DISCS OF THE DAY: Recommended "pop" records . . .

* Barbara Ruick (MGM): "That's What a Rainy Day Is For" and "Tick Tock Boogie" . . . Latter is the better.

 Betty Madigan (MGM): "You're Thoughtless" and "I Just Love You" . . . If the disc jockeys give this a play, it may turn into a "sleeper" success. Nice singing and danceable.

 Percy Faith orchestra (Columbia): "Evrybody Loves Saturday Night," a novelty in several languages, and "True or False," rather charming . . . Vocals by Paulette sisters and Burt Taylor.

 Frankie Laine and Jo Stafford (Columbia): "Way Down Yonder in New Orleans" and "Floatin' Down to Cotton Town" . . . It's about time these ditties had a worthy revival—and this is it.

Cecil B. DeMille, 72, celebrated his 40th anniversary as a movie producer on Dec. 29. He's working on his 70th picture, "The 10 Commandments."

Bill Namio, the bartender on those Wednesday night boxing telecasts, used to be a boxer in his home town, Cincinnati.

Small Nash Planned; Priced Below $2,000

DETROIT (U.P.) — The Nash Motors Division of Nash-Kelvinator Corp. has revealed plans for a small auto which will sell for less than $2,000.

George W. Mason, president and board chairman, said in a letter to the firm's stockholders that the car would be "Nash's answer to the demands from a sizeable number of motorists for a car that will provide maximum operating economy without sacrifice of the essential driving comforts."

The car, to be known as the NKI will be built in England and shipped to this country. The NKI will weigh about 1,600 pounds and will have a 44 horsepower engine which will give "up to 40 miles per gallon at normal highway speeds."

Aluminum Firm Sued by Salesman

John R. Kruse, 25 S. Owen dr., Aluminum Products Sales and Distribution representative, filed suit in Madison Federal Court Monday to recover $3,364 from Tabor Aluminum Products Co., Moline, Ill.

Krause's complaint charged that his "market prices" under a contract for exclusive sales territory on Tabor wheels and fans were the same as the company's "cost prices," thus making a profit impossible.

He asked return of his $1,464 investment in stock and $2,000 to cover financial loss.

ASKS CONDEMNATION

Condemnation of six 100-pound bags of filberts, shipped from Corvallis, Ore., to Richland Center, Wis., was asked by U. S. Atty. George E. Rapp Monday in Madison Federal Court. The complaint charged that the nuts were adulterated "by reason of the presence of insect infestations and empty shells."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By Oswald Jacoby

One of the lesser-known safety plays is illustrated in today's hand. After winning the first trick with the king of diamonds, South should begin the trump suit with the safety play of leading out the ace.

No matter how favorably the five missing trumps are divided, South is bound to lose one trump trick.

For example, suppose South tries the "normal" finesse of the queen of spades and is lucky enough to find the double-ton king-jack in East's hand. West will then have 10-x-x, and will make a trump trick with his 10.

If only small cards fall on the ace of spades, South will get to dummy and lead a small trump towards the queen. This will serve the same purpose as an ordinary finesse, so South loses nothing by having first played the ace.

The advantage of leading the ace first comes when West has to follow suit with a high card. In today's hand, South is lucky enough to capture the king of spades. This enables him to limit the trump loss to one trick, whereas he would surely lose two trump tricks if he finessed the queen of spades and lost it to the blank king.

Life is not just a bed of roses for South after he has captured the blank king of spades. He must time the play very carefully to make his contract.

Declarer continues by leading a heart to dummy's king and returning a trump through East. If East plays low, South can win a finesse with the nine, after which everything is easy. If East plays the 10 of spades, however, he makes things more difficult for South. Declarer must allow East to hold the trick with the 10 of spades.

East naturally returns a club, and South takes the ace. South cashes two top hearts in order to discard a club from dummy, ruffs the queen of clubs in dummy, and then returns a trump through East.

Now South can finesse and draw all of the trumps, after which the rest of his hand is good.

South loses the slam contract if he makes the mistake of winning the second trump with the queen when East puts up the ten.

He will eventually get to dummy by ruffing a club and lead dummy's last trump through East. Thereupon East wins with the jack of spades and leads another club to make South ruff; and this sets up a second trump trick for East.

Cash, Clothing, Golf Clubs Stolen

Thieves stole $161 from an unlocked safe at the Sherman Avenue Beverage Mart, 2501 Sherman ave., and $250 worth of clothing and golf clubs from two parked cars in the University district, city police and sheriff's officials reported Monday afternoon.

Joseph Martin, operator of the Beverage Mart, said the money in a bank bag taken from his safe contained $19 in checks and the rest in cash. The thief gained entrance by prying open the front door and storm door, sheriff's deputies said.

Bernard Kubale, 10 Langdon st., reported that the top to his locked convertible was slashed while it was parked at the end of Wisconsin ave., and a thief lifted out his suit, two sportcoats, three pairs of trousers, and a pair of gloves, all valued at $165.

Lyman Lyon, 145 Iota ct., told police that his girl friend's $50 golf clubs and a laundry case containing $35 worth of clothing were stolen from his car parked in a lot near his apartment.

Nichols District to Vote on Bus

Residents of the Nichols elementary school district in Monona village and the town of Blooming Grove will vote tonight on whether they want to add another school bus to the school's pupil transportation system.

The school now operates two buses for its pupils. The voters will decide either on a $8,000 loan application for more transportation facilities or will approve a rescheduling of the present bus routes.

The meeting will begin at 8 p. m. in the school building on Monona dr.
