Jean Hersholt To Be Guest On Kate Smith Show Friday

Special Version Of "The Toymaker Of Nuremberg" Will Be Vehicle For Popular Screen Star

Kate Smith will sing for the 10th successive year on the air and for the 25th year in her career, "Silent Night" as the feature of her broadcast over WABC at 8 p. m. Friday.

Jean Hersholt, "Dr. Christian" of the radio, will be the guest star of the evening in a special version of the famous Christmas story, "The Toymaker of Nuremberg."

"The Toymaker of Nuremberg," from the pen of Austin Strong, is the story of an old toy craftsman who sees ruin for himself in the sudden popularity of the teddy bear in the toy market. Jean Hersholt is especially enthusiastic over this choice of vehicle and anticipates the opportunity of playing the stellar role in this whimsical Christmas play.

Abbott and Costello will be heard in a humorous Christmas skit, and in their "Snow Village Sketch," Parker Fennelly and Arthur Allen will have as their subject the Yuletide season.

A new sort of college song, which Waring calls a loyalty song, will be introduced in "Song of Sienna," dedicated to the students of Sienna college, Londonville, N. Y., on Friday, the College Smoker edition of Pleasure Time heard over WEAF at 7:00 p. m. The loyalty song is written in two moods, one part as an alma mater hymn, the second in march tempo which can be used as a pep song. The college songs have become so popular that they are scheduled to continue as a regular weekly feature of Pleasure Time thru March.

"Lilacs in the Rain" serves as the piano solo by Bandleader Johnny Green, a musical highlight on "Johnny Presents" over WABC network Friday, at 9 p. m. Other numbers are "El Rancho Grande," "Little Red Fox," "Home," "In the Mood" and "Fine and Dandy." Vocals are by Floyd Sherman, the Male Trio and the Swing Fourteen. The "Perfect Crime" dramatization by Max Marcin is a thriller called "Double Troubles," directed by Jack Johnstone. Johnny the Call Boy is master of ceremonies.

The Sandman's Song, from Humperdinck's opera, "Hansel and Gretel," will be Lucille Manners' feature solo during the Concert, Friday, at 8:00 p. m., over WEAF. Miss Manners also will sing Max Rager's "Maria Wiegenlied" and "O Holy Night" by Adolphe Adam. Ross Graham, baritone, will offer Mac Gimsey's "Sweet Little Jesus Boy" as his solo. Dr. Frank Black will direct the orchestra in the Overture to Tschaikowsky's "Nutcracker Suite," Polla's "Dancing Tambourine," Leon Jessel's "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers" and Liadow's "The Musical Snuff Box." Selections by the ensemble will include the traditional "Jingle Bells" and Schwartz's modern carol, "Good People All." Baer's "The Night Before Christmas," selections from Herbert's "Babes in Toyland" and a medley of traditional Yuletide songs.

The ten-round non-title featherweight battle between Petey Scalzo of New York, and Simon Chavez, of Venezuela, another in the WJZ boxing series, will be broadcast Friday, at 10:00 p. m. Sam Taub and Bill Stern will collaborate in another of their word pictures from the ringside in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Dale Carnegie, who had to bow off his recently scheduled spot on the George Jessel "Celebrity Program" because of the death of his mother, will appear on the show Friday, over WEAF at 9:30 p. m. The author of "How to Win Friends and Influence People" will have fast company including Santa Claus, Maxine Sullivan, the song star, and Howard and Shelton, the comedians. Music is under the baton of Peter Van Steeden with vocals by the Merry Macs.

Lovely Lane Sisters Are Featured In New Ohio Hit

"Four Wives" Has Many Other Hollywood Favorites; Mysterious "Dr. X" Comes To Sigma Saturday

The perfect holiday treat, "Four Wives," opens Saturday at the Ohio theatre with the same stars of "Four Daughters" playing the same lovable characters in an entirely new story. Starred are the three Lane sisters, Priscilla, Rosemary and Lola; Gale Page, Claude Rains, Jeffrey Lynn, Eddie Albert, May Robson and John Garfield. In this picture Lynn and Priscilla Lane continue their hectic romance.

Showing Friday at the Ohio will be "Henry Goes Arizona," featuring Frank Morgan, George Murphy and Virginia Weidler.

Starting Saturday at the Sigma will be "The Return of Dr. X," with Wayne Morris, Rosemary Lane, Humphrey Bogart and Dennis Morgan in leading roles. This existing, extraordinary film has Bogart as Dr. X."

Friday is the final day for "The Day the Bookies Wept," revealing how taxi drivers beat the racing racket and "Mutiny of the Elsinore," Jack London's sea saga.

"Everything Happens at Night," at the Quilna preview Friday night, a timely story, centers on an exiled statesman startling the world with his revelations and pleas for peace from his Alpine hideaway. Sonja Henie plays a combined dramatic and comedy role and Robert Cummings and Ray Milland are seen as newspapermen.

In the city a lawyer can specialize, but in a small town he must be able to handle every phase of legal work. Edward Ellis in the title role of "Main Street Lawyer," current at the Lyric, demonstrates his ability in the courtroom in defense of his adopted daughter, Anita Louise. "Sky Patrol," also is showing.

Friday and Saturday will be the final days for the showing of "Sorority House," and "The Spellbinder," at the State. Lee Tracy has the principal role in the latter film which reveals the troubles a lawyer comes across during his practice. Anne Shirley and James Ellison are the leads in the other hit.

