Janet Gaynor, George Brent To Co-Star In Radio Drama

Famous Play, "Mrs. Moonlight," To Be Heard Monday Night; International Program For Magic Key

One of the rare fantasies to become a broadway hit, "Mrs. Moonlight," brings Janet Gaynor and George Brent to the Radio Theatre in starring roles Monday with Cecil B. DeMille as producer, the Radio Theatre will be heard over WABC at 8:00 p. m.

Written by Benn W. Levy, "Mrs. Moonlight" began a New York run of 321 performances in 1930. In the Radio Theatre version, Janet Gaynor takes the title-role with George Brent playing the part of her husband, Tom Moonlight.

Internationalism will be the keynote of the orchestral portions of the premiere performance of the new Magic Key of RCA program Monday from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m., over WJZ, when Hollywood, New York, London and Buenos Aires will be linked in connection with the full-hour preview of a recent picture production, "Second Fiddle."

Hit songs from the new picture will be played by orchestras conducted by Jack Harris, in London; Oswaldo Fresdo, Buenos Aires; Louis Silvers, Hollywood; and Tommy Dorsey and Dr. Frank Black, New York. The big musical number from the pictu , "I Poured My Heart Into a Song," will be played by Dorsey at the Hotel Pennsylvania, New York, and then by Harris' orchestra in London. Dr. Black will be at the NBC Radio City studios.

Eddie Cantor's farewell broadcast before his summer vacation will be in the nature of a grand finale with such bright lights as Orson Welles and Chick Young appearing as guest stars on the program Monday at 6:30 p. m. over WABC.

Welles will have to struggle furiously to maintain his bogeyman reputation when he meets the Mad Russian on the Cantor show. Young, creator of "Blondie," the comic strip that will be transformed into a radio program as a summer replacement for Cantor's CBS Caravan, will appear as a sort of 'human, advance trailer' for the Blondie program. Edgar Fairchild's band, Kay St. Germain and Bert Parks will furnish the music.

George Gershwin's brilliant symphonic jazz work, "The Rhapsody In Blue," will be Andre Kostelanetz' featured offering on the Monday evening broadcast of "Tune-Up Time." Walter Gross, one of the nation's most popular jazz pianists, and a regular member of the Kostelanetz 45-piece orchestra, will be herd in the solo portions of the Gershwin number.

Other music details of the program will be Kostelanetz' playing of his "Mary Had A Little Lamb," a novelty piece which has for some months been a best-selling record; "Strange Enchantment," a popular song, by Kay Thompson and her 12 Rhythm Singers; and "Night Must Fall," the current Cugat hit, with Kay, her swingsters and the orchestra.

Admiral Richard E. Byrd and Colonel Sandy McNab will recall their exciting experiences in far-off places of the world during the Order of Adventurers program Monday from 7:00 to 7:30 p. m., over WJZ. Admiral Byrd will relate one of his hair-raising adventures in the Antarctic region, while Col. McNab, just returned from a fishing trip to Newfoundland, will tell about his encounter with a lost tribe of Canadian Indians who are hostile to strangers. Col. McNab, in charge of all small-arms instruction during the World war, has flown with Col. Lindbergh and the late Will Rogers.

Dr. Harry Hagen will broadcast his True or False program from Pittsburgh Monday from 9:00 to 9:30 p. m., over WJZ. Teams of men and women representing rival social clubs will be pitted against each other in Dr. Hagen's contest of wits.

The Carnation Contended program will salute San Francisco and the Golden Gate International Exposition during the broadcast with Opal Craven, the Continentals Quartet and Marek Weber's orchestra Monday, from 9:00 to 9:30 p. m., over WEAF. The orchestra will open the program with a medley of "Westward Ho!," "San Francisco" and "Golden Gate." The famous Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco will be depicted musically by the Continentals when they sing "Blue Pacific Moonlight." Weber's violin solo, "Moonlight Sonata," will be played in the imaginary setting of the Court of the Moon, and Miss Craven's lullaby will be "My Little Buckaroo." An orchestral description of Chinatown will be presented in "Chinese Street Serenade," and the program will close with "Red Sails in the Sunset."

