Kyser's Band To Play For "Gone With The Wind" Ball

Kay And Outfit Scheduled For Special Broadcast For Premiere Of Film In Atlanta Thursday

The music of Kay Kyser and his orchestra will be heard in a special broadcast from Atlanta, Ga., at 11:30 p. m. Thursday, where the musical professor and his boys will be playing at the "Gone With the Wind Ball."

Kyser has been named to the reception committee with Gov. D. Rivers of Georgia and Mrs. W. B. Hartsfield of Atlanta, to welcome stars of the film to the initial showing of the picture "Gone with the Wind," which will have its world premiere Thursday at Atlanta.

The dance, following the picture, will be given in the stars' honor by the Junior League of Atlanta, with the music furnished by Kysers' band. Stars expected include Clark Gable, Vivien Leigh, Ona Munson, Leslie Howard and Olivia de Havilland.

Efrem Zimbalist, world-famous concert violinist and distinguished alumnus of the Music Hall, will return to his alma mater for the broadcast Thursday at 10 p. m., over WEAF. Prexy Bing Crosby and his able assistant, Prof. Bob Burns, will head the welcoming committee. Jack Holt and, Una Merkel, screen stars, also take part in the proceedings.

Scenes from the new Paramount picture, "The Great Victor Herbert," will be presented in a special pickup from New York by Walter Connolly, Allan Jones and Mary Martin, stars of the film, during the Good News of 1940 program Thursday at 9 p. m., over WEAF. Master-of-ceremonies Edward Arnold, M. C., also will present the regulars, Fanny Brice as Baby Snooks, Hanley Stafford as Daddy, Connie Boswell in songs, and Meredith Willson and his orchestra. Willson will feature the premiere of Ferde Grofe's new "American March."

Jim McWilliams will ask questions about the American Indians, mountains and rivers and other subjects on the "Ask-It Basket" program Thursday at 8 p. m. over WABC. Contestants will be called upon to sing, whistle, and emote during the hilarious "Anything Can Happen" basket.

Clifford Barbour's continued interest in Margaret Lloyd reaches another climax when Father Barbour meets the green-eyed divorcee for the first time during the One Man's Family episode, Thursday at 8 p. m., over WEAF. The impression she makes on Barbour is expected to guide the future course of Cliff's romance.

Altho recently voted one of the favorite shows, the Bergen and McCarthy hour will soon be reduced to a half-hour program. Don Ameche and Dorothy Lamour will be among the missing. Favorite radio personality in a newspaper poll was the title won by McCarthy, with Alec Templeton, and Bing Crosby runners-up.

The new coast-to-coast chain, the Transcontinental Broadcasting System, has selected 10 a. m. New Year's Day for its inaugural program, Elliott Roosevelt, president of the chain, has announced.

Jones Family, Charlie Chan Films Scheduled At Quilna

New Hits Will Be Shown At Friday Preview; "Thin Man" Picture On Ohio Screen

America's first fun family, the Joneses, were never so uproariously upside down in hilarious headaches as in their latest picture, "Too Busy to Work," commencing Friday evening at the Quilna theatre. The film features the regular Jones family, plus Joan Davis, as a "screwball" country cousin. Also to be previewed Friday is "Charlie Chan in City in Darkness" with Sidney Toler as the Oriental detective.

Presented for the last times Friday will be Warner Baxter and Alice Faye in "Barricade" on the screen and Richard Sylvers, psychic, and Don Carabrese, accordionist, on the stage.

The master mirth-mystery of the year is offered at the Ohio theatre in "Another Thin Man," starring William Powell and Myrna Loy and presenting for the first time a new addition to the Charles family, William Poulsen as the infant son of the popular sleuth and his wife. Also prominent in the cast in Nat Pendleton, Virginia Grey, and C. Aubrey Smith in the picture offering a laugh with every clue.

A roaring action story of range warfare—plus the romantic background of faraway Argentina—add up to "The Law of the Pampas," latest of the Hopalong Cassidy outdoor dramas at the Sigma theatre. William Boyd heads an all-star cast including Russell Hayden, Steffi Duna, Sidney Toler and Sydney Blackmer. Also at the Sigma is "Pride of the Bluegrass."

The State theatre presents "Unexpected Father" and "Waterfront" in a fine program combining balanced portions of comedy, action and thrills. Sandy, the infant marvel, is starred in "Unexpected Father" with Mischa Auer, Dennis O'Keefe, and Shirley Ross. "Waterfront" introduces a promising star in Dennis Morgan, with Gloria Dickson providing the romantic touch.

Roy Rodgers is starred in the Lyric attraction, "Jeepers Creepers," a story of the hills, with the Weaver Brothers and Elviry capably handling the hill-billy touch with hilarious comedy antics. Frieda Inescort and Otto Kruger are featured in "Zero Hour," in an absorbing drama of human conflict.

"Submarine Patrol" and "Prairie Justice" are the hits at the Majestic theatre, one an undersea drama of the conflict and thrills of the sub-sea fleet, the other a roaring tale of fighting cowboys.

SIGMA

Gauchos! Boleadores! Pampas! Pomperos! They may all be unfamiliar terms to followers of past "Hopalong Cassidy" outdoor action pictures, but they all figure importantly in the latest "Hoppy" adventure, "Law of the Pampas," at the Sigma theatre with William Boyd in the top role!

"Hoppy," in the person of Boyd, and his best pal "Lucky," Russell Hayden, turn graucho temporarily when they travel to faraway Argentina to deliver a herd of prize cattle to a wealthy rancher and find that members of the rancher's family are being killed off one by one, for no apparent reason.

