Famous Radio Child Actor To Be Guest Of Fred Allen

Walter Tetley, Known As "Wee Harry Lauder" To Play Part In Rollicking Farce With Town Hall Company

"Walter "Wee Harry Lauder" Tetley, famous radio child actor and for years a member of Fred Allen's microphone company, will return to the Yankee jester's Town Hall Tonight program as a guest star on Wednesday at 8 p. m. over WEAF.

A radio veteran of 10 years experience, youthful Tetley will be greeted as the returning prodigal after a two-year sojourn in Hollywood. He will give his famous imitation of Sir Harry Lauder and join his former comrades. The Mighty Allen Art Players, in a rollicking sketch entitled "It's a Bra Bricht Moonlicht Nicht O'er Hollywood."

Walter was born in New York City, altho his mother was native of Glasgow, Scotland. From his grandfather the youngster picked up a rich Highland dialect, and from phonograph records a repertory of Scotchsongs. Walter made his radio debut on Madge Tucker's Children Hour on NBC in 1930 and almost overnight became the leading juvenile performer on the air. For several years he was one of the standbys of Allen's Town Hall troupe, until he departed for Hollywood two years ago.

Events at the British Embassy's garden party for King George VI and Queen Elizabeth in Washington, D. C., on Thursday, will be summarized for National Broadcasting Co. listeners by Baukhage, NBC's Washington observer, in a studio broadcast from 5 to 5:15 p. m. over WEAF.

Baukhage will attend the royal function as the representative of the National Broadcasting Co., to cover their majesties' welcome to the diplomatic corps of Washington. He will describe the exchange of felicitations between the couple and the government officials, many of whom will be meeting the British monarchs for the first time. There will be no direct broadcast from the embassy garden.

Colonel Lemuel Q. Stoopnagle, inventor of useless gadgets and impractical devices will discuss his hobby with Dave Elman, master of ceremonies of the Hobby Lobby program, during the broadcast over WJZ Wednesday from 7:30 to 8 p. m. Col. Stoopnagle will head a group of guests to be interviewed on their hobbies by Elman.

Father Barbour is the least agreeable member of "One Man's Family" when Doctor Thompson visits Clifford to check up on his fractured ankle in the episode of the serial that's heard Wednesday and there's a reason. Thompson was once Father Barbour's rival for the hand of Mother Barbour.

When the doctor arrives, he has a long chat with most of the family present. He has been the family physician for years in spite of the fact he and Father Barbour usually have an argument whenever they chance to meet.

Paul Barbour has solicited the aid of federal authorities in stopping the threats against Beth Holly who left the Barbour home last week without explanation. "One Man's Family" is broadcast over WEAF at 7 p. m.

Pia Igy, Rumanian concert and opera soprano, will be guest soloist with the NBC Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Dr. Frank Black, during a special Rumanian broadcast over WJZ Wednesday from 8 to 8:30 p. m. Pia Igy will be heard in three songs of her native land — "O chi-albastri's dragalasi" by Caudella, "Pastorel la oi am fost" by Dragoi and "Nevasta care iubeste" by Brailoiu.

Kay Kayser's College of Musical Knowledge, broadcast for the third week from Catalina Island, will enroll vacationers at the Pacific coast island resort in the musical quiz Wednesday from 9 to 10 p. m. over WEAF. The professor's exam periods will be interspersed with scintillating dance music by his orchestra and vocalists Virginia Simms, Harry Babbitt and Sully Mason.

Famous men of early American history, from Peter Stuyvesant to John Paul Jones, will be featured in a parade of puzzlers on Jim McWilliams' As-It Basket program, Wednesday over WABC at 6 p. m.

"The Early Americans" round will include questions on Colonial heroes, early statesmen and other prominent patriots—and is designed to test the I. Q.'s of the historically-minded Ask-It Basket listeners. This will be another in the series of special baskets on famous Americans recently inaugurated by McWilliams.

Three hardened youngsters came out of reform schools to start a wave of small-time stick-ups that resulted in the killing of a bakery wagon driver, in 1923. Their case history—the tale of Cleveland's Bryan Keenan Gang—will be dramatized on Gang Busters, Wednesday, over WABC 7 p. m. Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf will interview a law enforcement officer connected with the case.

Numerous petty-stick-ups failed to enrich the Keenan Gang, but put police on their trail. Then—desperately in need of cash to pay for the hide-out they had rented on the outskirts of Cleveland—the gang tried to hold up a bakery wagon. When John Rau, the driver, resisted, he was shot dead by one of the men, who escaped with his pals.

Arrival of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth at Union Station, Washington, D. C., where they will be welcomed by President Roosevelt and other high dignitaries, will be described in a broadcast over the combined NBC-Blue and NBC-Red Networks Thursday, from 11 to 11:30 p. m. A special concert of selected English and American music in honor of the Royal Party's visit will be given that same day, from 8 to 9 p. m., over WJZ. The program will be presented by an NBC concert orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Frank Black.

Two fresh tunes from Irving Berlin's new score for the filmusical "Second Fiddle", will be featured on Tommy Dorsey's broadcast. The songs, "Back To Back" and "I Poured My Heart Into A Song", will have vocal refrains by Jack Leonard and Edythe Wright. "Second Fiddle" will be released soon by 20th Century-Fox, starring Tyrone Power and Sonia Henie.

Tommy will also play his famous old "Song of India" arrangement, Skeets (Tenor Sax) Herfurt and all the crew will perform in the latest doggerel ditty, "I Want The Waiter (With The Water)", and Tommy will close the show with pure swing in "Old Man Harlem".

