Friday swings into the radio track bringing up to the front Fannie Hurst, the famous novelist, and the Jackson Day Dinner at Washington. And in addition you'll find a variety of offerings touching everything from politics to plays.

There are few who have not at one time or another grasped a pen and tried to "write a piece"—anything from a menu to a masterpiece. K H J at 11:30 o'clock this morning is to present Fannie Hurst. This will be an American School of the Air feature with Miss Hurst assuming the role of teacher. "Advice to aspiring writers—its requirements and training" will be the subject of her talk.

Considered as one of the opening guns of a Presidential campaign. KFI at 7 tonight is to release the annual Jackson Day Dinner, held in the Mayflower Hotel at Washington. You will hear addresses by Alfred E. Smith, John W. Davis and James M. Cox, former Democratic Presidential nominees. More than 1000 leaders of the Democratic party will attend—and fire may be found in many of the speeches.

Beginning today over KHJ at 1:30 p.m. the Times Forum will present each Friday Kyle D. Palmer, political editor of The Times. Mr. Palmer's broadcast will deal with important happenings in the political world, national, State and local. During the forthcoming Presidential campaign and the various State elections he will present his observations on the varying aspects of the country's political problems. With conditions throughout the nation changing at the wink of an eye readers will welcome this innovation.