The "Bar 20" foreman's newest enemy is Sidney Blackmer, who's cast as the unfriendly son-in-law of the Argentine family. Suspecting him immediately, "Hoppy" soon learns that he and a pair of European gangsters are the men behind the killings.

In the absence of his loyal "Bar 20" boys, "Hopalong" enlists the aid of the daring gauchos and fights it out with Blackmer's gang on the wild pampas.

"Law of the Pampas" boasts an exceptional supporting cast, including Sidney Toler, Steffi Duna, Pedrore Cordoba and the popular radio quartet, The King's Men. Nate Watt directed.

Elmer Gantry, the famous blind horse who jumps steeplechase hurdles with all the courage and sureness of a well-trained and sure-sighted hunter, is the chief actor in "Pride of The Bluegrass," the Warner Bros. racing picture opening today at the Sigma theatre.

There is also a fine cast of human performers, headed by Edith Fellows, James McCallion, Granville Bates, DeWolf Hopper and Frankie Burke.

LYRIC

One of the greatest attractions at the world-famed charity baseball game in Hollywood, between the leading men and the comedians, proved to be none other than the popular cowboy star, Roy Rogers. As the various stars walked on the field a little over six weeks ago, the ovation that was given Rogers was second to none.

Roy's popularity at the charity game made such an impression on visiting newspapermen from San Francisco, that they insisted that Rogers be there to pitch for the leading men in the San Francisco charity game.

When the day arrived, however, Rogers was busily at work at the studios in the new Weaver Brothers and Elviry film, Jeepers Creepers," current Lyric theatre film fare, with Roy in the leading romantic role.

Rogers was so anxious to take part in the worthy cause, that he approached studio executives and asked to revise the picture shooting schedule. Re-arranging schedules is a costly business, but executives came to his rescue and granted his request without further ado.

The tremendous ovation given Roy as he marched to the pitcher's box was enough for any ten stars, said Rogers as the San Francisco representatives gave Roy a vote of thanks, declaring that his appearance helped to make the affair a huge success.

To whom does an actress owe her devotion; the man who gave her her career, or the man who has shown her the meaning of love? This poignant question is answered by Frieda Inescort in the drama "The Zero Hour" which is at the Lyric theatre.

QUILNA

It's Ben Southland's job to shoot at movie stars, and not in the camera sense of the term, either! They gave him a gun 20 years ago and it has heldom been out of his hands since.

A tall, lanky individual with a face that seems made of fine-grain leather, and a pair of frosty blue eyes—the eyes of a marksman—Southland was recently engaged in the delicate task of pumping bullets from a .38 caliber rifle at Warner Baxter.

It's a precise and exciting job. The scene was just outside the wall of a remote American consulate hard by the Mongolian frontier. Baxter was running in a half crouching posture along the wall to escape the savage bandits in close pursuit. It was Southland's job to give reality and thrills to the scene, one of the most exciting in "Barricade," co-starring Alice Faye, which is now at the Quilna theatre.

As Baxter fled, Southland sent bullet after bullet screaming into the wall just behind the star, each leaden pellet spaced not more than two inches to the rear of the sprinting Baxter. The impact of each bullet, kicking up its spatter of stone from the wall, was caught and registered by the camera.

To Director Gregory Ratoff and other members of the cast the scene was a nerve-wracking thing to witness, but to the cool Southland it was just a routine job.

In the course of his work as a movie marksman who must always just miss by a hairbreadth, Southland estimates that he's had at least 3,000 players as targets and missed them all! When he wearies of sooting at the stars Southland takes his rifle to the desert where he shoots straight at various inanimate objects and hits them at every shot!

Also at the Quilna theatre is Richard Sylvers, noted psychic, and Don Carabrese, accordion maestro.

OHIO

Shifting with a deft pace from baby parties to bizarre crime, from marital mirth to murder thrills, and from palatial Long Island estates to the dives of New York, "Another Thin Man," latest of the sparkling "Thin Man" series, is current at the Ohio theatre.

It teams that favorite screen pair, William Powell and Myrna Loy, once again as the shrewd and witty Detective Nick Charles and his charming but somewhat daffy wife, Nora. Their gay banter, which enlivened "The Thin Man" and "After the Thin Man," the other pictures in the series, gets away to a new high in this offering due to the introduction of a Thin Man, Jr., the baby whose arrival was predicted at the end of the preceding picture. The laughs, centering around Nickie, Jr., as played by eight-months-old William Poulsen, reach a hilarious climax with a baby party given in his honor by underworld pals of Detective Charles.

The story brings the Charles family and their quizzical wire-haired terrier, Asta, to New York for a vacation. No sooner have they arrived than the financial adviser of Nora Charles is slain on his Long Island estate and Nick is called in to investigate. In the typically shrewd fashion of the "Thin Man" sleuth, Nick solves the murder, even tho he has to take time off now and then to rescue Nora from a tough New York dive, attend the baby party and upset plans for his own murder.

DELPHOS POLICE CALL SYSTEM IS EXTENDED

(Lima News Bureau)

DELPHOS, Dec. 14—The police electric call system has been extended to Jefferson-st, where an alarm signal has been added. Red lights are installed on W. Second-st at Main, the Miami and Erie canal, Canal-st, and now at Jefferson-st.

When patrolmen are on their beats and on any of those streets, if the red light is on, he knows he is needed at police headquarters.
