Thursday radio as a musical Wall street "sweeps up on all musical stocks," breaking your morning pleasantly with thirty minutes of descriptive music as brought to you by the American School of the Air, noon-time concerts you'll like, and the evening is studded with trios, ensembles and symphonies that will appeal.

"At the sound of the chime," 11:30 over KHJ. It will be exactly time to relax and listen to a music appreciation period, the American School of the Air. To illustrate the topic compositions the program will open with "The Storm" from Rossini's "William Tell Overture" and conclude with Ward's "America the Beautiful." As an added incentive, ten minutes of a science talk, "The Earth and Its Neighbors."

At noon—why not KHJ again? The La Forge Berumen musicale and then the United States Army Band, both Columbia high lights, always pleasing.

As the kids "get under your feet while preparing supper" let J. Warde Hutton's Coronado Ensemble drift through the house, while 8:15 tonight offers KFI with your regular Standard Symphony Hour.

That's but the half of it, with Bing Crosby, Alex Gray—KNX with a new laugh provoker, titled "Oh, Yeah"—and—

Well, it's just like being out loose in a Christmas toy shop—dash for the dial—
