Power And Darnell Co-Star In Romantic Film At Lyric

"Daytime Wife" Is Gay Tale With Warren William And Binnie Barnes Heading A Strong Supporting Cast

Tyrone Power and Linda Darnell star in the Lyric feature commencing Tuesday, "Daytime Wife," the gay romantic hit of a young bride's solution of what to do about her husband's secretary. Featured in the cast are Warren William, suave business man, and Binnie Barnes, thrice-wed and experienced. Also showing is "Young As You Feel."

The story of "My Son, My Son!" now at the Ohio revolves around the dreams of two men who are life-long friends, the novelist, played by Brian Aherne, and the furniture designer, Henry Hull. Other prominent parts are in the capable hand of Madeleine Carroll, Louise Hayward and Josephine Hutchinson.

Ann Sheridan is starred in the Sigma feature, "It All Came True," with a supporting cast including Humphrey Bogart, Zazu Pitts, Una O'Connor, Felix Bressart and John Litel. The queen of "oomph" sings and dances in the role of night club entertainer, while Lynn and Bogart offer their special brands of romance.

Headed by Clark Gable and Joan Crawford, who deliver two of the strongest characterizations of their screen careers, an "all-name" cast of epic proportions is featured in the State attraction, "Strange Cargo." "Reno," co-featured, stars Richard Dix and Gail Patrick in a cinematic tribute to the man that made Reno famous.

OHIO

From schoolmarm to movie star! That is the history of beautiful Madeleine Carroll, who is starred as Livia Vaynol in "My Son, My Son!" the current attraction at the Ohio theatre.

Born in England of a French mother and Irish father, Madeleine was educated at Birmingham university, where she majored in diplomacy and established a brilliant record in the study of French. She ended her college career by taking a teaching position in a girls' seminary at Brighton. Here, Madeleine ran into an old friend, Barry Jackson, who offered her a stage contract with the Birmingham Repertory theatre. Madeleine jumped at the offer, but called it off when the pater familias objected.

However, the urge to act remained, and the young girls' next stop was London where her luck was meagre and where she modeled hats while seeking a stage job. She got her first "break" when Seymour Hicks hired her for his touring company. Then came a role on the London stage and an offer of a screen test. The latter brought the starring role in "Guns of Loos" and later a part in "The First Born." She was hailed as a new screen personality by the British public and on her way to substantial fame.

While in Hollywood, Madeleine lives in a small house at Santa Monica to be near the sea which she loves so much. Between pictures, she invariably journeys to England and the continent. In the way of sports, she likes boating, swimming, tennis and horseback-riding. Yachting is her hobby and reading and music her favorite recreations. She is an accomplished pianist.

She has had many screen successes, the most recent of which include "Cafe Society," "Honeymoon in Bali," "The Case Against Mrs. Ames" and the soon to be released "Safari."

In "My Son, My Son!" Miss Carroll shares star billing with Brian Aherne, Louis Hayward, Laraine Day, Josephine Hutchinson, Sophia Stewart and Henry Hull.

SIGMA

Humphrey Bogart is the last thing you'd ever expect to find in Hollywood, a contented actor.

Humphrey is perfectly satisfied with his villainous screen life and has no hankering for such heroics as would permit him luscious clinches with the leading woman in those final moments of the fade out. He explained why in the course of a gab-fest on the set of "It All Came True," the film showing at the Sigma.

"There has to be a villain for every hero and I'm perfectly happy to be the one the audiences hiss," he assures. "Besides there's more latitude in such parts and they're a lot of fun to play. Another thing, I don't have to be always worrying about camera angles. All of the villain's lines are plot lines, and it's pretty tough to cut them out of the picture and leave the story so that it makes sense. On the other hand the leading man is in a bad spot. He plays a love scene with the leading woman and you know very well the director, the cameraman and the editor are going to favor her when it comes to the pretty angles and the length of footage. Yes, I'll stick to these hard guy roles as long as they want me around Hollywood and I won't complain a bit."

Bogart's current assignment of toughness is played for comedy to some extent. With Ann Sheridan, star of the film, and Jeffrey Lynn, who plays the romantic lead opposite her, Bogart acts as the menace who keeps the course of true love from running smoothly for the very-much-in-love young couple, but he actually brings them together in the end.

Leaving England last fall, after completing his training as an air raid warden. Hidden is well qualified to talk on England's war preparations and the wartime conditions now prevailing in that country. His topic will be "England at War."

POSTOFFICE HERE GIVEN TOP RATING

Five post office inspectors have completed the annual inspection of the Lima post office with the result that the office was given a rating of 98.2 per cent.

Of the several hundred items on what is known as the irregularity sheet, only two minor checks were made. One related to the completion of statement of mailing forms by the mailer in ink rather than in lead pencil, and the other referred to the type of receipt used by city and rural carriers for registered letters.

The inspection covered the entire scope of post office activities including the post office in general, employes, city delivery, railway mail service, general mail matter, insured, C. O. D. and customs parcels, registry business, funds, money order business and accounts, postal savings, United States savings bonds, rural and star mail service, supplies and miscellaneous matters.

Referring to the high rating given the Lima office, Postmaster Earl R. Leach stated that credit was due employes of the office for their strict adherence to the postal laws and regulations and their close application to the vast amount of business handled locally.

The unusually high rating for the post office is reflected in the recent statement of Post Office Inspector in Charge, W. R. Briggs, of the Cincinnati division, that the average rating for first class post offices of Ohio for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1939 was 88.83. Briggs also stated that the average rating for all first class offices in the United States for the same period was 86.65.

The inspectors who made the annual inspection were: J. F. Cordrey, Lima; E. D. Claggett, Dayton; H. L. French, Marion; G. F. Ulch, Fremont, and S. P. McLaughlin, Coshocton.

OPERATIONS RESUMED AT SUPERIOR PLANT MONDAY

Operations at the Superior Coach Corp., plant were resumed Monday morning after nearly two weeks of idleness as more than 400 workers returned to their jobs.

The employes had been on strike since April 30. The strike was settled Saturday morning by agreement between the management and representatives of six A. F. of L. craft unions involved.

Painters Will Give Time For Demonstration

More than a score of union painters have volunteered to show Lima residents how rapidly a house may be painted when a group of first-class workmen are on the job.

The painting demonstration will be held Monday evening, May 20, as the opening gun in the 1940 Clean-Up, Paint-Up campaign, sponsored by the Association of Commerce.

The Lima Real Estate board is in charge of selecting the house. Lima paint dealers have offered to supply the paint and equipment necessary for the job.

"There is a great difference between a skilled painter and an unskilled, inexperienced one," said Alfred Murphy, A. F. of L. representative, who will direct the painters.

"Most everybody thinks he can do a good job of painting," Muhphy added, "but experience has proved that money be saved in the long run by employing a painter who knows his business and using a good quality of materials."

Local paint dealers report that there is evidence of an unusual interest in painting this year, and spring paint sales are expected to run considerably ahead of last year.

Mayor Frank E. McClain is general chairman of the 1940 Clean-Up, Paint-Up campaign. Four major objectives have been planned, a city-wide rubbish collection, the house-painting event Monday evening, May 20; accomplishment of specific clean-up and beautification projects by civic groups, and a publicity campaign designed to stimulate public participation in cleaning and beautifying the city.

The campaign will run from May 20 thru May 25. All business firms and individuals who have trucks that can be used in the rubbish collection are urged to call either Perry Snook city street superintendent, or the Association of Commerce office.