Fred Waring and his gang will begin the second week of their new Pleasure Time series of daily broadcasts over WEAF with a varied program of new and old dance hits during the broadcast Monday at 6:00 p. m. Featured soloists with the Pennsylvanians will be Donna Dae, Stuart Churchill, Poley McClintock, Gordon Goodman and Patsy Garrett.

Al Pearce and his Gang, continuing their comic, but doubtfully valuable, suggestions on timely topics, will devote their program to the subject of "Vacations" during their broadcast on WEAF, Monday from 7 to 7:30 p. m.

Action And Comedy Galore In Current Ohio Photoplay

Claudette Colbert And James Stewart Make Splendid Team In, "It's A Wonderful World"

Combining hairbreadth escapes and suspenseful action with high hilarity, "It's a Wonderful World," presenting for the first time that new and auspicious team, Claudette Colbert and James Stewart, is current at the Ohio.

That mischievous hoyden of Hollywood goes romantic in her newest picture, but it's in that madcap Withers way. "Boy Friend" is the title of the comedy at the Quilna and it introduces George Ernest, familiarly known as Roger in the Jones Family as Jane's "crush."

Peter Lorre heads the cast in the second Quilna picture, "Danger Island" in which he tracks a gang of criminals thru alligator and lizard infested swamps.

The glorious spirit of the liberty-loving pioneers of old Texas lives again in the glowing drama of the screen's first life story of Sam Houston. "Man of Conquest," is the title of this dramatic Sigma picture and it features Richard Dix as Sam Houston.

The brawling, turbulent, sudden death record of the toughest, roughest town in the cattle country of the 1870's is the background against which Errol Flynn projects his virile, adventurous personality in "Dodge City" the technicolor production at the State.

Tommy Kelly, Ann Gillis, Edgar Kennedy and Billy Gilbert are among the stars of one of the Lyric's twin features, "Peck's Bad Boy With the Circus." A down to earth comedy of a typical American family is unreeled in the second Lyric offering. "The Headley's at Home" is the title and it stars Evelyn Venable, Grant Mitchell, Vince Barnett and Benny Rubin.

QUILNA

"Not only is ordinary rain not photogenic," says Cameraman Lucien Andriot, A.S.C., "but if you don't light it correctly it just won't photograph at all!"

This discovery of one of the leading cameramen meant a considerable saving in time and money on the filming of "Danger Island," which stars Peter Lorre as Mr. Moto at the Quilna theatre. It resulted in the amazing believe-it-or-not feat of filming dry-weather outdoor scenes during a driving rainstorm!

His shooting schedule was juggled a dozen times by Director Herbert I. Leeds to get around the siege of inclement weather that beset the film capital recently. Finally all the interior scenes had been made and there was nothing left but exterior sequences. That's when Cameraman Andriot came to the rescue.

There's exciting news for the millions of Jane Withers fans whose enthusiasm for her pictures has put the mischievous miss right up among the first ten most popular screen stars. Jane's got her first "crush" in her newest film, "Boy Friend"! She goes romantic for the first time on the screen, but it's in that madcap Withers way.

It's just Jane's luck to find her first beau when she's busy smashing the gang that put her policeman brother on the spot in the action-packed comedy. And you know Jane! You've got to be able to go places and do things if you're her "feller"!

As Jane says, "What good's a beau if he can't help you fight?" To which George Ernest, the "boy friend" of the picture at the Quilna theatre, replies, "What a girl friend for a boy friend to have! Give me a nice, quiet war!"

OHIO

James Stuart steps from the arms of Carole Lombard in "Made For Each Other" to the charms of Claudette Colbert in "It's a Wonderful World," showing at the Ohio theatre.

Teaming these two stars for the first time in their active screen careers, this picture, designed to capture the spirit of that hilarious Colbert success, "It Happened One Night," strikes out, however, into new channels of comedy entertainment in the unusual unfoldment of its daffy plot.

