Women Voters Ask Oleo Tax Repeal

Removal of federal taxes and fees on margarine has been urged by the League of Women Voters of Wisconsin in a telegram sent to Rep. Clifford Hope (R-Kansas), chairman of the house agriculture committee which is now considering various margarine bills.

The telegram, signed by Mrs. William A. Norris, Milwaukee, state president of the league, reads:

"Wisconsin members League of Women Voters urge agriculture committee to recommend passage of bills removing federal taxes and fees on margarine. Why cannot butter compete on its own merits without government protection from competition with a nutritious and less expensive product? Present pure food laws would insure purity and prevent fraud."

Barclay on Bridge

—By SHEPARD BARCLAY—

It is not only the declarer who can profit from using the hold-up play. A defender may get a profitable chance to hold up a winning card and thus impair communication between the declarer's two holdings. In one form, the play applies to a finesse by the declarer and the refusal of a defender to win the trick, knowing that the loss of a second finesse will embarrass the opponent.

North: ♠ 5 ♥ K 5 3 ♦ A K 6 5 3 ♣ A 7 5 3
West: ♠ J 10 6 ♥ Q 8 6 4 ♦ 9 7 ♣ K 10 8 2
East: ♠ Q 9 4 ♥ 7 2 ♦ Q 10 8 2 ♣ Q 9 6 4
South: ♠ A K 8 7 3 2 ♥ A J 10 9 ♦ J 4 ♣ J

(Dealer: North. Both sides vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
1 ♦	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
3 NT	Pass	5 ♠	Pass
6 ♥

By bidding which varied a good deal, two duplicate pairs reached that same contract, got the same lead of the diamond 9 and played the first three tricks exactly the same. The diamond A got the first trick, the spade A was scored and the spade 2 was ruffed—in each case by the heart K, for fear that East might have held a singleton.

Then each of the two declarers led the heart 3 and played the J, but what West did on that fourth trick varied. One West took the trick with the Q and returned the diamond 7 to the K. The heart 5 was led to the A, then the 10 and 9 took out the last of West's trumps, so that the remaining spades and club A completed the contract.

At the other table, West refused to win the heart finesse on the fourth trick. He saw the ruckus that would be caused by this hold-up. After winning that trick, South went to dummy with the club A and finessed the heart 10. This time West won, and returned the diamond 7 to the K. Now South, in order to reach his own hand to run the spades, had to ruff a club. When he did so, that left West the final trump. South then was able to score only one more spade. West ruffed the next spade with the heart 8, and his side then followed with two tricks in clubs and two in diamonds to set the contract five tricks. So the holdup play was worth five tricks to the defenders.

Check Forger Gets 6-Month Jail Term

Frank Rasmussen, 20, Route 1, was sentenced to jail for 6 months late Thursday by Superior Judge Roy H. Proctor for cashing three forged checks totaling $55.

The sentence is to begin as of Feb. 10, when Rasmussen pleaded guilty to the forgery charge. Since then, he has been at Mendota state hospital for mental observation at his request. Doctors reported that Rasmussen was a "psychopathic without psychosis," and was mentally competent to enter a plea to the forgery charge.

Judge Proctor severely scolded Rasmussen for his bogus check cashing. Rasmussen was placed on probation for forgery just about a year ago. He has one child and his wife is an expectant mother.

Rasmussen told the judge that he had cashed the checks while he was drunk, "but I'll be all right now because I've joined Alcoholics Anonymous," he declared.

Basco Man Fined $75 for Tipsy Driving

On complaint of a University of Wisconsin woman teacher, Jacob Schaller, 52, Basco, was fined $75 and costs Friday in superior court for driving under the influence of liquor.

The teacher, Rosemary Garst, 220 W. Gilman st., a university research assistant in home economics, testified that Schaller's car forced her car off the road in the town of Verona. She said he would have caused an accident if she had not been alert.

She told the court that she turned her car around to follow Schaller, forced him to stop, and took his car keys away from him before calling the sheriff's office.

Atom Bomb Threat Sends 'Normal' Folk for Psychiatric Aid

Realization of what the atom bomb means to society has made ordinarily "normal" people swamp psychologists' office in search for a cure for their "temporarily upset" condition and a philosophy of life, Annette Washburne, associate professor of neuropsychiatry at the University of Wisconsin, said Thursday.

She addressed the YMCA's weekly forum on "Family Relations."

She warned against parents who are either over-solicitous, over-dominant, or rigidly moralistic toward their children. She recommended:

ONE. That family groups recognize and fulfill the mutual need of its members — intellectual and emotional as well as physical;

TWO. That families should try to promote a growth of friendship by making the home attractive, and THREE. That parents should not permit too close an attachment between themselves and their growing-up children.
