Mullens to Lead the Grand March at Military Ball

Adjt. Gen. and Mrs. John F. Mullen will lead the grand march at the Centennial Military Ball to be held from 9 p. m. to midnight Friday at the Park hotel.

The ball is being sponsored by Company G of the Wisconsin national guard's 128th infantry.

Others expected to take part in the grand march with their wives are Gen. James Gavin, Fifth army chief of staff; Gen. Jim Dan Hill, Superior, commanding officer of the 32nd division; Gen. Hugh Fanning, Eau Claire, asst. division commander; and Col. Oscar Moldenauer, Monroe, 128th infantry commander.

The public is invited to join the members of the Wisconsin national guard at the Centennial Ball. Don Voegeli and his orchestra will play and entertainment will be provided by the Cardinals, Madison barbershop quartet.

Man Who Robbed Bank 'on Impulse' Caught ½-Hour Later

MINNEAPOLIS — (U.P.) — A 37-year-old buttermaker robbed a bank "on impulse" with an unloaded revolver Saturday because "I wanted to give my kids something to eat," sheriff's officers reported.

The man, Bernard Regan, of Big Stone City, S. D., surrendered meekly to deputies in a Minneapolis suburb 38 minutes after the Hennepin county sheriff's office had received an alarm on the robbery.

W. H. Fabriz, chief criminal deputy, said Regan admitted taking $1,400 from the State Bank of Chanhassen shortly after 9:30 a. m. Saturday. The money was recovered on the back-window ledge of Regan's 1937 car.

Mrs. Charles Butts Seeks Missing Necklace

Mrs. Charles Butts, 1115 Jenifer st., has been searching desperately for her heavy single strand, medium length pearl necklace for the past week.

She had just discovered that she had lost them sometime within the last week and a half somewhere in Madison. The strand is valued for sentimental reasons and is worth $30. Mrs. Butts has asked that anyone finding pearls answering the description call her at 5-6324.

Amos 'n' Andy Switch to CBS Has Taxmen Little Worried

By VIRGINIA MacPHERSON
(United Press Hollywood Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD — "Amos 'n' Andy" started a slam-bang radio war when they sold out to CBS for $2,000,000, but it didn't stop there.

Any big names flirting with million-dollar deals have to dicker with Uncle Sam, and it may not be so easy.

Lost Money

Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N. H.) just found out the government lost a bundle of money in the "Amos 'n' Andy" deal and he's not happy.

He wants the government to see it doesn't happen again.

"It's this way," explained Charles "Andy" Correll. "We sold out—body and soul. The Columbia Broadcasting System owns us now...for radio, television, movies, recordings...everything.

"We sold a product—Amos and Andy. After we die the show will go on without us for years and years. That way it comes under the heading of a 'business sale.' We didn't sell Gosden and Correll, but the characters we created.

Needs 2nd 'Name'

"A comedian might have a tougher time—unless he used a character name."

He and Freeman "Amos" Gosden only have to pay capital gain —25 per cent—taxes on their $1,000,000 each. They also pull in four-figure salaries every week. On those they'll pay full income tax rate.

"And," adds Gosden, "it was all okayed by the bureau of internal revenue."

But it was a razzle-dazzle move for the two comedians, who've been broadcasting their troubles in Harlem via NBC for 22 years. CBS pulled the switch to pry listeners away from NBC's "sock sequence" Sunday night schedule.

U. S. Would Lose More

And it had a lot of other big-money boys nibbling at similar deals. That's what worries Sen. Bridges. The government could lose a lot of money that way, he says.

NBC, according to a reliable source, put $4,000,000 on the line to keep Jack Benny from going over to the competition. And they were reported dangling other fat offers before other famous noses.

The radio war was on for four days.

Now it looks like the government's going to squash any further deals with "capital gain" techniques.

"Amos 'n' Andy" are keeping their fingers crossed, but they don't think Uncle Sam'll make 'em give any money back.

"They've never made a retroactive ruling yet," Correll said.

He and Gosden are playing coy about how rich CBS is making them every week.

"It's enough to pay the rent," he grins.
