LAMP POST IS STOLEN, COP TAGS WIFE'S CAR; IT'S JUST SCREWY NEWS

By GLADWIN HILL

NEW YORK, April 1—(AP)—Somebody stole a lamp post. . . A cop tagged his wife's car. . . and a man was bitten by his own false teeth—and that's no April Fool!

It all happened in last week's international cavalcade of cockeyed occurrences, chronicled and catalogued herewith in your weekly goofy gazette.

The affair of the false teeth occurred this way: A Chicago man slipped off a bench, his store molars flew out of his mouth, richocheted off his forehead, and—just plain bit him.

The cop who had the nerve to tag his wife was Officer Guy Barnes of Rochester, Minn. Take a bow, Mr. Barnes!

The them of the lamp post occurred in Kansas City, and there just isn't any explanation. You never can tell—some Atlantic City, N. J., thieves stole enough sleeping powders to put away 30,000 insomniacs!

Dept. of delays. . . A snowbound Alpine, Wyo., family just got their Christmas cards' . . . A Kismundy, Ill., man paid for a train ride he took 20 years ago . . . And a Highland Park, Ill., man just got around to marrying a woman he proposed to 50 years ago.

A French soldier was discovered marching to the front pushing his equipment in a baby carriage. . . The 20 members of the Boston city council inadvertently cast 22 votes. . . And an Eastport, Md., hen on Easter laid an egg containing a yolk, a white, and—another egg!

Exasperation dept.: A St. Louis man got so sore talking to a girl on the telephone that he ripped out the receiver. . . A Newport News, Va., man got so mad waiting while somebody monopolized a pay telephone that he smashed the door in. . . And after snowplows repeatedly buried his mail box, an Ashland, Me., farmer nailed it onto a barn gable and put a ladder there—for the mail man to climb!

The New York City education board pronounced a teacher a fire hazard on the ground she weighed 275 pounds and was liable to block doorways. . . While a Washington policeman was reading an advertisement about a lost cat, the cat walked into the police station . . . And when a Muncie, Ind., man had a tree cut down so it wouldn't fall on his house, it—fell on his house!

In Cleveland, Miss., a prisoner in the jail there fashioned a revolver out of soap—and it DIDN'T fool the jailer.

HOSPITALS ARE PUT ON WHEELS

France Invents Mobile Units To Meet New Health Problems

CHICAGO, April 1 — (AP) — France has invented hospitals on wheels or "sanitary trains" to cope with the new health problems created by the European war.

Since disease is one of the dangers of modern war and regular hospitals aren't always conveniently located for care of epidemic victims and giving preventive treatment, the government is going to take the hospital to the patient.

The health-service-by-rail plan was described today in the journal of the American Medical-assn.

"Armies and the evacuation of large civilian centers constitute grave epidemic hazards," the journal's Paris correspondent reported.

"The government has decided to construct specially-equipped trains to meet the new situation. These trains have from 16 to 18 coaches and are divided into three sections—a hygienic welfare station, a laboratory section and a personnel-housing section."

The health section includes a tank coach furnishing sterilized water, another supplying heat and others for chaging clothes, disinfection and showerbaths.

In the laboratory section are coaches equipped for refrigeration, centrifugation, and sterilizing. The section housing the personnel has all the comforts of home.

"Mobility, adaptability and rapid applicability of prophylactic measures to a large number of persons are the characteristics of these sanitary trains designed for villages containing evacuated portions of the population, for troops in the field, for railway stations on the frontiers and for ports of entry where infections are found on shipboard," the report said.

DANCING SCHOOL STRIKES SNAG AT OHIO NORTHERN

(Special To The Lima News)

ADA, April 1 — It was a good idea while it lasted but the dancing school operated by Herbert Young and Freddie Ponessa has struck a snag with the Ohio Northern authorities.

The boysp tanned to work their way thru school teaching others how to "pick 'em up and lay 'em down" and started their careers auspiciously with several of the college students and high school pupils crowding in to learn the newest dance steps.

So great had grown their fame as teachers of grace that three professors and their wives came up for private lessons. The school had more students than it could handle and Messrs. Young and Ponessa were thinking of hiring more instructors to take care of the demand.

Then came the crash. Deans A. J. Potter and Audrey Kenyon Wilder decided that the dancing school was located in a spot where they could not keep a vigilant eye upon their charges and ordered it padlocked.

