Louis Johnson, War Department Aide, to Broadcast Tonight

Most artists in radio will get vacations this summer, but one of the exceptions is Virginia Payne, pictured here. The young star of "Ma Perkins" and "Carters of Elm Street" is so essential to the plots of both serials that the authors can't find any way of writing her out, even for a week.

Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war, and Leila Livingston Morse, granddaughter of the telegraph inventor, head tonight's guest list on "We, the People" at 7 over CBS-WBBM. Johnson will talk on "National Defense," while Miss Morse will speak before a drama on the first telegraph message is presented.

Sgt. Westfall Stationed Here for Recruiting

The United States Marine corps has stationed Sgt. Arthur Westfall here as a recruiting officer in Room 235, Federal bldg.

Westfall, transferred from the Chicago base of the marine corps, said he has had no definite recruiting quota for this area, but he expects to enlist about 30 men a month. Recruits will be sent to San Diego, Calif., for training.

Age limits for recruits are 18 to 25, or up to 30 if the prospective recruit is trained in a trade useful to the corps. Men must be from 5 feet 4 inches to 6 feet 2 inches in height, and must be single. Enlistment is for a four-year period, Westfall said.

Rain Puts New Life in Dust Bowl

By FRED BAILEY

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — An abundance of rain in recent months has converted the "dust bowl" from a scorched plain into green fields of corn, wheat, kaffir, and cotton, agriculture department crop officials reported Monday.

The "dust bowl" section of the southwest, comprising parts of Texas, New Mexico, Kansas, Oklahoma, and Colorado, from which huge, gray clouds of dust rolled eastward in recent years, now bears little resemblance to the same land a few years ago.

Weather bureau officials, however, cautioned that the change may be only temporary and that there is little likelihood of a permanent change in the climate. Parts of the "dust bowl" normally have about one "good year" in five, they said.

Drought and dust storms have plagued the 100,000-square-mile area since the grassy plains were broken for wheat during and immediately after the first World war. A steady stream of "dust bowl" refugees streamed out of the district from 1934 until this year.

Most of the "dust bowl" area was abnormally dry—even for that district—last fall and early winter. The rains, however, came early enough in the spring to provide good crops over much of the "bowl."

Youth Strikes Head in Dive, Collapses, Dies

MONROE—Four Clarno township farm youths were fishing Sunday about two miles northeast of Monticello.

Three of them decided to go swimming in the Little Sugar river. Valentine Zibung continued to fish.

About a block upstream Joseph Zibung, 18, was the first to dive from the bank. He struck his head on a rock, and clambered back to shore.

"That was a foolish thing to do, wasn't it?" he commented. "Please don't tell my brother."

A moment later he collapsed. A New Glarus doctor bringing him to a Monroe hospital found Joseph had died on the way.

He and Valentine had been operating the family farm since 1935, when their father was killed in an automobile accident. Joseph is survived by his mother, brother, and a sister, Mary Ann, all at home.

Services will be held here at 9 a. m. Wednesday at the Knight funeral home, and at 9:30 at St. Victor's Catholic church. The Rev. E. C. McCollow will officiate, and burial will be in the Calvary cemetery.

Nelson Claims He's Checking on State Probes

Sen. Philip E. Nelson (P., Maple), a candidate for governor on the Progressive ticket, was in Madison today attending sessions of the Wisconsin Conservation congress.

The senator, who is conducting an active speaking campaign around the state, said he was checking into the activities of Gov. Heil's research bureau in connection with recent investigations of the state highway and conservation departments.

Nelson will address Monroe county Progressives Friday night at Tomah at a meeting called by Assemblyman Alex L. Nicol (P., Sparta), secretary of the Monroe county Progressive organization.

Ericksen Denies Embezzlement Counts, Put on $500 Bond

Norman Ericksen, 41, of 535 W. Dayton st., was placed under $500 bond after pleading not guilty to three charges of embezzlement in superior court Monday.

Judge Roy H. Proctor set trial for July 16.

The complaint against Ericksen was signed by Urban Niesen of the Niesen Bros. Home Improvement co., from whom Ericksen allegedly embezzled a total of $160 on three occasions, May 2, June 1, and June 3.

Niesen said he had given Ericksen an opportunity to go to Chicago to raise the money, and that Ericksen had failed to do so. Ericksen was head of the sales force at the improvement firm, Niesen said.

June Water Pumpage Sets New Record

Daily average pumpage of water in June set a new record for that month, Supt. Leon A. Smith reported to the water board at the Madison club Monday.

Smith's report disclosed that during June the department pumped 286,488,000 gallons of water, or an average of 9,550,000 per day. The previous highest daily pumpage for June was 9,250,000 gallons in 1939. The rainfall the past month was five inches compared to 2.33 in June, 1939.

Smith said new consumers and a greater use of water for industrial purposes account for the increase.

The board voted to award to the Capitol Garage the contract for a Chevrolet sedan at a net cost of $545 and to the Kayser Motors Inc., contracts for three trucks, net costs of which are $589, $251 and $318, respectively.