At the Majestic is "Tell No Tales," the story of a newspaperman who unearths a series of dramas while tracking down the original source of a hundred dollar ransom bill. Melvyn Douglass and Louise Platt are featured.

QUILNA

Story value and acting performances are counted on in "Everything Happens at Night" more than in any of Sonja Heinie's previous five productions. A completely different type of story for the famous skating star and queen of the ice, the screen play by Art Arthur and Robert Harari is filled with love and laughter, and mysterious danger, too. It's a timely tale of modern intrigue, with the added attraction of Sonja's matchless artistry on silver blades and slippery skis.

Ray Milland and Robert Cummings are featured as Sonja's leading men in the attraction which opens Friday night at the Quilna theatre. Because it is essentially a story picture, Irving Cummings, known as an "actor's director," was selected by Darryl F. Zanuck for the megaphone. The cast includes Maurice Moscovich, Leonid Kinskey, Alan Dinehart and Fritz Feld.

As the daughter of a famous European statesman hiding in Switzerland from his enemies intent on extinguishing the light of freedom in Europe, she aids her father in revealing to the world the sensational inside story of the new inter-national intrigue.

These stories, because of their style and content, lead news editors to believe they can be the work only of Dr. Hugo Norden, world-famous peace leader supposedly assassinated a year before in Warsaw. To Switzerland, then, come two young reporters — Ray Milland from London and Robert Cummings from the Paris office of a New York paper—to seek out the author of the world-rousing revelations.

They find romance with Sonja, perilous adventure and a hilarious good time in this exceptionally entertaining production.

OHIO

"Four Wives," sequel to last year's "Four Daughters," will have its local debut Saturday at the Ohio theatre. "Four Wives," in which Priscilla, Rosemary and Lola Lane, and Gale Page play the title roles, features the same cast as "Four Daughters," including John Garfield, who died in the original story. He returns in vision form in the new picture.

Others in the original family portrait who are prominent in "Four Wives" are Jeffrey Lynn, Claude Rains, May Robson, Frank McHugh, Dick Foran and Vera Lewis, the gossipy "gate-swinger" of "Four Daughters."

There's a new and very delightful addition to the family, too. Eddie Albert, the young comedy star of "Brother Rat," plays the young doctor for whom Rosemary Lane successfully sets her wedding bonnet in the film. Rosemary, you will remember, is the only one of the four daughters who didn't "get her man" in the earlier picture. Also added to the cast is Henry O'Neill, in the role of Albert's father.

Still other additions to the family tree are four girl babies. First of these to make her appearance in the film is the year-old child which is adopted by Lola Lane and Frank McHugh in the story. Then Priscilla gives birth to a girl baby, and Lola caps that by having twin girls.

"Four Wives" takes up the story of the Lemp family where "Four Daughters" left off. The two oldest daughters are already married, Priscilla, the youngest, widowed in the earlier film, is about to marry her first love, played by Jeffrey Lynn, when she learns that she's to have a baby by her dead husband. The fourth girl, Rosemary, puts on a matrimonial campaign, as mentioned above, with the help of all her sisters.

"Henry Goes Arizona" shows Friday.

LYRIC

If Charles Dickens had lived in the present era and had turned his talents to writing screenplays we imagine that the results might have been very similar to those found in Republic's "Main Street Lawyer," Edward Ellis starring vehicle at the Lyric theatre. Co-authors Joseph Krumgold and Robert Presnell are entitled to a large bouquet of Mr. Winchell's most select orchids for the vivid, down-to-earth, humaness of the characters they have woven into their compact screenplay.

Edward Ellis gives a brilliant performance in the role of a small town lawyer whose common sense and matter-of-fact decisions are similar to those of Solomon. Clem Bevans runs Ellis a close race for acting honors as the small town barber whose philosophy of life is wrapped up in catin', sleepin' and fishin'.

Anita Louise and Robert Baldwin furnish excellent romantic scenes that reach a new high in human interest. Margaret Hamilton, housekeeper deluxe, Harold Huber, Henry Kolker, Willard Robertson and Beverly Roberts turn in sparkling supporting roles.

The story of "Main Street Lawyer" is one so plausible that it might be the story of your next door neighbors. It centers about the life of a small town district attorney who becomes involved in a series of strange happenings when a gang of cut-throats are brought to trial in his court. How he eventually brings about justice, after he has been black-mailed from office, makes exciting and swift-moving entertainment.

"Sky Patrol" also shows.

SIGMA

The revenge of a group of luckless taxi-drivers on racetrack bookies provides the uproarious theme of Joe Penner's newest funfilm, "The Day the Bookies Wept," at the Sigma.

Believing they can beat the bookies if they own a race-horse, the cabmen form a pool and send Penner, also a hackman, against his wishes, down South to purchase a pony. Penner returns with a nag that is a confirmed souse, an addiction of which his optimistic sponsors are ignorant.

Because he is obliged to abstain from alcoholics, the steed under Penner's inexperienced training, loses steadily, and the odds on him increase accordingly. Comes the day when the track odds are 60-1 against the haybag. The tricksters who sold Penner the horse send a barrel of beer to the stable, and bet their last dime on him. But when the taxi drivers see the condition of the inebriated equine before the race, they are reluctant to bet on him. The hilarious race, and the side-splitting results which regard the cabmen's long-fostered desire to "make the bookies weep," is said to afford loads of laughs and excitement.

"The Return of Dr. X" starts Saturday.
