Pat Ellis And Rathbone To Be Guests On Crosby Hour

Cinema Stars Will Swap Small Talk With Bing And Bob; Pretty U. C. L. A. Co-ed May Be Heard

With Patricia Ellis and Basil Rathbone on his guest list, and Pat Friday, pretty U. C. L. A. co-ed, scheduled to appear if she has recovered from the throat ailment that kept her away from the Music Hall last Thursday, Bing Crosby will touch on topics ranging from modern music to classical poetry during his broadcast with Bob Burns and John Scott Trotter's orchestra Thursday from 9 to 10 p. m.

Miss Ellis will chat with Burns and Crosby about Hollywood topics, and Rathbone is expected to have another of his favorite poems to introduce to the host of the hall. Crosby will sing "Delightful Delirium," "When You Were Sweet Sixteen," "If I Didn't Care," and "Don't Worry About Me."

William Gaxton and Victor Moore, the Damon and Pythias of modern musical comedy, now starring in the Broadway hit, "Leave It To Me," will dash across the street between the first and second acts of their show, to make a guest appearance on "Tune-Up Time," Thursday evening.

The famous comedy team will deliver a routine from "Leave It To Me," and sing two of the most popular hits from the show. Both will broadcast in their stage costumes. Gaxton as the smart-aleck foreign correspondent will sing "From New On;" while Moore, in the role of the timid American ambassador in Moscow, will be heard in "I Want To Go Back to Topeka," a song which has not been given on the air before.

Other highlights of the broadcast will include two real musical treats prepared by Maestro Andre Kostelanetz and his 45-piece orchestra. The first will be a Kostelanetz treatment of "Stardust," Hoagy Carmichael's classic; the second, a streamlined version of Wagner's immortal Magic Fire Music, from "Die Walkurie."

A musical kaliedoscope, ranging from concert selections by Dalies Frantz, internationally famous pianist, to "Three Little Fishes," as interpreted by "Baby Snooks" (Fanny Brice) and the "Jitterbug Trio," will be the predominant feature of Good News of 1939, Thursday at 8 p. m. over WEAF. Robert Young will also present songstress Connie Boswell, regulars Frank Morgan, Hanley (Daddy) Stafford, Warren Hull, Meredith Willson's orchestra, and dramatic guest stars.

Frantz, a concert virtuoso, will lend a note of distinction to the program, joining maestro Willson and the orchestra in a "Concert Hall" arrangement of Bach's "Organ Prelude in D Major" and "March," from "The Love For Three Oranges" by Prokofieff.

By contrast, "Baby Snooks," assisted by jitterbugs Frank Morgan, Robert Young, and Meredith Willson, will sing "Three Little Fishes," more agonizingly known as "Few Itty Fitties." Connie Boswell, popular rhythm-singer, will provide a happy medium with "And the Angels Sing" and "Lullaby of Rhythm."

The Group theatre, for the third time this season, will present one of its own Broadway successes on the Kate Smith Hour with a version of "Men in White" over WABC Thursday at 7 p. m. Frances Farmer and Luther Adler will head the cast.

The third in the current radio series, "Men in White" was the first Broadway production of the Group theatre and the drama that launched that enterprising organization of thespians on the sea of success. It was sensational in many ways, but particularly because the original cast was composed entirely of unknowns, many of whom have become established names of the stage or in motion pictures since. Miss Farmer and Mr. Adler are typical of this success.

Prominent alumni of Rudy Vallee's Variety hour, headed by Edgar Bergen and his alter-ego, Charlie McCarthy, will hold a reunion to celebrate Vallee's 500th broadcast for the same sponsor, Thursday from 7 to 8 p. m. over WEAF. The gala anniversary broadcast also will feature Lionel Barrymore in a dramatic role.

Vallee, who made his debut on the NBC series Oct. 24, 1929, has been christened the Barnum and Columbus of Radio for his "discoveries" in his 10 years on NBC, the popular orchestra leader, singer and master-of-ceremonies has been credited with developing more than 100 radio personalities including, in addition to Bergen and McCarthy, Bob Burns, Tommy Riggs and Betty Lou, Clarence and Claude Stroud, and Joe Penner. He also has popularized scores of songs among which are the "Maine Stein Song," "Let's Put Out the Lights," "Goodnight Sweetheart," "Vagabond Lover," "Betty Co-Ed," "Vieni, Vieni" and "Violets."

