President Roosevelt Will Address Nation On Friday

Chief Executive To Be Heard From 4 To 4:15 P. M. Via Combined Networks Of National Broadcasting Company

President Roosevelt will speak to the nation Friday from 4 to 4:15 p. m. over the combined coast-to-coast networks of the National Broadcasting Company, it was announced today.

The President, it is believed, will discuss dangers inherent in the war in Europe.

Fireworks explode under Henry, but not the Roman candle variety, when he sells seating space on the Aldrich property for the Independence Day parade in "The Aldrich Family" over WEAF Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

A pair of hip boots which the boy wants badly must be earned, his father says. Henry's first thought is to win the cash prize for a float in the holiday parade, but the entrance fee is too steep. When he discovers that the city fathers are selling seats in the official reviewing stand, he has a sudden idea.

The Aldrich lawn, he decides, would make a finer reviewing stand in itself, and the overflow could sit on the roof, at reduced rates.

Unfortunately his father in the meantime has written a letter to the paper, complaining about the charge for seats in the official reviewing stand for such an affair. The letter shows up in print at the same time that Henry's paying guests show up for their seats.

Music for the Clifford Goldsmith comedy will be scored and directed by Jack Miller. Harry von Zell will announce.

Win, lose, or draw in the golf tournament which kept him away from the Music Hall last week, it's a safe bet Bing Crosby will undergo rough treatment from his partner in entertainment, Robin Burns, when he returns to the program Thursday.

Actor Raymond Massey, harpist Marcel Grandjany and Captain Robert L. Denig, a graduate of School, will be the special guests who join Connie Boswell, the

Gable And Rosalind Russell Are Together In Ohio Movie

"They Met In Bombay" Is Title Of Story About A Pair Of International Adventurers; "In The Navy" Ends Thursday

"They Met in Bombay," with Clark Gable and lovely Rosalind Russell, opens on the Fourth of July at the Ohio theatre. This hit casts them as a pair of international jewel thieves in an exotic background of the far east. "In the Navy," rollicking comedy with Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, shows thru Thursday.

Termed by those who have seen it as a great film "Affectionately Yours," current Sigma hit, tells the story of a playboy foreign correspondent who comes home to stop his divorced wife, whom he still loves, from marrying another man. Merle Oberon, Dennis Morgan and Rita Hayworth are in the leading roles. Completing the bill is "They Met in Argentina."

Opening Thursday evening at the Quilna is "Moon Over Miami," a gay, tune-filled tale of two girls, Betty Grable and Carole Landis, and their aunt, Charlotte Greenwood, who spend a fortune-hunting holiday in Miami, the glamour city of the south. Don Ameche and Jack Haley also have bw parts.

Lovely Frances Dee, who has a leading role in "A Man Betrayed," opening Friday at the Lyric, portrays a sophisticated daughter of a political boss, torn between the devotion of her father and her love for John Wayne, young attorney who is determined to jail her father. "Pony Post," also is on the bill.

Opening Thursday at the State and continuing thru Saturday are "Mr. and Mrs. Smith," one of 1941's biggest laugh hits, and "The Round Up," action packed western hit. Carole Lombard and Robert Montgomery are in the first hit and Richard Dix has the lead in the western feature.

Showing thru Saturday at the Majestic will be "Arkansas Judge" and "The Day the Bookies Went."

"Thundering Frontier," and "Amazing Mr. Williams," opens Friday at the Rialto.

QUILNA

Miami, the glamor city of the South, with its swaying palms, gleaming-white beaches, and incredibly blue lagoons, provides the background for the music, laughter and romance of the year's most elaborate Technicolor musical. Appropriately titled "Moon Over Miami," the 25th Century-Fox hit teams Don Ameche and Betty Grable for the second time. The romantic duo of "Down Argentine Way" shares top-featured billing with Robert Cummings.

Coming Thursday night to the Quilna theatre, "Moon Over Miami" is the gay, tune-filled tale of two sisters, Betty Grable and Carole Landis, and their aunt Charlotte Greenwood, who invest their $5,000 inheritance in the hope of realizing big dividends. It's an original sort of investment — a holiday fling complete with expensive clothes and a luxurious suite at a swanky Miami Beach hotel. The expected dividends — a millionaire husband for Betty.