Two Great Films Scheduled To Open Run At The Sigma

"Let Freedom Ring" And "Bulldog Drummond's Secret Police" Will Be The Attractions

An all star cast headed by Nelson Eddy and including Virginia Bruce, Victor McLaglen, Lionel Barrymore, Edward Arnold, Guy Kibbee, Charles Butterworth, H. C. Warner and many more, will be seen in the drama of '69, "Let Freedom Ring," which opens Wednesday at the Sigma.

Also on the Sigma's new bill will be another in the series of "Bulldog Drummond" mysteries entitled, "Bulldog Drummond's Secret Police," starring John Howard in the title role. Heather Angel, H. B. Warner, Reginald Denny and many others are in the supporting cast.

"Bridal Suite," the gay romantic comedy starring Annabella and Robert Young, opens Wednesday on the Ohio screen. Billy Burke and Walter Connolly are among the supporting players in this delightful marital comedy.

"Missing Daughters," starring Rochelle Hudson and Richard Arlen, and "The Lady and the Mob," featuring Fay Bainter, Ida Lupino, Henry Armentto and Warren Hymer, are the twin pictures at the Quilna.

Opening Thursday at the State will be "Topper Takes a Trip," an hilarious comedy starring Roland Young, Billie Burke and Constance Bennett. Also on the new State bill will be "Pacific Liner," a tense drama starring Chester Morris and Victor McLaglen.

"Suez," the historic drama of the building of the great canal starring Tyrone Power, Annabella and Loretta Young, and "Up the River," a comedy featuring Slim Summerville, Preston Foster and Tony Martin, are the two pictures now at the Lyric.

OHIO

Affording a happy variation from the more serious problems of life, "Bridal Suite" gleefully zanied its way to the screen of the Ohio theatre. And an hilarious audience voiced its approval with hearty laughter.

The heart-beats in the picture are Annabella and Robert Young, teamed for the first time. Chief supporting funmakers are Walter Connolly, Reginald Owen, Gene Lockhart, Arthur Treacher and Billy Burke.

In the story Robert Young is rushed off to Switzerland by his fluttery mother, Billie Burke, to be cured of forgetfulness so that he may in future remember such trifles as his wedding date. But while being treated for his head by Connolly, he loses his heart to Annabella, manageress of the Swiss inn. The result is a series of daffy complications whirling from breath-taking adventures in the Alpine heights to free-for-all fights aboard a trans-Atlantic liner, with true love winning in the end.

With Annabella and Robert Young in their best romantic-comedy form, the picture romps to its side-splitting climax with such additional players as Virginia Field and Felix Bressart. The picture has been spiritedly directed by William Thiele.

QUILNA

Eccentricity is a wonderful thing, Fay Bainter has decided. The recent academy award winner portrays a mildly eccentric society matron in her new comedy, "The Lady and the Mob," in which she is featured at the Quilna theatre with Ida Lupino. Some of the funniest scenes in the film call for Miss Bainter to toss off casual commands and see them obeyed.

As a benevolent tyrant, accustomed to having her own way, Miss Bainter suddenly launches a crusade against racketeers who have been terrorizing the cleaners and dyers of her town. Unable to obtain co-operation from the mayor or the district attorney, she casually commands an ex-thug in her employ: "Get me a mob!"

"Missing Daughters" also at the Quilna, centers its attention on a young girl who has left her home to be a dancer. Months later her body is found in the river. Altho official records list her death as suicide, Rochelle Hudson, as the girl's sister, refuses to believe in the verdict. Her efforts to find out the truth coincide with an anti-crime drive undertaken by an "air columnist," played by Richard Arlen. Together, they solve the case of the young dancer, and explode political dynamite which lends added drama to the tense film.

Assisting Arlen and Miss Hudson, Marian Marsh and Isabel Jewell head the large cast directed by C. C. Coleman, Jr.

Lima Station To Broadcast Peony Event

Radio station WLOK will give the radio audience of northwestern Ohio the most complete coverage of the Peony Festival at Van Wert Thursday to be presented by any of the stations broadcasting this event, according to announcement Wednesday by Don Ioset, managing director.

Starting at 1:45 p. m. with the beginning of the parade, the station will broadcast a running account of the entire pageant and will then switch to the stadium for a complete broadcast of the coronation of the queen. About three hours of broadcasting will be required to cover the festival, Ioset said.

At least three and possibly four broadcasting pickups will be used by WLOK for their coverage of the festival pageantry. One will be stationed at a vantage point along the parade route; one pickup will be on the coronation stand and still another pickup will be handled from the press box. During the short intervals between the parade and the coronation ceremonies, the radio station will present interviews with as many as possible of the visiting celebrities.

The chief announcer for the broadcast will be Howard Donahoe, program director of the station. He will be assisted by Ralph Elvin, veterans sports announcer and special events commentator, who is now a member of the WLOK staff.

Special effort will be made to make this broadcast effective thruout the entire northwestern section of Ohio, said Ioset. This will be the most extensive remote control broadcast made by WLOK since the station was acquired by the Fort Industry Co. last fall. The Peony Festival broadcast will be the first of what is planned to be a full series of broadcasts of special events that will occur thruout the coverage area of WLOK.

CONTINENTAL GIRL TO MARRY IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 7 —(WNS)—A girl from Continental is slated to be married here in the near future, it was learned today. She is Miss Theodora Verner.

Miss Verner, and the man of her choice, Harold C. Smith, filed an application for a marriage license at the courthouse. Miss Verner gave her age as 27, while Smith, who is a resident of Norwood, Pa., is 28.

Neither of the couple was ever married before, according to the application. Just when the wedding is to take place could not be ascertained. However, under existing law the couple is required to wait until Friday before they can actually secure the license.