The Maximum legal rate at which moneylenders of Poland are permitted to charge is 12 per cent, the highest rate of any country in the world.

Here are three of the stars heading the cast in the gala musical, "Rose of Washington Square," which opened Wednesday night at the Quilna preview. In the upper left is Tyrone Power, center is Alice Faye and in the lower right is Al Jolson in his famous black-face role.

RINGS UP CASH—AND POLICE

Gun jammed into her back, Carrie McDonald presses key on cash register—but not for cash, it sets off an alarm. Key turns on short-wave radio transmitter, invented by Bill Noble of San Francisco, which is tuned to police station wave band, notifies officers of holdup.

AUGLAIZE PUPILS WIN POSTER CONTEST PRIZES

(Lima News Bureau)

WAPAKONETA, May 18 — Three Auglaize-co school pupils won prizes in the state poster contest conducted in conjunction with farmer institute sessions held in January and February, Miss Jessie Bourne, county home demonstration agent, announced.

The state winners were Glenn Harrod, Waynesfield; Francis Harrod, Waynesfield, and Dorothy Barhorst, Minster. They won the right to enter the state contest by virtue of being named winners of first place in their respective districts. Glenn Harrod was among the high in the state for the high school division while Francis Harrod placed in the junior division and Miss Barhorst in the elementary division.

Theft of the Williamette meteorite was discovered after it had been transported with great effort thru the rough and timbered Oregon hills. Owners of the land on which it originally fell sold it for $20,600 to Mrs. Dodge, New York philanthropist, who gave it to the American Museum of Natural History, where it is on display.

Autry And Darro Play Lead Roles In Lyric Double Bill

"Blue Montana Skies" And "Tough Kid" Are Attractions; Musical Film Being Offered Quilna Fans

Gene Autry, the number one crooning cowboy, and another favorite, Smiley Burnette, head the cast in the exciting western film, "Blue Montana Skies" which is showing currently at the Lyric.

Frankie Darro, as a scrappy tough guy who cleans up on a gang of crooked gamblers, is seen in the second Lyric feature, "Tough Kid."

The romantic stars of "Alexander's Ragtime Band" and a star who brings back musical memories, head the cast of "Rose of Washington Square" the filmusical now at the Quilna. Tyrone Power and Alice Faye are the first stars and Al Jolson is the third. Many more favorites are seen in the gala picture.

Murder, romance and intrigue are all three found in the picture. "Society Lawyer" starring Walter Pidgeon, Virginia Bruce, Leo Carrillo and Lee Bowman, and showing on the double bill at the Sigma.

"Sudden Money," the adventure story of a family that wins the sweepstake money, is the other feature at the Sigma. Charlie Ruggles heads the cast in this hilarious comedy.

"St. Louis Blues," the story of swingtime on the Mississippi, is one of the features opening Thursday at the State. Dorothy Lamour, Lloyd Nolan, Tito Guizar, Jerome Cowan and many more stars are in the cast.

"Off the Record," a fast moving newspaper story starring Pat O'Brien and Joan Blondell, is the second State picture.

"The Hardys Ride High" starring Mickey Rooney, Lewis Stone, Fay Holden and Cecilia Parker, is the film at the Ohio.

QUILNA

The two romantic stars of the unforgettable "Alexander's Ragtime Band"—Tyrone Power and Alice Faye—are joined by Al Jolson, the star who sings back the past, everyone wants to remember, in "Rose of Washington Square," the film at the Quilna theatre.

Featuring the heart songs and hit songs of yesterday and today, the production tells one of the most stirringly human romances yet projected upon the screen—the story of Rose, who loved the way some women can and thought it worth the heartbreak.

Among the many milestones of melody in the film are "My Man," "Toot Toot Tootsie, Goodbye," "Ja-Da," "April Showers," "Mammy," "Rose of Washington Square," by James Hanley and Ballard Macdonald, "I'm Always Chasing Rainbows," "I'm Just Wild About Harry" and "Avalon." In the swing of today is Gordon and Revel's newest hit, "I Never Knew Heaven Could Speak."

SIGMA

He's in the money!

