Dewey Opens Midwest Campaign Tonight on Air from Chicago

If Mary Livingstone hadn't got tired of doing nothing when traveling with Jack Benny soon after their marriage, she might never have turned professional. She began memorizing the lines of his stooge to kill time and, one day when the young lady hired for the role was sick, Mary, shown here, took over the job with such success that she became a permanent part of the act.

Dist. Atty. Thomas E. Dewey, New York, will start his midwest speaking campaign tonight in Chicago, with an address at 9:15 over stations WBBM, WGN, and WIND. Dewey will talk on the coming primary elections.

Coleman Women's Five Beaten, 50-6

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. — (U.P.) — The Little Rock Flyers, last year's runnersup, served notice Wednesday night that again they expect to furnish some of the toughest opposition in the Women's National AAU basketball tournament.

The flyers, awarded a first round bye, swamped a Coleman, Wis., team late Wednesday, 50-6, to enter the third round. The lopsided victory was made the more astounding because the Coleman team Tuesday night gained a decisive victory over the favored Jacksonville, Fla., entry.

Another upset came Wednesday when the Des Moines AIB outclassed the Colorado Springs Antlers, 27-15. The Des Moines Thompsons lost to Wayside, Tex., 15-14. Reydon, Okla., was eliminated in the second round by Quinlan, Tex., 24-23.

If a divorced woman finds herself at a social function as coguest with her former husband and his new wife, she greets them courteously and pleasantly, just as she does the other guests. Any display of animosity is out of place.

Cards Have Plenty Sockeroo, Are Uncertain Around Second Base

Following is the eighth of a series sizing up the major league clubs.

By HARRY FERGUSON

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.— (U.P.) —This is the home of the St. Louis Cardinals, the boys who are being picked by many persons to win the National League pennant, and you have to admit that there is plenty of the old sockeroo tucked away in the lineup Manager Ray Blades is putting together.

Now that all holdouts are signed and ready the Cardinals offer the best outfield in the league in Terry Moore, Ducky Medwick, and Enos Slaughter. Those guys can hit 'em and they also can go get 'em and almost any manager in baseball could find a place for any one of the three.

But when you get to the infield, you find deep wrinkles in Blades' brow. Johnny Mize, the .349 hitter, is a fixture at first base and little Don Gutteridge seems to have third base sewed up. But the middle of the infield is undecided. Jimmy Brown, last year's shortstop, probably will be moved to second base, and Martin Marion, a rookie from Rochester, will go to the shortstop position. But Blades is not committed to that setup and he may not make up his mind until the season starts. Eddie Lake from Houston, Joe Orengo from Sacramento and Bob Repass from Decatur are a few of those trying to make Blades change his mind about the shortstop and second base posts.

Curt Davis, Lonnie Warneke, and Mort Cooper will be back to carry the pitching load. Don Padgett and Mickey Owen may get some help in the catching department from Bill Delancey who is trying a comeback after a long illness.

Summing up the Cardinals:

Strong points—classiest outfield in the National League and plenty of power from Mize, Medwick, Slaughter, and Padgett.

Weak points—doubts about the middle of the infield and whether such pitching veterans as Davis and Warneke can last through a long hot, race.

Position last year—second, won 92, lost 61.

Things should be about the same this year for the Boston Bees. Manager Casey Stengel will make some swell wisecracks and the team will finish well down in the second division again.

Les Scarsella has the call over Buddy Hassett at first base in spring training and Hassett has been shifted to the outfield. Sibby Sisti, who divided last season between the Bees and Hartford, will start at second base and tiny Tony Cuccinello, a .306 hitter last season, has been shifted to third. This may be the season when Eddie Miller, a better than average shortstop, lives up to the promise he showed last year.

Max West is sure of his job in the outfield and Hassett will take care of another post. One candidate is Carvel Rowell, who had a fair record at Hartford in 1939. In addition, the veteran Johnny Cooney is still around.

Al Lopez will do a capable if not brilliant job behind the plate, but what Stengel is going to use for pitchers nobody knows. Lou Fette and Posedel, best men on the staff last season, are back but neither is exactly a 20-game winner. Jim Tobin, obtained from the Pirates, has been handicapped in spring training by an injury to his right heel.

Summing up the Bees:

Strong points—fair defensive infield.

Weak points—uncertainty over outfield; no pitching.

Position last season; seventh. Won 63, lost 88.

U. S. Indicts Unions, Construction Firms

LOS ANGELES — (U.P.) — The federal grand jury unsealed indictments Wednesday citing eight building associations, four unions, 38 corporations and individuals for alleged violations of the Sherman anti-trust law.

George S. Robinson, special assistant to Attorney General Jackson, said he had been investigating monopolistic practices in the huge southern California building trades industry since Dec. 15. Four secret indictments were returned altogether.

1,500 Sales Depots to Handle Fishing License

Wisconsin fishing licenses will again be on sale this year through numerous sales depots, Conservation Director H. W. MacKenzie said today, in explaining that the ruling that curtailed outlets for hunting licenses does not affect the handling of fishing licenses.

Hunting licenses can be handled through county clerks only, but in accordance with past practices, fishing licenses will be available at about 1,500 authorized license depots. Fishing licenses will be available in April with most seasons starting in May.

Under the revised Wisconsin law, every resident fisherman will need a state license in order to use more than one line or more than one hook. It is also necessary to have a license to use rod and reel.

U. W. Enters 21 in Speech Meet Here

The University of Wisconsin will be represented by 21 speakers in the annual Delta Sigma Rho invitational forensic tournament at the university Friday and Saturday.

More than 200 will participate in the event, sponsored by the Wisconsin chapter of the speech fraternity of the university speech department, and the forensic board, announced by Prof. H. L. Ewbank, of the speech department, who is making arrangements.

Wisconsin entries will appear in each of the five divisions. Eight men are entered in senior debate: seven men and a woman in junior debate: one each in oratory and after dinner speaking, and a three-man discussion team in that class.

The non-competitive after-dinner speaking class will provide entertainment at the closing banquet Saturday night.

Other Wisconsin schools which have entered teams are Marquette university, Carroll and Ripon colleges, and Platteville and Whitewater Teachers colleges.
