Bob Hope Returns To Radio Via WEAF On Tuesday Night

Judy Garland Will Join Genial Maestro In Fun-Making With Jerry Colonna And Ennis Band Also On Tap

Bob Hope, scoring the radio scoop of the season by annexing Judy Garland, a swing queen at sixteen, for his new fall series, will reopen on WEAF Tuesday at 10:00 p. m., with Jerry Colonna and Skinnay Ennis' band.

Hope's return to the Pepsodent show after a vacation in England, will occasion the transfer of "Mr. District Attorney," Sunday, Oct. 1st.

Songstress Garland made her radio debut at the age of four in a Los Angeles juvenile program and has been singing ever since. Her first chance to demonstrate talent as a radio comedian came early this year when she made a guest appearance on the Hope show.

This guest shot convinced Hope's sponsor that Judy was ideal for the program, so effective with the opener, she will become a regular member of the program, joining in the general heckling and being featured in a solo spot each week.

Colonna, "the Mad Professor" is the fellow who made "Greetings Gate" a national byword almost overnight. Featured on the screen and on the air, his insane records selling like hot cakes, Colonna is heavily in demand for personal appearances and at this writing is guesting at the Frisco' Fair with Hope.

Fibber McGee will continue as the Walter Winchell of the Wistful Vista Gazette when he and Molly broadcast their weekly show Tuesday at 9:30 p. m. over WEAF. Fibber will disclose heretofore untold facts about his Wistful Vista neighbors and Tenor Don Novis will sing "Here Comes the Man With the Mandolin." A supporting cast made up of Hal Peary, Bill Thompson, Harlow Wilcox and Billy Mills' orchestra will also be heard.

In New York for the opening of "Nurse Edith Cavell," movie in which she plays a featured role, Zasu Pitts will be Walter O'Keefe's guest on the second of his new broadcast series Tuesday at 8:30 p. m., over WABC. Bobby Dolan and his orchestra will play "The Little Man Who Wasn't There," while Keenan Wynn, Jack O'Keefe, and Teddy Bergman assist Walter in the department of fun.

When Horace Heidt's program moves into a Tuesday night spot on WEAF at 8:30 p. m., starting Sept. 26, its title will be Pot o' Gold, descriptive of the award to be given a lucky listener each week. During the course of the broacast a phone number somewhere in the United States, selected at random, will be called. An answer means that the party at the other end of the wire will receive a gift of $1,000 from the sponsor — with no obligation involved.

In the event there is no answer, the party called will get a consolation award of $100. The remainder will be added to the following week's $1,000 gift, making a total of $1,900 for that particular call.

Heidt's musical combination will be the same as previously. Featured artists are Bob Knight, electric swinging guitarist; Larry Cotton, romantic singer; Fred Lowery, ace whistler; Frankie Carle, pianist who composed "Sunrise Serenade;" the Heidt-ites, harmony group; and several others.

Mort Lewis will introduce a veritable galaxy of satellites on the If I Had the Chance program, Tuesday, at 10:30 p. m., over WJZ. Glenn Miller, orchestra leader whose theme, "Moonlight Serenade," has skyrocketed to fame; Barney Ross, former world's welter-weight boxing champion; Frank Case, genial host at the Algonquin hotel and author of the best-seller "Tales of a Wayward Inn," and Virginia Verrill, song and screen star, will discuss their suppressed ambitions. Conrad Thibault, whose ambitions in the vocal field are recognized, also

The American Legion occupants of the dog house will have their cases analyzed by experts during Uncel Walter's Dog House program on Tuesday, at 10:30 p. m., over WJZ. The Dog House with Legionnaire Tom (Uncle Walter) Wallace presiding will be presented before the vast audience of Legionnaires and their wives in Chicago. Musical highspots will include "Row, Row, Row" and "Shadrack" by the chorus, "The Man with the Mandolin" and "Barrel Polka" by the orchestra, and a college medley saluting Kansas, Duke and Notre Dame.

