'Boy Wonder' Feller Becomes a Man at Last

VAN METER, Ia.—(U.P.)—Bob Feller, the "boy wonder" of big league baseball, became a man Friday.

The Cleveland Indians' ace hurler, who started pouring 'em past American League batters four years ago and who since has piled up 713 strikeouts, Friday night cut a white birthday cake with 21 candles.

Only his parents and his 11-year-old sister, Marguerite, who baked the cake for her No. 1 hero, were present at the birthday dinner on the family farm.

Feller, who last season led the American League in strikeouts and won 24 games, two of them one-hitters, treated himself to a new automobile earlier in the week.

His hobbies are hunting, fast automobiles, and a blazing fast ball.

Wauzeka Expecst Improved Team

Paavo Nurmi Answers Finnish Call to Colors

HELSINGFORS—(U.P.) — Paavo Nurmi, one of the greatest distance runners who ever drew on a spiked shoe, was called to the colors Friday.

Nurmi, operator of a haberdashery shop since his retirement some years ago, will serve as a chauffeur.

Who's Who Among Wisconsin Birds

MIGRANT SHRIKE (BUTCHER BIRD)

The Migrant Shrike is the species which nests in Wisconsin, the Northern Shrike visiting only in winter. The Migrant is an abundant summer resident in the southern part of the state but becomes increasingly less common northward. It is one of the common birds seen on wires along the highways.

This is a bluish-gray and white bird with black wings and tail. It is somewhat smaller than the robin and is about the size of a Kingbird. It has a broad band on the side of the head and its bill is black. Adults are nearly pure white below.

Its general nesting range is southern Canada west to southeastern Manitoba, south to northeastern Texas and then eastward to western North Carolina and the interior of Virginia. It winters chiefly in the Mississippi Valley and Texas and irregularly north to southern New England.

It nests among the thick lower branches of trees and in dense tangled vines and thorn bushes. The nest is a large, well-built, deeply cupped structure of grasses and weed stems, vines, strips of bark, feathers, etc., warmly lined with feathers, hair, plant down, and wool.

It eats some vegetable matter and occasionally small birds but the U. S. department of agriculture has announced that its beneficial qualities outweigh its injurious ones four to one. Its food is mainly grasshoppers and crickets, beetles, ants, wasps, caterpillars, moths, spiders, mice, lizards, snakes.

This is one of the birds that is seldom found in the coniferous forests. It has a habit of impaling and hanging up its meat until it is wanted.

(Scrapbook page 77 of the second series of the educational program of the Wisconsin Wildlife federation.)

Whit Wyatt Has Operation

BALTIMORE, Md.—(U.P.)—Whitlow Wyatt, right handed pitcher for the Brooklyn Dodgers, was operated on Friday for the removal of a piece of cartilage in the left knee joint. Dr. George E. Bennett said the operation was successful.

Wyatt, elected the most valuable American association player in 1938, hurt his knee in a game at Cincinnati May 21, and quit playing July 19 after two defeats.

Al Davis to Meet Larkin Dec. 15

NEW YORK —(U.P.)— Al Davis, Brooklyn's brilliant young welterweight contender, will meet Tippy Larkin, Garfield, N. J., in a 10-round bout at Madison Square garden, Dec. 15.

The match will be signed as soon as the principals come to a weight agreement. Davis, who handed Tony Canzoneri his first knockout Wednesday night, wishes to fight at 145 pounds but Larkin insists Davis come in at 143. They are expected to compromise at 144.

Promoter Mike Jacobs predicts this brawl will sell out the garden. Both youngsters have built up large followings during their winning campaigns. Davis is unbeaten in 36 bouts, and Larkin dropped only three decisions in 53 scraps, reversing two of them later.

Sam Angott Whips Baby Arizmendi

CHICAGO —(U.P.)— Sammy Angott, 135, Louisville, Ky., strengthened his chances for a shot at the lightweight title Friday night by pounding out a 10 round decision over Baby Arizmendi, 136¾, Los Angeles.
