Singin' Sam, tuba-voiced troubadour, shows Raymond Paige how he gets his pitch. The veteran radio singer will be guest star on Musical Americana Tuesday, with Paige's orchestra, Wynn Murray and the Eton Boys.

Singin' Sam, Eton Boys Bring Minstrel Show to Musical Americana

A minstrel sketch based on the old Bert Williams' number, "Somebody Else—Not Me," and featuring Singin' Sam and the Eton Boys will be a highlight of the Musical Americana program tonight at 7 p. m. over NBC-WENR. Wynne Murray, blonde singing star of "American Jubilee" at the New York fair, also will appear with Raymond Paige's orchestra, singing "Tennessee Fish Fry." Singin' Sam will offer Bert Williams' tune and the Eton Boys will feature "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi." The orchestra will play "Singing in the Rain" and "Chloe."

U. W. Plans 16 Extension 'Colleges'

In 17 Wisconsin cities high school graduates will be offered college privileges of the freshman year, and in two of them the sophomore work as well, through teaching services supplied by the University of Wisconsin extension division in cooperation with local boards. Classes have started in a few cities and will begin in others Sept. 16 and 23.

The freshman program is offered this year at Antigo, Beloit, Eagle River, Fond du Lac, Green Bay, Janesville, Kenosha, Madison, Manitowoc-Two Rivers, Menasha, Racine, Rhinelander, Sheboygan, Watertown, Wausau, and Wisconsin Rapids.

The sophomore program has been set up at Manitowoc and Sheboygan in addition to that of the first year. Newest of the college centers is Watertown.

In each city the freshman program includes English, history, a foreign language, and a science or mathematics subject. The sophomore studies are English, history, language, economics, and political science.

These courses parallel courses taught on the campus at Madison, and the credits earned qualify students to enter college or university with either sophomore or junior standing.

Since the program was started in 1933, more than 4,500 youths have been able to begin a college education at home. Last year's total enrolment was 755 students in the first semester and 655 in the second semester.

VAN'S TREASURES

Among the historic souvenires of Director W. S. Van Dyke is a copy of the "Order of the Day" for the Confederate army, written by his great-uncle, Adam Van Dyke, an officer in the Army of Tennessee. The director also has letters written by another ancestor, Janse Van Dyke, who enlisted in the Revolutionary army at the age of 79 and was killed two years later at Monmouth.

It's a Matchstick Village

'Bakkenville' Keeps Bakkens in at Night

Find three months' spare time, 2,500 used matches, one board, one Turkish towel, plenty of patience, and a few other things.

Then put them all together, as did Mr. and Mrs. Hector Bakken, 927 Chandler st, and you'll get a hobby—finally a miniature village.

Bakken, a butcher at Oscar Mayer co., and his wife, Sally, got the idea of creating a miniature village of matches and a few other things, when they had a few minutes' spare time one night, and a big, big bundle of used, wooden "kitchen" matches.

A miniature log cabin resulted — matches carefully glued together, and from that came the idea of the village.

The result was "Bakkenville."

For 90 days, in spare time after work, they labored with tweezers, glue, and 2,500 matches. Neighbors' kitchens were raided for more building material, as well, when the burned match supply ran out at home, Bakken said.

Five houses and a church were built on a board 36 inches long and 30 inches wide. Roads were constructed of sand, glued to the board, and 10 miniature fur trees, a major expense item at 10 cents each, provided shade for the layout. An old-fashioned well, as big as a thimble, was added.

One of the Bakkens' Turkish towels was sacrificed to the cause, dyed green, and was glued to the board to give a realistic imitation of grass. From packages of powder, the kind that makes a picnic drink with a little water added, came small figures and animals that dot the village. The buildings were wired, and each has a light within.

Finished last week, "Bakkenville" was exhibited at the Mt. Horeb fall festival. Since then, it has been rented out several times. Total cost of materials came to $5.

Now that the village is completed, the Bakkens plan to reproduce the plant in which he works. In about 100 Madison kitchens, friends and neighbors are carefully hoarding burned matches for the couple. Construction will start when the 10,000 matches needed are available.

Although they've refused offers to buy the village, the Bakkens are "sold" on their hobby.

"It keeps us in at night," they confided, "and out of mischief."

Marian Martin

PATTERN 9323

Graceful femininity has no size limit, as this Marian Martin ensemble for larger women proves. Pattern 9323 is full of soft, youthful flattery, and makes a perfect afternoon outfit in a rich, dark fabric. The dress is smart as can be, with its front panelled skirt. Make the sleeves short or three-quarter length with gathered softness. See the lovely line of the V-neck as it curves down into the front buttoning! The well-shaped yokes hold fullness below for ease at the bustline. Use a tie or buckle belt, and for an extra touch, run lace edging around the neck and down the front. The separate jacket—so useful with this, and other dresses, has slim straight lines.

Pattern 9323 may be ordered only in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36, entire ensemble, requires 5⅝ yards 39 inch fabric.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins for this MARIAN MARTIN pattern. Be sure to write plainly your SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS, and STYLE NUMBER.

Send your order to The Wisconsin State Journal Pattern Dept., 232 W. 18th st., New York, N. Y.