CLARINET KING

Here is Frankie Hilton, king of the clarinetists, who is appearing all this week at Castle Farms. Hilton, a prodigy at 10, plays three clarinets simultaneously. Since becoming of age he has been playing the leading vaudeville and night club circuits in the west. He is booked solid the next 12 weeks on a swing east that will take him to New York and later to Florida for the winter season.

DRIVERS WARNED OF DEADLINE ON 1940 PERMITS

Automobile drivers were warned Tuesday that they must secure their new 1940 driver's license before Saturday night if they wish to legally operate their cars on Sunday and thereafter.

Deadline for use of the present licenses is midnight Saturday, and according to reports Tuesday, there are hundreds of motorists who will be without their 1940 permits unless the sale increases considerably during the next few days.

The licenses are on sale in Lima at the Howell-Suever Co., W. High-st, and Siferd-Hossellman Co., W. Elm-st, and also at the Auto club headquarters in W. North-st for members of the club only.

Deputy registrars thruout the county also are selling the licenses but all report sales to date considerably below normal.

VAN WERT-CO SALES TAX EXAMINER IS DISMISSED

(Special To The Lima News)

VAN WERT, Sept. 26—Tom Myers, state sales tax examiner for Van Wert-co since Jan. 16, 1935, has been dismissed from duties, effective September 30.

In a charge filed with the State Civil Service Commission by William Evatt, head of the department of taxation, Myers, a Democrat and former county recorder, is claimed to have taken active part in the 1938 election campaign.

Myers, when notified of his dismissal, made no comment whether or not he would fight the charge. He stated that on a number of occasions the past several months, he had been approached by persons said to be connected with the taxation department, asking for his resignation.

ST. MARYS WOMAN IS NAMED BY RELIEF CORPS

(Lima News Bureau)

WAPAKONETA, Sept. 26—Mrs. Grace Cisco, St. Marys, has been named president of the northwestern Ohio W. R. C. district, succeeding Mrs. Bertha Mast, it was announced.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Bessie Brown, Findlay, vice president; Mrs. Dora Mason, Bellefontaine, press correspondent; Mrs. Mast, delegate to state convention, and Mrs. Maude Wiler, of here, alternate. The 1940 district convention will be held in Bellefontaine.

Lionel Barrymore Starring In Ohio Hit Due Wednesday

"On Borrowed Time" Is Title Of Great Drama; "Four Feathers" To Close Run On Tuesday

One of the most tender stories ever filmed is told in the unique picture, "On Borrowed Time," commencing a three-day run at the Ohio theatre Wednesday. Lionel Barrymore, Bobs Watson, and Sir Cedric Hardwicke are starred in this heart-warming tale which reaches new heights in imagination and beauty. The interpretation of death and the glimpse of the hereafter afforded by the picture are the highlights of its imagery.

"Four Feather," the adventurous story of a British soldier's courage, will be shown for the last time Tuesday. Ralph Richardson, June Duprez and John Clements, are starred in this technicolor picture.

"Goodbye, Mr. Chips," with Robert Donat, and Greer Garson, and "Tell No Tales," with Melvyn Douglas and Louise Platt, are now showing at the State theatre. In "Goodbye, Mr. Chips," Donat portrays a schoolmaster, whose entire career is spent at a large boy's school, a career in which he shapes and enriches the lives of future great men.

"Waterfront," starring Gloria Dixon and Dennis Morgan, is scheduled to open Wednesday at the Sigma. Many fighting scenes are in the picture, but love has its part.

"Girl From Mexico," will be the other new picture. Lupe Velez has the leading role.

"When Tomorrow Comes" which has as its background the New England hurricane of 1939 will end Tuesday. Irene Dunne and Charles Boyer are starred.

Scheduled to open Wednesday at the Lyric theatre are "Lucky Night," and "Slums of New York."

The former picture, starring Myrna Loy and Robert Taylor, is a modern comedy with New York's gay life as the background. Their escapades include winning an automobile, capturing a bandit, receiving a $1,000 reward and marriage.

