Political Air Circus Continues; Five Talks on WIBA Tonight

Dinah Shore is the little girl from the Sunny South who is making a name for herself in big time radio this season with comedian Eddie Cantor on NBC Wednesday nights.

The political circus puts on another act tonight. Five "barkers" will air on WIBA their views on current political campaign matters.

Wendell Willkie, Thomas E. Dewey, and Paul McNutt head tonight's parade, with Sens. Joseph F. Byrnes, David I. Walsh, and Morris Sheppard, Rep. Marvin Jones and Daniel I. Tobin also making "mike" appearances.

Details and times for the WIBA broadcasts:

6:15 p. m. — Sen. Brynes on "On Hand and on Order."

7:30 p. m.—Wendell Willkie, from Cincinnati, O.

8 p. m.—Symposium on National Defense with Senators Walsh and Sheppard, Rep. Jones, and Daniel Tobin, of the Democratic national committee's labor division.

8:35 p. m.—Thomas Dewey for GOP's Willkie.

9:30 p. m. — Paul McNutt for Roosevelt Wallace.

Lawrence Keglers Set Pace on 2,733

The Lawrence Restaurant of the Moderne Streamliners League turned in the best bowling score Tuesday night when it upset 2,733 pins on games of 853, 965, and 915.

Leo Kruska showed the top form in the individual scoring by tipping 641 in the Capitol City loop. His games were 211, 211, and 219. Bill Schneider blasted 631 for second honors.

Irene Zimbrich clustered 518 on 169, 201, and 148 to lead the field in the Eagles League. Hires Root Beers hit 2,260 for the oustanding team count. The leaders:

McCoy Is Next Test for Conn

By JACK CUDDY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK —(U.P.)— Up to Boston a bevy of New York boxing writers will go Friday to witness an encounter between mysterious Billy Conn and Al McCoy, New England heavyweight champion.

These boxing writers and other dwellers in Gladiators' Gulch are intrigued no end by Friday nights' battle because it is an important milestone in the campaign to "build up" small-boned, weak-punching Conn to the status of heavyweight challenger.

There is a sharply contrasting cleavage of conjecture along Leatherfist Lane as to the genuine purpose of the Conn build-up.

About half the habitues of Collodion Corner insist that Promoter Mike Jacobs of New York is completely sold upon the heavyweight possibilities of Conn, the Pittsburgh Irishman.

But the other half snickers and declares that Promoter Jacobs is merely fashioning Conn into a club that can be used to belt the financial brains out of Madcap Maxie Baer and his penny-pinching manager, Ancil Hoffman.

You will recall, no doubt, that batty Baer resurrected himself from pugilism's boneyard by belting tubby Tony Galento, a dissipated fat man whose chubby chin had been cropped deeply by a thrown beer glass a couple of nights before the fight, and by belting out Patrick Edward Comiskey, a virtual novice who fooled even the smart-money boys on Broadway.

By virtue of these "triumphs," Maximilian Adelpate Baer established himself in the commanding position of the stagnant heavyweight division. At the present writing, there is no other heavyweight in the world who would be given a chance by experts and fans against the great Joe Louis, who, incidentally, murdered Baer in four rounds back in 1935. But don't forget that Maxie and Shuffling' Joe drew more than a million smackers for that contest.

Promoter Jacobs, for one, hasn't forgotten that Louis-Baer gate. It was the best touch of his promotional career. But Jacobs knows that Baer and hard-hearted Hoffman will bargain in blood before they sign for Baer and Louis in June. Uncle Mike recalls that Maxie demanded and got $30,000 for less than three minutes of fighting with young Comiskey of Jersey City on Sept. 26. They collected this 30 grand from Promoter Jack Kearns, who lost about $6,000 on the match.

That's why Billy Conn is a mystery man.

He is so good that Uncle Mike actually believes—as he has evidenced before—that he is the best fighter in the world — the next heavyweight champion—and an Irishman, at that, who will prove a greater drawing card than Louis.

Or Mike believes that Conn is just good enough to belt his way into the challenger's circle, and be used as a threat against Baer — and probably as a long-shot substitute if he can't come to