This time it's "sudden money," and the winner (or should we say "victim"?) is Charlie Ruggles, in the hilarious new comedy, "Sudden Money," at the Sigma theatre. For Charlie—America's favorite screen husband-and-father—plays a sweepstakes millionaire on the loose in this story of the experiences of a madcap family when "papa strikes it rich."

Ruggles' lucky strike enables each member of his family, including himself, to go out on a terrific spree and satisfy his or her hitherto suppressed desire. Ruggles hunts up his old college pals and forms them into a swing band in a frantic bid for fame in the music world. Marjorie Rambeau, his flighty wife, becomes an ardent devotee of painting until she is royally fleeced by her own instructors. His brother-in-law goes out to beat the racetrack "bookies" at their own game with his "fool-proof" betting system. His daughter, Evelyn Keyes, throws over her hard-working boy friend, enters an exclusive school and has a whirlwind love affair with a handsome playboy.

Ann Morriss' own request that she would like the experience of being "murdered" won for her the most dramatic role of her youthful career.

While several other promising young actresses were being tested for the role of Judy in the mystery-drama, "Society Lawyer," now playing at the Sigma theatre and in which Walter Pidgeon and Virginia Bruce head an impressive cast, Miss Morriss invaded the office of John W. Considine, Jr., the producer, and placed her bid for the role.

In "Society Lawyer," Judy is the night club girl who is slain on the penthouse roof of a big-time race track gambler, which provides the key to the popular mystery. Altho Miss Morriss has had several choice roles recently, her new role gives her her first opportunity to play a murder victim.

LYRIC

Gene Autry's whose fan mail comprises one of the seven wonders of Hollywood, has never forgotten, that ten short years ago he was still herding cattle on his father's ranch in Oklahoma. He is still a cowboy, in spite of his phenomenal success in pictures, and delights in wearing traditional cowboy regalia on all his public appearances. He even has a full dress cowboy suit!

His newest picture, "Blue Montana Skies," which opens Thursday at the Lyric theatre, deals with a new type of western menace — fur smugglers who extend their activities into British Columbia. Gene is right there to nip their various plots and counterplots in the bud, with a large supporting cast which includes Smiley Burnette, June Storey, Glenn Strange, Buck Moulton, Jack Montgomery, Augie Gomez, Al Bridge, Tully Marshall and Robert Winkler.

A thrilling story of the prize ring and a boy's undying loyalty in the face of betrayal is "Tough Kid," second in "The Murphy Family" series which is now playing at the Lyric theatre.

Frankie Darro is the star of "Tough Kid," and he is seen as Skipper, whose big brother Red is about to fight for the world's heavyweight championship. Skipper idolizes Red, helps him train, and doesn't approve of Grogan, Red's new manager.

Skipper is right to fear Grogan, not that the man himself is crooked, but he is tied up with big gamblers. When Grogan bets $5,000 on Red, his henchmen double cross him, keep the money, and set about to find a way to make Red throw the fight.

Monk and Blackie find that this is an impossibility until Ruth, Red's girl friend, becomes ill, and they get Red to take her to a phoney "Dr. Churchill," who sends her away for a serious "operation." Red needs money for Ruth, which he finds impossible to procure.

OHIO

The sixth of the Hardy Family pictures, titled "The Hardys Ride High," is showing at the Ohio theatre. The new story takes the familiar group to Detroit in response to the startling news that they have inherited a fortune.

The same cast which has scored in previous pictures of the series appears again, with several additions. Lewis Stone portrays Judge Hardy; Mickey Rooney is again the irrepressible son, Andy; Fay Holden appears as Mrs. Hardy; Cecilia Parker is the daughter, Marian; Sara Haden is the maiden Aunt Milly; and Ann Rutherford enacts the role of Mickey's Carvel girl friend, Polly Benedict. Don Castle is the admirer of Cecelia.

New in the cast are Virginia Grey, appearing as a cabaret glamour girl who attracts Mickey; Minor Watson as an admirer of Aunt Milly; William Orr as Mickey's rival for Ann Rutherford; Halliwell Hobbes as the Hardy butler, and John King as a young millionaire.

The family encounters legal difficulties over the expected fortune in Detroit. Judge Hardy, facing an opportunity to win the money by a bit of dishonesty, faces the issue squarely and they return to Carvel, as poor as ever but equally as honest.
