NEW YORK, Oct. 28—(AP)—Mild rallying tendencies prevailed in early stock market transactions today.

Boardroom watchers noted another big railway equipment order in the announcement of the Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad had awarded contracts for 2,050 gondolas, box and hopper cars at a cost of approximately $7,500,000. It was disclosed the Baltimore & Ohio had ordered an additional 500 cars.

The Bessemer & Lake Erie, it was explained, had been hard pressed to fill expanding demands for coal and iron from Lake Erie.

Rail freight traffic is resisting the usual seasonal downtrend which normally occurs the second and third weeks in October, according to rail executives who said that carloadings during this week will probably be at or near the 9-year peak established in the preceding period. Should the mark be surpassed it would be the first time on record that a yearly high level has been established after the third week of this month.

Department store sales last week expanded, for the country as a whole, to 11 per cent better than for the similar 1938 period, the federal reserve board reported. Largest acceleration was in the Cleveland, Philadelphia, Richmond and New York districts.

CORONER PROBES WOMAN'S DEATH IN HOTEL HERE

Allen-co Coroner Burt Hibbard Saturday was investigating the death of Mrs. Henry Eneck, 60, Alpha Gamma Delta sorority house mother at Ohio Wesleyan university, Delaware, whose body was found in the Norval hotel about 4 p. m. Friday two hours after she had registered.

Dr. Hibbard announced that an autopsy did not definitely determine the cause of death.

A hotel housekeeper said she heard a woman screaming. She secured a key and entered the room of Mrs. Eneck and found her on the bathroom floor.

Mrs. Eneck, a native of Lima, was the widow of Henry Eneck, a Lima contractor.

Surviving are a son, Henry S. Eneck, of Kenton; and a brother, Ed Orchard, of Lima. Another son, James, died two years ago.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a. m. Monday at the Davis-Miller and Son mortuary. Rev. Richard O. Petersen, rector of the Christ Episcopal church, will officiate and burial will be in Woodlawn cemetery. The body will remain at the N. West-st funeral home.

WHEAT MARKET MOVES UPWARD

Prices Gain Fractionally At Chicago As Moisture Seems Unlikely

CHICAGO, Oct. 28 — (AP)— The wheat market continued to display an upward tendency at the opening today, with prices gaining fractions.

The weather outlook indicating little likelihood of moisture relief in the heart of the hard winter wheat belt the coming week tended to restrict selling and gave the market some buying support.

Crowd Of 70,000 Expected To Watch Irish Play Carnegie

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 28—(INS)—Football reached its peak in this busy industrial center today as upwards of 70,000 people prepared to descend on Pitt stadium to watch the fighting Irish from Notre Dame battle one of their biggest stumbling blocks, the Plaid-clad warriors of Carnegie Tech.

In seclusion in St. Vincent's college in nearby Latrobe, Pa., the Irish, who won their four previous starts by the narrowest of margins, will not come to Pittsburgh until game time. Coach Elmer Layden reported his squad in good condition, adding:

"The situation is ripe for an upset and we are taking fullest precautions."

The Tartans, still smarting from a 6-0 defeat at the hands of New York university last Saturday, openly admitted they have been pointing for this Saturday ever since last year when John ("Wrong Down") Getchell made his famous "boner," which purportedly led to the Scotchmen's defeat. Coach "Wailin'" Will Kern told reporters he had nothing spectacular to report other than "We'll be in there."

Broadway Star To Be Heard On Berle's Hour Saturday

Ilka Chase Will Match Wits With Gag Master; Cal Tinney Plans New Quiz With "Youth Against Age"

Ilka Chase, star of numerous Broadway productions, regarded by producers as and possessing one of the keenest wits in the theatre, will achieve further notoriety as Milton Berle's first female guest gag-buster during the Stop Me If You've Heard This One broadcast over WEAF Saturday at 8:30 p. m.

Don Bestor and his orchestra will provide musical interludes. Bestor is noted for his predominately sweet arrangements of current hits.

Is the ripe experience of people over 40 a greater asset than the mental agility of young people under 25? Cal Tinney expects to answer that question in an entirely new and amusing fashion when he launches his "Youth vs. Age" quiz programs over WJZ on Saturday, from 8:30 to 9 p. m.

MORE.. cusual- yic's

Tinney, as referee, will pose the questions for the teams of four "youngsters" and four "oldsters." Whichever team answers the greatest number of questions will be declared the winners and presented with individual $10 awards. The losers will receive $5 apiece for their efforts.

With Uncle Ezra astride a broomstick, and the cast bobbing for crab-apples in a finger bowl, the National Barn Dance will hold its annual Halloween frolic Saturday at 9.00 p. m., over WJZ. Among those attending the pumpkin fest will be Louise Massey and the Westerners, Lulu Belle and Scotty, the Vass Family, Hoosier Hot Shots, Lucille Long, contralto, the Maple City Four, aided and abetted by Glenn Welty's orchestra.

Ray Collins, one of the East's outstanding radio character actors, who has just arrived in Hollywood for his first motion picture role, and Paula Winslow, well-known character actress of the Western stage and screen, will be co-featured in "Profits, Unlimited," Arch Oboler's drama over WEAF, Saturday at 10:30 p. m.

"Profits, Unlimited" is a fantasy adventure concerning events which might take place (in the far distant future, of course) if big business were to lose sight of the human factor and concern itself wholly with the increase of output and dividends by means of straight-line production methods.

