is 50 years old today, a triumph of bad oratory, prevarication and other people's cowardice—a man frightened into becoming a dictator. He was on his way to become a Socialist—had not two brawny workmen threatened to throw him off a Vienna building scaffold because he hesitated to join a labor union.

He began his political career as a spy and informer at labor meetings . . . Now, some Americans who admire success too much are in danger of admiring Hitler.

◊ ◊ ◊

Hitler's snarl of complexes began with his hatred for his father, an illegitimate cobbler . . . His bitterness was aggravated by his failures at painting and architecture . . . He never earned more than $9 a week in his life . . . Probably he has never been alone with a woman . . . Since his boyhood he has never known any Jews . . . He hates them because Jewish students excelled him at art and architecture.

◊ ◊ ◊

He also hates priests (whom he calles "black moles"), intellectuals and capitalists. Despite his success at oratory, he despises senators and other legislators, whom he calls "ganders." He also despises the masses, whom he calls gullible sheep and boobs.

◊ ◊ ◊

"—he was scared on a scaffold"

Most of Hitler's lies were uttered either in writing or in public, before microphones and thousands of listeners . . . They have succeeded because backed by guns and bombs.

◊ ◊ ◊

Hitler financed the beginnings of his Nazi party with French bribes . . . He promised to commit suicide if his Munich putsch failed. It failed, but he didn't commit suicide . . . An Austrian, he became a German citizen by trickery . . . Americans who have met him say he is a male Aimee Semple McPherson . . .

In his 1934 blood purge he assassinated a friend at whose wedding he had been best man six weeks earlier . . .

After the purge he suffered a hysterical breakdown for 13 days.

Under Hitler 1,100 Germans have been beheaded, 400 shot "escaping," 750 have committed "suicide" in prison, 120,000 are in concentration camps and more than 4,500 have "disappeared" . . . He is fond of chocolate and cream puffs . . . Not Hitler but Goering is the only top Nazi who looks Nordic.

Hitler privately expresses contempt for the sheepish submissiveness of the Germans, and realizes that the 5,000,000 best Germans are the ones who have emigrated to America in the last century.

◊ ◊ ◊

Der Fuehrer has lied about his war record as well as about his "student days" in Vienna . . . He claims that as a small boy he was already an orator and leader, though neighbors say he was a puny mamma's boy . . . In "Mein Kampf" he modestly admits that at 20 he was the keenest student of government in Vienna—that was when he was trying to enroll as an art student.

"—a battle with a tin can"

Despite his doctored war record, the story is current in Germany that he suffered his most serious wound by cutting his thumb on a tin can of bully beef; his hospital mates vouch for that . . . When police fired on his roisterers in Munich in 1923 he dropped unhit to the cobbles so fast that he broke his arm . . . In "Mein Kampf" he refers to the German people as cattle. Has he helped them? Some 60,000,000 Germans live worse than our WPA families. A skilled mechanic earning $15 a week pays $4.40 to the Nazis; a cleark earning $85 a month pays the Nazis $16.25.

Like other liars and tyrants, Hitler has his good points. He can be amiable on occasion; he likes music and makes some pretensions to manners and culture; he has a sort of perverted sympathy for the "cattle" he oppresses . . . But he is rational on German "superiority;" he cannot be believed, and his latest peace shrieks merely may mean he schemes to celebrate his 50th birthday by pushing the swastika—maybe to the shoes of the Mediterranean.

To us Americans he is a lesson in the danger of listening to too much bad oratory, as the Germans did.

Handiwork Aids Convalescents

MILWAUKEE —(U.P.)— A program of rehabilitation by which tuberculosis victims discharged from Wisconsin sanitariums may return to self-supporting roles is under way under sponsorship of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association and the Milwaukee Good-will industries organization.

When sponsors of the program decided to try it, they selected seven men who had been released as on the road to recovery and health. Their work was carried out as a demonstration of feasibility of the program.

The men work three days a week making handwoven wash baskets. Former women patients sew aprons, fashion artificial flowers and repair toys.

Oliver A. Friedman, executive secretary of the Goodwill industries, said that he did not expect that former patients would be able to support themselves on earnings through the program.

"It is rather our hope that through work they will regain confidence and will in time be able to support themselves on earnings through the program.

"It is rather our hope that through work they will regain confidence and will in time be able to turn to something else offering more remuneration," Friedman said.

City Adds Up Fines But Crime Doesn't Pay

MARYSVILLE, Calif. — (U.P.) — "Crime doesn't pay," especially when a municipality counts on crime for balancing its budget, according to local city officials.

They decided to build a bigger jail, with more accommodations for petty offenders, and increased the police force accordingly, on the theory they could count on $7,500 police court revenue during the fiscal year to help pay for the new jail.

However, crime failed to pay as expected and the budget will be $3,000 short for the year.