"Charlie Chan in Honolulu," and "Freshman Year," will close Tuesday.

Flaming with all the colorful intensity of men who dare death in the pursuance of duty," "Coast Guard," half of the Quilna bill, is pleasing to Lima fans. Featured members of the brilliant cast include Randolph Scott, Frances Dee, Ralph Bellamy and Walter Connelly.

"A Woman is the Judge" a gripping tale of a noted woman jurist who must decide the fate of her own daughter, is also showing. Frieda Inescort is seen as the judge while her daughter is Rochelle Hudson.

"The Rains Came," with George Brent, Tyrone Power and Myrna Loy, is scheduled to begin at the Wednesday evening preview.

QUILNA

"It only happens in the movies." So declare the movie-goers who scoff at the thrills presented on the screen. Well, maybe it does, but. . . .

In 1897, the Coast Guard cutter "Bear" landed an expedition in mid-winter to drive reindeer herds 1,500 miles over storm-lashed Alaska, taking "meat on the hoof" to 500 starving whalers marooned in frozen Arctic waters. Fierce blizzards disputed the Coast Guardsmen's progress and their appearance terrorized Eskimo villagers who had seen no white men for years. Their icy course was too rough for dogs, and First Lieutenant D. H. Jarvis shifted his supplies to boatlike Lapland sleds pulled by reindeer. Jarvis was lost one night when his deer broke harness and ran away in the storm—similar to an incident that befalls Ralph Bellamy in "Coast Guard," now at the Quilna theatre. Randolph Scott, Frances Dee and Walter Connolly are also featured. The Jarvis' expedition, one of the greatest in Arctic history, is depicted in "Coast Guard." Only a fraction of its many historical thrills have reached the screen, but those sensational incidents are founded upon fact.

Flying Coast Guardsmen are prepared to effect rescues at sea, not only the rescue of passengers and crews from stricken vessels but the more commonplace removal from ocean-going vessels of persons in need of immediate medical attention, perhaps a burst appendix, perhaps a serious accident. The Coast Guard will fly a doctor to the scene or, if time permits, will fly the patient to shore where more thoro medical attention may be given him. How a flying ambulance makes one such dramatic emergency trip is shown in stirring detail in "Coast Guard." A ship's captain is injured during the removal of a crew from a sinking freighter hundreds of miles from port by a Coast Guard cutter. The cutter radios an emergency call to its Seattle base and a giant flying ambulance piloted by Randolph Scott sets off for the freighter. Radio bearings guide his night flight. The patient, Walter Connolly, is transferred to the plane and Scott roars back thru the night to Seattle and a hospital where Connolly is treated.

"It only happens in the movies"? Perhaps. But not so very long ago the Coast Guard cutter Mojave radioed its Boston base that it had taken in tow a disabled freighter whose engineer had been badly burned in a boiler explosion. The Mojave reported its position, that it was in a gale 260 miles at sea. A giant flying amphibian unhesitatingly took off into the night, however, and successfully located the little Coast Guard cutter. It landed, successfully transferred the injured seaman, and returned him to Boston in time to save his life.

"Coast Guard" is a story of the United States Coast Guard. Its many thrills are based upon actual record, and let the movie-going scoffers scoff if they like.

The Coast Guard's slogan is "Always Go Out." There is nothing in the regulations about coming back. And that fact, too, is among the "it only happens in the movies" thrills of "Coast Guard."

OHIO

Headed by Lionel Barrymore, Sir Cedric Hardwick, Beulah Bondi, Una Merkel and Bobs Watson, one of the finest all-star casts of "actors' actors" ever assembled for a motion picture appears in "On Borrowed Time, picturization of the great Broadway stage success, which opens Wednesday at the Ohio theatre.