MASONS DANCE PLAN

WAPAKONETA, April 1 — Members of the local Hamer Masonic lodge will entertain their wives and friends at a covered dish luncheon and dance Wednesday evening in the club rooms. Dr. and Mrs. Riley Hardaere, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kohler, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Arnett and Mr. and Mrs. Harry VanSkiver are members of the committee in charge of arrangements.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pints of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 10¢ and 25¢. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

BUSINESS SLUMP LEVELING OFF

Production Appears More In Line With Consumption, Bank Survey Shows

CLEVELAND, April 1 — (AP) — The Federal Reserve bank reported today "the business decline in progress since December has shown signs of leveling off recently" and current production "appears to be more nearly in line with actual consumption than during the fourth quarter last year."

Each month the bank reviews business conditions in the Fourth Federal Reserve district—Ohio, eastern Kentucky, Western Pennsylvania (including Pittsburgh) and the West Virginia panhandle.

"Preliminary Ohio employment data show that general business activity has been maintained better than steel ingot production," the bank said. Steelworkers' earnings fell 12 per cent in February from the January level, but total industrial payrolls only two per cent; the number of steel workers was off four per cent, but total employment declined less than one per cent.

Bank debits (flow of money as recorded by individual checking accounts) for the four weeks ended March 29 were 11.5 per cent higher in the district than the comparable period last year. Reserve balances of member banks have increased 38 per cent over a year ago. While reserve requirements also rose, excess reserves climbed to 90 per cent of requirements, which vary in cities of the district.

The bank found retail trade advanced slightly less than seasonally in February. "Larger gains over 1939 were reported in the first three weeks of March, but most of the rise was caused by early occurrence of Easter." Fifty-two reporting department stores' February sales were 9.7 over February, 1939, while stocks were 10.1 higher. The 221 wholesale trade companies reporting had sales 12.1 per cent higher than February, 1939, and stocks were 6.7 above that month.

Fine Laugh Ingredients In Film Due Tuesday At Lyric

"They Asked For It" Half Of Double Bill Which Will Also Offer "Cisco Kid And The Lady"

Mystery, romance and laughter are the zestful elements combined in the entertaining film, "They Asked For It," commencing Tuesday at the Lyric theatre. A cast including William Lundigan, Michael Whalen, Joy Hodges and Isabel Jewell features the picture. Also showing Tuesday will be "The Cisco Kid and the Lady," with Cesar Romero and Marjorie Weaver. Showing for the last times Monday will be "Romance of the Redwoods" and "Inside Information."

Fred MacMurray and Barbara Stanwyck are starred in the Sigma feature, "Remember the Night," a fast-moving but nevertheless tender romance of unusual quality. The featured cast includes Beulah Bondi, Elizabeth Patterson and Sterling Holloway.

A courageous film in every sense is the Ohio picture, "The Story of Dr. Ehrlich's Magic Bullet," starring Edward G. Robinson in his greatest role. It is a colorful, romantic story which emphasizes the distinctly human side of the great scientist, Dr. Ehrlich, whose contributions to posterity place him among the immortals.

Gene Autry, top-flight singing cowboy, is starred with Jane Withers in the Quilna current attraction, "Shooting High," an exciting adventure of the wideopen spaces. The Jones family takes a fling at Broadway in the co-feature, "Young as You Feel," with Jed Prouty and Spring Byington heading the cast of Jones "regulars."

The "ol' Professor," Kay Kyser, makes his film debut in "That's Right, You're Wrong," now at the State theatre. With Adolphe Menjou and Lucille Ball, Kyser introduces to screen audiences the inimitable antics of his own performers, Ish Kabibble and Sully Mason, and the harmonious voices of Harry Babbitt and Ginny Simms. Also at the State is "British Intelligence" starring Boris Karloff.

Wallace Beery and Chester Morris tangle in a Navy story, "Thunder Afloat" at the Majestic, with Beery as the recalcitrant sea captain who has no room for discipline in his make-up, and Morris as the fighting naval reserve commander who becomes Beery's superior officers. Virginia Grey lends the romantic touch. Also showing is "Conspiracy."

OHIO

Following a long list of successful hits comes a picture that offers a new high in screen fare at the Ohio theatre. Many of the previous superlative hits have made screen history and now "The Story of Dr. Ehrlich's Magic Bullet," the current attraction, reaches a new high.

