

SNAKE WILL BE RADIO FEATURE

Explorer's Pet Will Appear Before "Mike" Today

Interesting Music Promised in "Vignettes" Program

Councilman and Art Critic to Talk on Forum

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 1:30 p.m.
Councilman Davis: "City Affairs;" Arthur Millier, art critic of The Times: "What's Doing in Art."
 World-wide News, 7 a.m., 12:30, 5:20 and 10 p.m.

Everything from snakes to synopators will wriggle down the antennas today. From the moment

Ichabod, a genuine snake, broadcasts this morning until Leigh Harline provides soft organ music for insomnias at midnight there'll not be much cause to complain.

While on the quest of "flying snakes" in Mexico's jungles Paxson C. Hayes, adventurer, explorer, herpetologist and lecturer, found his pet snake Ichabod, which will appear before the Los Angeles Breakfast Club microphone (KFWB) at 8 a.m. Ichabod is no novice at the microphone. To hear a snake will unquestionably prove a novelty. There are other features on the program, but Ichabod gets the spot.

Raymond Paige, whose baton music magic is weaving each Wednesday night in "Vignettes" (KHJ at 8:45,) says "Vignettes" tonight will include "Marche Slave," the piano concerto, and excerpt from "Eugene Onegin." Berezovsk describes the opera "Eugene Onegin" as a woman with many faults of heart and character but whom we love for her beauty in spite of them all. Tschaiakowsky is lending his compositions tonight to a portrait of himself, with Anton Rubinstein, his tutor, a featured figure in the exposition.

The Times Forum at 1:30 will feature a talk by Councilman Davis, who will have something to say from the Councilmanic point of view as it relates to city affairs and their conducting. Also on the same period will be Arthur Millier, Times art critic, who will give a short address on "What's Doing in Art." Mr. Millier is not at all orthodox in his opinions, and like Mr. Davis may be expected to say something of pertinent interest.