With Barrymore giving one of the greatest performances of his thirty years in motion pictures, as Gramp, "On Borrowed Time" tells the simple story of an old grandfather who desperately fights Death in order to prevent the grandson he adores from falling into the clutches of a scheming and unscrupulous aunt

Sir Cedric Hardwicke, distinguished British stage and screen personality, appears as the mysterious stranger, Mr. Brink, personification of Death. Beulah Bondi is the devoted Granny, and Bobs Watson, most talked-of child actor of the year, plays the young grandson, Pud.

Una Merkel is cast as the warm-ly human maid, Marcia, Nat Pendleton plays the asylum guard, Henry Travers is Dr. Evans, Grant Mitchell is Lawyer Pilbeam. To Lily Malyon falls the unsympathetic but highly dramatic role of Aunt Demetria. Also in the cast are James Burke, Charles Waldron Ian Wolfe Philip Terry and Truman Bradley.

With a flavor partly of fantasy, partly of folk-tale, partly of homespun, earthy drama, "On Borrowed Time," rises to heights of imagination and beauty rarely before attempted as it tells the simple tale of the grandfather fighting Death to protect his young grandson.

In the role of the lovable old, hard-bitten, outspoken Gramp, Lionel Barrymore is said to give the finest characterization of his distinguished career.

Highlights of the picture include the fishing escapades of Gramp and Pud in their rattle-trap of a car, the humor of their first appearance together at church, the grim feud they wage with Aunt Demetria, and, finally, the thrill of trapping Mr. Brink in the apple tree.

SIGMA

Marking her first American-made picture in 18 months, Lupe Velez returns to the screen in "The Girl From Mexico," an uproarious comedy filled with gay romantic action and song and dance now at the Sigma.

Miss Velez recently appeared on Broadway in "You'll Never Know." She also made and appeared in a play in Mexico, and traveled thru South America presenting a vaudeville act. Her last American screen appearance was in "High Flyers."

In "The Girl From Mexico," the vivacious actress plays a peppery Mexican girl imported by a young advertising man to sing on a national radio program. The young lady gets out of control, paints the town red, mars her guardian's engagement and finally wins him for herself—just a few of the madcap situations in ths hilarious romantic comedy.

Donald Woods is led a merry chase by the Latin spitfire, heading Leon Errol, Linda Hayes and Donald MacBride in the featured cast of "The Girl From Mexico."

Lusty and virile is the story of "Waterfront," scheduled to open Wednesday at the Sigma theatre, and therefore it was regarded as an ideal vehicle to introduce to the public Dennis Morgan, a big, brawny, handsome lad who is expected to step immediately to the forefront among the screen's real he-men.

Sharing top honors in the cast of "Waterfront" with young Morgan are Gloria Dickson, Marie Wilson, Sheila Bromley, Larry Williams, Frank Faylen, Ward Bond and Aldrich Bowker. They all contribute importantly to the development of the plot, but it is about the dynamic person of Dennis Morgan that most of the action and excitement—of which there is plenty—revolve.

LYRIC

A scintillating new comedy team comes to the Lyric theatre Wednesday in "Lucky Night," in which Myrna Loy and Robert Taylor make their first appearance together before the cameras.

It was a lucky thought to take the romantic Taylor and team him with the joyous and irrepressible Miss Loy. Taylor demonstrates a flair for comedy as authentic and virile as he has displayed in drama. Miss Loy is even more beautiful and stunning than we have seen her in previous pictures, for the producers have been lavish with their budget in gowning her.

Interweaving moving heart throbs with uproarious laughter, the story unfolds the accidental meeting and later marital careers of Cora Jordan and Bill Overton. Cora, the spoiled daughter of a millionaire steel magnate, walks out on her fourth engagement to hunt for a job. Bill is a playboy down on his luck. Following an accidental meeting on a park bench, they gamble, frolic and fight their way to fortune, get married, quarrel over the family budget, separate and come together again after a series of mad-as-march-hare complications as hilarious as they are novel.

With an excellent cast of funmakers in support of the stars, and a production richly mounted and taking in all the high and handsome spots of New York night life, "Lucky Night" was superbly directed by the Academy Award winner, Norman Taurog.