For in "It's a Wonderful World" Stewart is an amateur detective and Miss Colbert a poetess. Combining their scatterbrained talents they set out to solve a murder and find themselevs caught in a series of side-splitting complications which even involve a situation wherein Stewart finds it necessary to hand his beloved partner a sock on the jaw, and he doesn't pull the punch.

Moving thru hairbreadth escapes and no less than forty-seven sets, ranging from elaborate night-club sequences to train, yacht, theatre, auto camp scenes and Sing Sing prison, the picture offers a kaleidoscope of modern, metropolitan life.

Featured in support of Miss Colbert and Stewart are Guy Kibbee, Nat Pendleton, Frances Drake, Edgar Kennedy and Ernest Truex, with other parts played by Richard Carle, Cecilia Callejo, Sidney Blackmer, Andy Clyde, Cliff Clark and Cecil Cunningham.

LYRIC

Acclaimed by Hollywood critics as one of the more hilarious mirth outbursts emanating from the studios this year, "Peck's Bad Boy With the Circus" comes to the Lyric theatre sceen as the newest chronicle of Bill Peck's lovable pranks and misadventures.

Tommy Kelly, who played the top role in "Adventures of Tom Sawyer," is starred as Bill Peck in this, the first of a series based on the comical activities of this beloved light of literature. Ten-year-old Ann Gillis, who also appeared in "Tom Sawyer," plays a juvenile circus bareback rider. Edgar Kennedy portrays a circus lion trainer, and other principal roles are enacted by such notables as Billy Gilbert, Benita Hume, Spanky McFarland and Louise Beavers, directed by Edward F. Cline.

This time the colorful big top is the exciting scene for Bill Peck's trouble-making but laugh-provoking antics. Fleeced of his railroad fare to camp, Bill joins up with a traveling circus to obtain his transportation—and revenge. His boyish feats—like feeding sleeping potions secreted in frankfurters to the man-eating lions—contribute to the generous hilarity of "Peck's Bad Boy With the Circus." The film is climaxed by a rousing cross-country race in a Roman chariot to camp, where Bill wins a laugh- and action-laden obstacle race.

DR. TOWNSEND IGNORES REVOLT

Independent Pension Group Being Formed. Led By Cincinnatian

INDIANAPOLIS, June 26 — (INS)—An independent old age pension group was being consolidated today by erstwhile followers of Dr. Francis E. Townsend who announced they objected to "seizure" by Dr. Townsend and his son of "perpetual control of the cause."

Headed by Harry V. Dill, Cincinnati labor leader, the revolters in a statement declared they soon would hold a national independent convention somewhere in the midwest.

The independent movement was revealed as some 10,000 Townsendites held a mammoth rally in Indianapolis to conclude their fourth national convention.

Opposition of Dill and other leaders in the independent group was to the action of the convention Saturday designating Dr. Townsend's 26-year-old son, Robert, to succeed his father when the latter retires as head of his pension movement. The younger Townsend at present is national secretary-treasurer of the group.

"Seizure by Dr. Townsend and his son of perpetual control of the cause insures positive defeat of the relief in congress," the insurgents' statement set forth.

At the rally, however, Dr. Townsend, urging his followers to work for a "Townsend congress" in 1940, declared:

"Prospects of capturing congress next year are very bright."

As to the independents, Dr. Townsend dismissed them as "soreheads and discontents."

"The only way to fight them," the aged pension prophet added, "is to ignore them."

WOMAN'S HOME COLLAPSES; ONE BONE BROKEN

KANSAS CITY, June 26—AP) — Mrs. Maud Lieberman's apartment collapsed. She fell 15 feet to the ground with a stove on her, but only broke her collarbone.

"One minute I was asleep," she said from a hospital bed, "and the next thing I was crushed under a pile of bricks and my iron heating stove."

Mrs. Rose Brown, who lives next door, said "it was raining hard and all of a sudden there was a big crash. Mrs. Lieberman was buried up to her waist in bricks and pieces ow wood."

Neighbors freed Mrs. Lieberman. One blamed a large crack in the two-story building for the collapse.
