(W)TOP Stars Join Forces

TWO OF WTOP's TOP personalities combine efforts in a new TV show starting tonight on WTOP-TV. Elmer Lee, primarily a homemaking expert but also a good talker on all subjects, and Mark Evans, the genial philosopher, will be seen at 7 p. m. every weekday night except Thursday.

VINCENT PRICE plays a sadistic bushand and father tonight at 8 on WTOP-TV when "Lux Video Theater" has its last show of the season. Price will also star in "Pantomime Quiz," the series which replaces Lux for the summer.

Phil Baker and Robin Chandler get ready to play "Who's Whose" tonight at 9:30 on WTOP-TV when a panel tries to guess who is married to whom among a group of unknowns from the studio audience. Emily Kimbrough will be a guest panelist on the premiere

JUDITH EVELYN stars in Somerset Maugham's "The Letter" tonight at 9:30 on WNBW. Emcee Wendy Barrie will title her bair on the show with the sponsor's product. Real sponsor loyalty, that is.

Drama Is Based On Prison Riot

JAMES DUNN and Lynn Bari co-star in "The Big Break," story of a riot in the Auburn (N. Y.) Prison, tonight at 9 on WMAL-TV when "Pulitzer Prize Playhouse" finishes its season. The drama shows how William O. Dapping earned a 1930 Pulitzer Journalism Award for his story of the prison break in which tear gas was used for the first time.

Beginning Friday, July 6, the sponsors of this show will sponsor a series of "Film Firsts" on WTOP-TV.

"FORD THEATER" closes its season with Ernest Truex starring in a repeat performance of Sinclair Lewis' "Ghost Patrol." It's the story of a former policeman who walks his old beat secretly at night, causing considerable stir in the neighborhood.

Robert Preston takes over 'Man Against Crime" tonight at 8:30 on WTOP-TV