Mildred Bailey's second appearance on Benny Goodman's Saturday program resulted in such an enthusiastic reaction from the listeners, that the "Queen of Swing" will join the "King of Swing" on the air as a regular attraction commencing Saturday at 10 p. m. over WEAF.

Miss Bailey, who has been prominent as a jazz and blues singer ever since she left a 10-cent store piano to become a professional, possesses a voice that blends beautifully with the Goodman music. Her rich, throaty tones contrast vocally with the full instrumental rhythms of Benny Goodman's orchestra.

The songstress will sing many of her famous songs, as well as new numbers that will be specially arranged for her to do in conjunction with the orchestra.

Kay Whitley's 6-Bar Cowboys, musical unit appearing with the Rodeo in Madison Square Garden, will be guests of the Old Ranger during Death Valley Days, Saturday at 9:30 p. m., over WEAF. The boys, with two guitars, a fiddle, washboard, two frying pans and two automobile horns, will present their own arrangements of cowboy songs and specialty numbers. The Old Ranger will entertain with the Story of Emmeline, cook on the 6-Bar Ranch who made the boys sing for their supper, her heavenly doughnuts being something of an incentive.

Dramatization of the story of Ida Rutkowski, whose bombings of banks, public buildings and even police stations terrorized a great midwestern city in 1935, will be featured on the second Gang Busters broadcast of the season, Saturday at 8:00 p. m., over WABC. Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, former head of the New Jersey state police, will interview a police inspector who will describe details of the case.

WHERE'S THAT DRAFT COMING FROM

Lake Mary's little lamb, Marvin Comstock of Cleveland is endowed with a spirit of adventure. Suffering from a slight touch of insomnia the other night, he strode out the door and down the street for a nightcap turn around the block, without his parent's knowledge or consent. Half an hour later he was picked up in this condition by adults who had more qualms about the cool night air than did Marvin.

"DRAFT ROOSEVELT" IS LIKELY TO SOUND THRU NATION BEFORE SPRING

By W. B. RAGSDALE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (AP) The White House disapproval of Secretary Wallace's third term proposal emphasizes the likelihood that a cry of "draft Roosevelt" will be ringing thru the leafless trees before winter goes.

The frown might be taken as a clear hint that President Roosevelt has no present intention of being an active candidate for a third term nomination. Yet, by no stretch of the imagination does it bar him from the running.

It puts stress on the inept timing of the Wallace declaration even tho made by a wholly loyal member of the Roosevelt official family. A fight for removal of the arms embargo was just reaching its critical stage in the senate. Another battle with a sharper division of sentiment is yet to be fought in the house. The Republicans had been urged to forget partisan politics for the time.

They had, in the same way that a hungry man forgets a rich uncle, not saying much but hoping for the best, or worst. The Wallace statement was in the nature of a doctor's certificate that the rich uncle was in very fine health and might live for quite a long while.

The Wallace statement could do more than unseal the lips of the Republicans at a poor time for inter-party disputes. The tent under which the Democrats are huddling is not anything like one piece of stronely woven canvas. It is a crazy-quilt patchwork of compromises. Too much arm-waving at either end of the party will tear the whole fragile structure apart at the seams.

The delicate situation existing both in and out of the party had something to do with the prompt emphasis of the White House turndown. The whole story does not lie in the arms embargo situation, however.

Some of Mr. Roosevelt's closest friends are convinced that he has not made up his mind whether to run again. These feel that whether he does depends upon two things. First, perhaps, is the strength that underlies any outside third term demand as convention time approaches. Second is the situation inside the party next spring.

Mr. Roosevelt is said to have told at least two persons that he had no intention of running. Friends say he and Mrs. Roosevelt have made many plans they want to carry out after they leave the White House.

But Mr. Roosevelt is deeply interested in the program of social reforms he has undertaken. If, as the next convention approaches, it seemed that the nomination was destined to go to a man whom he regarded as out of step with the program, he might be projected actively into the campaign. No one expects him to sit idly by while the convention picks a man he could not support.

FREEDOM OF TEACHERS TO MARRY IS SOUGHT IN RESOLUTION ADOPTED

CLEVELAND, Oct. 28 — (AP) —A resolution asking for "freedom of teachers in social life, including freedom to marry," today carried the approval of the Northeastern Ohio Teachers-assn.

The Neota session here was one of a series of meetings held in the state yesterday. Others were at Cincinnati, Cambridge, Athens, Toledo and Dayton.

The resolution also advocated "further support of legislation in favor of tenure of office in Ohio."

Other proposals voted by the group here urged support of a proposed amendment establishing a state board of education, opposed the Bigelow amendments and condemned "any and all subversive influences at home and abroad which in any way endanger our peaceful status."

Carl Coffeen, Summit-co superintendent, was elected president of the Neota; Dale R. Rice, of Mentor, vice president; Ellen Campbell of Ashland, recording secretary, and Robert L. Fleming of Youngstown, and Alma Zinninger of Canton, executive committee members.

In Toledo, the Northwestern Ohio Teachers voted "unalterable opposition" to the lifting of the arms embargo, opposed the Bigelow plan and condemned "isms."

At the Cambridge session, Dr. Morris Fishbein, of Chicago, editor of the American Medical-assn Journal, criticized the federal government for "endeavoring to engraft on the American people a system of compulsory sickness insurance" thru legislation.
