Claire Trevor Starred In Half Of Lyric's Twin Bill

"No Escape," starring Dean Jagger and John Carradine, is co-featured with Claire Trevor in "Good Luck Mr. Yates," in the current billing at the Lyric theatre here, starting Monday.

At the Ohio theatre, Olivia De Havilland, beauteous star, teams with Robert Cummings in a pretty love story of a member of a royal family with a commoner in "Princess O'Rourke."

"Crime School" with Humphrey Bogart and the Dead End Kids, as well as "Girls on Probation" now are being presented on the Sigma screen.

At the Quilna now showing are "Melody Parade" with Mary Beth Hughes and "The Unknown Guest," starring Victor Jory and Pamela Blake.

Wallace Beery carries the leading role along with Fay Bainter and Reginald Owen in "Salute to the Marines" showing at the State theatre. Also showing is "Mexican Spitfire's Blessed Event" with Lupe Velez and Leon Errol.

LYRIC

Meet the home front heroes whose guns are rivet guns . . . whose hearts are as true as the ships they build! In a thunderbolt of thrills and romance . . . the men and women in America's shipyards prove that they, too, are fighting this war against the Axis!

Excitingly filmed, "Good Luck Mr. Yates," is showing at the Lyric theatre paying tribute to the two-fisted fighters who are building America's Victory! There's Claire Trevor . . . whose coveralls couldn't cover her woman's heart . . . or hide her loveliness! There's Jess Barker . . . a red-blooded guy some fools call "yellow"! And there's Edgar Buchanan . . . fighting leader in the home-front battle we must win!

Ray Enright directed the thrill film from a screen play by Lou Breslow and Adele Comandini.

The crime picture "No Escape" is also playing.

QUILNA

Songs, comedy and pretty girls are the principal ingredients of "Melody Parade," the lavish screen revue is showing at the Quilna and all are presented on an elaborate scale, to qualify this colorful extravaganza as one of the season's best. There is never a dull moment in the picture which, on the contrary, is a constant succession of entertaining specialties done against the background of an especially attractive night club.

Mary Beth Hughes is seen in the starring role, as a hatcheck girl hopeful of becoming the leading lady of the floorshow. She takes part in four song numbers during the course of the story, and her beauty and talent contribute greatly to the film. Eddie Quilian, as an overly-ambitious busboy who tries to turn theatrical agent, plays his part up to the hilt. Other outstanding comedy roles are played by Tim Ryan, Irene Ryan and the colored comic, Mantan Moreland, while a screamingly funny interlude of inept classical dancing is contributed to Ruloff, Follette and Lunard.

A mystery show, "The Unknown Guest" is also playing on the twin bill.

PROTEST OVER BOMBING IS ISSUED BY VATICAN

BERN, Switzerland, Nov. 15 — (AP) — A Swiss Telegraphic Agency dispatch from Rome, quoting a Vatican informant, said today that the Holy See had given representatives of belligerent powers a note protesting the violation of Vatican neutrality in the bombing of Nov. 5.

The note, together with a report of bomb damages, was given to the representatives at a regular weekly meeting by Luigi Cardinal Maglione, papal secretary of state, the dispatch said.

Axis broadcasts said that Allied planes dropped four bombs, while Allied headquarters, in Algiers, emphatically declared an investigation showed Allied planes could not have been responsible.
