New American Music Broadcast Premieres Three Compositions

Haunting are the high notes Vivien, pictured here, offers on Phil Spitalny's "Hour of Charm" programs Sundays over NBC. Every program is high spotted by a solo offered by this young singer, who is also popular with theater audiences.

"Three Fantastic Marches" by Herbert Haufreucht will be one of three compositions to be air-premiered tonight on the New American Music series at 9:15 through WENR. The Haufreucht piece represents the shuffling thread of job-seekers, the uneven gait of war veterans, and the happy tempo of joyous feet. The program will open with Concerto for Five Solo Instruments and String Orchestra by Boris Koutzen and will close with Prelude and Toccata, Opus 43 by Gardner Reed. WIBA will broadcast the program at 9:30 p. m.

City Clerk's Citizenship Questioned

RICHLAND CENTER — When Fred J. Davis was elected city clerk of Richland Center on April 1 he thought he was a citizen of the United States but he isn't sure now and he may have to forfeit that office.

In 1917 Davis was a British subject and he filed his declaration of intention to become a citizen of the United States in the Dane county circuit court that he might enlist in the American army.

Davis served with the 32nd division overseas and while his division was with the army of occupation in Germany he filed a petition for full American citizenship under an act of congress but now that petition is apparently missing.

While Washington is searching the files for the petition which would make Davis a citizen the present city clerk, Frank Bachtenkercher, has announced his intention to hold his office until his successor has been duly qualified. When the city council meets, Bachtenkercher will inform them of his intention.

Citizens Must Create Unity, Sen. Wiley Says

State Journal Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — The citizen's principal role in national defense, according to Sen. Wiley (R., Wis.), is "to create unity through a spirit of tolerance and understanding."

Speaking before the Philadelphia board of trade last weekend, the senator said, too, "The citizen can play a part in our defense program by reaffirming our allegiance and our faith in the American ideal . . ."

"I hold no brief for those political gold-brick salesmen who evade their responsibility by letting the American people believe that we can retain our way of life without sacrifice," he declared.

"But it is not alone the average citizen who will have to make sacrifices in terms of higher taxes, and possibly a lower standard of living—there will be group sacrifices, and the most obvious application of that kind of sacrifice today is the sacrifice involved in the labor problem."
