Belgium Seeks A - Power Plant In Return for Congo Uranium

WASHINGTON, Nov 12—(AP) Prime Minister Henri Spaak disclosed today that Belgium plans to work out a new agreement with the United States and Great Britian for using uranium from the rich African Congo fields.

He said it would carry provisions under which the United States would lend a hand to Belgium's own atomic industrialization

The agreement would replace a 1944 pact, since altered in some degree, which has come in for hot political criticism in Belgium

For one thing, critics of the government have accused it of virtually giving the uranium away, without getting help in return for Belgium's nuclear research program The price has been kept secret

Spaak talked to reporters today after he and Minister Sir Robert Scott of the British Embassy had conferred for an hour with Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr.

Spaak said the agreement would cover both the amount and price of uranium to be sold to Britian and America from the Belgium Congo fields

The prime minster also said the agreement would include "United States aid for the atomic industrialization in Belgium" Asked to elaborate, he said this would "start with the erection of an atomic pilot plant"

Spaak obviously hoped such an agreement would offset the criticism which has been raised by a variety of Belgiums, ranging from communists to extreme right wingers

Many Belgiums and newspapers have protested that the U S ban on the exchange of atomic information—which was eased by congress this summer—handicapped Belgium scientists.