This picture is based on the life of Dr. Paul Ehrlich, the man who discovered cures for some of mankind's most dread diseases. As short a time ago as two years a picture of this present content would never have been made for the screen. With a fearlessness that has been grounded in the fight of United States Surgeon General Doctor Thomas Parran, Warner Bros. has fashioned a script which gives visual and vocal expression to the government's attempt to bring medical truth to light.

"The Story of Dr. Ehrlich's Magic Bullet" begins with Ehrlich's early attempts to positively identify and segregate the tubercle bacillus. In his work he is thwarted by overlings who are jealous of his skill, who disparage his ambition. Persistent to the point of his own personal ruin, Ehrlich forces his discoveries on the medical world, wins victory after victory when first the celebrated Dr. Robert Kath accepts his findings. His research leads him to a discovery for the cure of mankind's most dread disease. Here Ehrlich meets the blind and unintelligent outrage of gentility. The doctor calls a spade a spade—and people are horrified. This does not lessen his determination to give his cure to the world, altho convention dictated that the disease itself might never be named in audible terms.

"The Story of Dr. Ehrlich's Magic Bullet" is a courageous film in every sense. Yet, from beginning to end, it is colorful, romantic screen entertainment that emphasizes the distinctly human side of Ehrlich, his love for his home and family, his struggles against the petty jealousies and prejudices with which great men are always plagued in doing their work.

SIGMA

The much-awaited "Remember the Night," Hollywood's latest contribution to the gaiety of the nation, now showing at the Sigma theatre, last night, and it's great!

It's great because it's a perfect combination of director, writer and players in fact one of the happiest combinations this reviewer has seen in many months.

"Remember the Night" is a fast-moving but nevertheless tender romance of the type film-fare generally referred to as "sophisticated."

The story concerns itself with the efforts of a hard-boiled and ambitious young district attorney, played by MacMurray, to slap a calloused and beautiful lady thief, played by Miss Stanwyck, into the clink. MacMurray has a good case and it looks like a trip to the Big House for Miss Stanwyck—only the trial comes up the day before Christmas and you know how juries are on the day before Christmas, especially when the defendant is young and beautiful and her lawyer is an accomplished harpist on the human heart strings.

So, to save his case, MacMurray asks for a continuance until after the holidays. Then, the season being what it is, he goes bail for the girl to save her from spending her Christmas in jail. But the girl has no place to go! So MacMurray finds himself with her on his hands for the duration of her bail bond. There follows a series of situations and adventures which hits a new high in jollity, winding up with the d. a. pleading for the girl's hand and begging her to jump bail.

It's all grand fun, making up a picture which is motion picture entertainment of the highest order for the entire family.

The featured cast includes Beulah Bondi, Elizabeth Patterson and Sterling Holloway and to them, as much as to Sturges, Leisen, Stanwyck, MacMurray, et al, accrues the credit for this outstanding motion picture success.

There is a certain almost indescribable aura of charm about the whole film, which must be attributed to the expert direction, scripting and acting. It is friendly, sincere and employs no tricks. See "Remember the Night" for a real entertainment treat.

QUILNA

Ridin' shootin' and singin' together, Jane Withers and Gene Autry dash with a whoop and a holler thru many an exciting adventure in "Shooting High" the fast-moving action romance of the Western range, now at the Quilna.

Feuds, robberies and the quarrels of sweethearts keep Jane and Gene on the go all the time. Jane helps Gene round up a band of bank-robbers, break up a family feud and patch up a misunderstanding with the girl of Gene's dreams, in the person of Marjorie Weaver.

Four new melodies provide tuneful songs for Jane and Gene to sing. Gene has two solo numbers, "Only One Love in a Lifetime" and "Little Old Band of Gold," while together Jane and Gene make a top-notch team of balladeers in "Wanderers" and "Shanty of Dreams."

Among others prominently featured in the cast are Frank M. Thomas, Robert Lowery, Katherine Aldridge, Hobart Cavanaugh, Jack Carson and Hamilton MacFadden.

When Dad retires and heads the Jones Family toward Broadway, things are bound to happen and happen fast!

And they certainly do just that in "Young As You Feel," the newest and funniest of the comedies, also at the Quilna. Dad Jed Prouty turns jitterbug and Ma Spring Byington goes glamour girl and the result is fun that's tops.