Betty poses as an heiress, Carole as her secretary, and Charlotte as her personal maid. The threesome is more successful when Betty hooks one, but two millionaires, Don Ameche and Robert Cummings — So she thinks. Don, the one she falls for, turns out to be a playboy fortune hunter bent on the same mission.

Not only does "Moon Over Miami" boast of a star-studded cast which includes Jack Haley and Cobina Wright, Jr., but there are in addition eight hit tunes by master tunesmiths Leo Robin and Ralph Rainger. You are sure to come out whistling one of these mash hits:

"Kindergarten Conga," "Hurrah For Today," "Miami," "I've Got You All To Myself," "Loveliness and Love," "You Started Something," "Is That Good," and "Solitary Seminole."

LYRIC

Western history's wild, two-gun era when, if the postman didn't ring, it meant that speedy death had caught up with the fast-moving pony express rider, is brought to the screen in Universal's new Johnny Mack Brown feature, "Pony Post," which comes Friday to the Lyric theatre.

In the supporting cast are Fuzzy Knight, Nell O'Day, Tom Chatterton, leading character actor; Dorothy Short, and a popular trio of western favorites, Stanley Blystone, Jack Rockwell and Ray Teal.

Miss O'Day displays feats of expert horsemanship and Knight sings a new comedy number "I Don't Like No Cows." Two other original songs, "Ride, Ride, Ride," and "My Saddle Serenade" are played and sung by Jimmy Wakely and his Rough Riders.

SIGMA

"Affectionately Yours," starring Merle Oberon, Dennis Morgan and Rita Hayworth, shows thru Friday at the Sigma. A rollicking romantic comedy, it was directed by Floyd Bacon, from a screen play by Edward Kaufman based on the story by Fanya Foss and Aleen Leslie.

Making the most of a highly unusual triangle situation, "AffectionatelyYours" romps merrily along, telling the story of a playboy foreign correspondent who comes home to stop his divorced wife, whom he still loves, from marrying another man. Close at his heels in hot pursuit is his erstwhile girl friend, a resourceful young career girl determined to keep him from getting his wife back. Add to this the machinations of his editor, who wants to keep his best foreign correspondent unencumbered by family ties, the irate confusion of the wife's suitor, and the well-meaning interference by the Turkish news photographer who plays bodyguard to the correspondent.

Romance under a pampas moon, with Maureen O'Hara, James Ellison and the South American singer, Alberto Vila, as the three sides of the romantic triangle, is featured in "They met in Argentina," also at the Sigma.

Ten new song hits by Richard Rodgers and Lorenz Hart, and a colorful and authentic background of life in the Argentine, are a vivid part of the gay offering, along with a thrilling novelty in a presentation of the gaucho sport of "El Pato," said to be the world's most dangerous game.

OHIO

Combining the versatile talents of Clark Gable and Rosalind Russell as co-stars, "They Met in Bombay," coming Friday to the Ohio theatre, is a romantic melodrama graphically keyed into international complications in the Orient.

With this headlined news front seething with intrigue and violence as their dramatic background, Gable and Miss Russell, as a pair of intrepid adventurers, are given wide latitude in bringing their unusual talents to the screen.

Gable's role is cut smartly to the dictates of his outstanding work as a two-fisted man of action. Here, as a one-time British army officer, he assumes with equal nonchalance the part of a clever modern crook operating in smart social circles.

Their involved adventures are backgrounded in Bombay as the story opens. Colorful India, enhanced by the celebration of Empire Day, is divertingly pictured with its lavish display of festival garb and custom. The action-ful panorama then takes the principals to sea and to Hong Kong for later episodes.

While the story is essentially vital action drama, its twin theme of romance is deftly developed as the play swings toward a smashing climax in which Gable, returning to the service of his colors, at a critical point in the tide of international affairs, acquits himself heroically to redeem his honor and position in society.
