Another chapter in the exciting history of the petroleum industry will be dramatized as the Romance of Oil feature.

A musical potpourri of new and old waltzes will be offered by Frank Munn, tenor, the chorus, and Abe Lyman and his orchestra during the Waltz Time program Friday, from 8:00 to 8:30 p. m. over WEAF. The orchestra will open the program with the old favorite, "Dreamy Melody" by Naest, followed by Shapiro's new ballad, "This is No Dream," sung by Munn. Berlin's "An Old Fashioned Tune is Always New" will be offered by Munn and the chorus, and Lyman will conduct the Strauss waltz, "Weiner-Blut;" "My Lady" from the film version of "The Three Musketeers," and Strauss' "While Hearts are Singing." Selections by the orchestra and chorus will include the new "Georgian Waltz" and the familiar "Memories" by Sanford.

The first successful campaign to stamp out the gold-mining racket of "highgrading" will be reviewed by the Old Ranger during the Death Valley Days program, Friday, from 8:30 to 9:00 p. m. over WEAF. Bob Ripley reveals the real stories behind some of the most familiar and popular nursery rhymes as a highlight feature of his "Believe It or Not" program over CBS Friday at 9:30 p. m. He will prove that many of the rhymes were products of stories sung out to the public by townsriers long ago. His guests will be people with odd experiences. B. A. Rolfe's orchestra supplies the music with singing by Linda Lee.

Johnny Green, maestro of "Johnny Presents," plays a piano solo of the current hit, "Comes Love," as an instrumental highlight of the program over CBS Friday at 7:30 p. m. Other numbers are "Night Must Fall," "Indian Love Call," with Genevieve Rowe as vocalist; "Over the Rainbow" and "Beer Barrel Polka," sung by the Swing Fourteen. Johnny the Call Boy, as master of ceremonies, will introduce the dramatization, another in Max Marcin's "Perfect Crime" stories directed by Jack Johnstone.

Boake Carter comes back to radio in September via discs running twelve and a half minutes thruout the country as sustainers or for local commercial use.

Betty Jane Rhodes as vocalist, and the Carl Hoff orchestra were with Al Jolson when he auditioned for the sponsor of the Hit Parade." Program ran 45 minutes.

When "Jack Armstrong" returns to the air Sept. 25 it will be an entirely revised series meeting the rules of NBC's children code and appeasing critics of the blood 'n' thunder type of juvenile airings.

Alec Templeton, now subbing for Fibber McGee, will have his own program in the fall for the sponsor of "Barn Dance." It will be heard Monday nights via Hollywood and will ride the ether under the title of "Alec Templeton Time," with guest stars.

Kay Kyser, who has been shopping around for a looney tune to succeed "Three Little Fishies" is giving a play on the coast with his "College of Musical Knowledge" orchestra to "Honk Honk (The Rumble Seat Song)" another wacky work.

READER AUTHOR TO BE HONORED

McGuffey Societies Open Two-Day Program At Oxford Saturday

OXFORD, O., July 21—(AP)—This quiet college community will turn back to century-old customs in a celebration starting tomorrow, commemorating the days when William McGuffey made reading lessons a story-time in primary classrooms.

An old-fashioned spelling bee, songfests and barbecues highlight the two-day program marking the centennial of adoption of the McGuffey reader in public schools.

The atmosphere of backwoods society typical of McGuffey's day will be recreated by the National Federation of McGuffey Societies, sponsors of the centennial.

A spelling bee will be broadcast Friday under the direction of Ohmer C. Minnich, president of the Greater Cleveland McGuffey club. The first day's program will close with the showing of a motion picture illustrating how McGuffey came to write the reader which revolutionized teaching in its day.

A contest in which entrants will recite lines from the reader will be held Sunday. A McGuffey book mart will be conducted during the convention on the Oxford university campus.

SCHOOLS OPEN ON SEPTEMBER 5

(Special To The Lima News)

ST. MARYS, July 21—St. Marys public schools will open September 5, the day after Labor Day, the municipal school board decided at its monthly meeting.

In accordinance with a petition presented by the teachers, they will be paid by the year instead of just during the nine months they are employed in teaching. They will receive their yearly salary in 12 equal installments, the money being paid them by check hereafter instead of in cash.

Effective this September their monthly checks will be smaller than in the past since the salaries will remain at the same figure.

Fred J. Mackenbach received the contract for supplying the schools with coal at his bid of $4.14 a ton for four by two egg coal.
