Sleuthing Night Clubber Solves 'Impossible' Case

Carl Brisson, amateur sleuth and night club entertainer, finds his summer vacation interrupted by what appears to be a macabre suicide in "The Case of the Impossible Murder," latest episode in musical detective series. "A Voice in the Night," at 7:30 p. m. Friday.

Brisson, who uncovers a motive for murder, listens to a lecture on black magic, and finally traps a clever professor who uses scientific methods to dispose of his wealthy wife.

With the shortage of domestic help today, Tommy Riggs and his pert little girl friend, Betty Lou, encounter difficulty in their search for a new housekeeper to replace Mrs. McIntyre, who has gone on vacation, during their broadcast at 7:30 p. m over CBS.

Helping will be Betty Lou's dopey boy friend, Wilbur, as well as Mrs. Wingate, the snooty neighbor.

Also scheduled for Friday evening is another chapter in the life of Henry Aldrich. At 8 p. m., over CBS, Henry and his buddy, Homer, both bored with their summer vacation, contrive to make things livelier for all concerned.

They manage to create enough complications to keep their parents scurrying about town in search of sporting equipment. The old swimmin' hole, however, provides a final—tho uncomfortable— refuge for the two lads.

Vets Hospital Positions Open

COLUMBUS, July 5—(INS)—Several new positions for professional laboratory personnel have been established in veterans administration hospitals in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky to keep abreast of the increasing variety and complexity of laboratory work and to introduce new clinical techniques.

The Columbus branch office for the three states said the new positions include biochemists, bacteriologists and seroligists or specialists in the study of serums.

The specialists will work in such varied fields as preparing culture media; classifying the type of pneumonias, typing and tubercule bacilli found in sputum specimens, examining food, water, blood and milk for its bacterial content, analyzing body fluids and excreta, and typing blood.

Ohio hospitals within this category are located at Chillicothe, Dayton and Cleveland (Crile).
