Kay Kyser To Appear Again On "Voice Of Broadway" Spot

Red Skelton And Co. To Present Half-Hour Of Comedy; Stokowski Will Feature American Composers

Kay Kyser, popular "professor" of the Kollege of Musical Knowledge, will pick up at "page 12" where he left off on last week's program when he makes his second appearance on Dorothy Kilgallen's "Voice of Broadway" broadcast, Tuesday at 6:15 p. m. over WABC.

Red Skelton and Company will take to the airwaves Tuesday, with a comedy half-hour titled "Troubles That Little Babies Have" on WEAF at 10:30 p. m.

Two American composers of the North and South, each representing a different period in the nation's musical development, will be included in Leopold Stokowski's third concert with the NBC Symphony Orchestra on Tuesday, at 9:30 p. m. over WJZ. Frances Nash, distinguished American pianist, will be featured soloist.

Handyman Fibber McGee, whose main hobby is winning contests, will tell in 25 words or less just why and how he intends to put Wistful Vista on the map as another Pittsburgh, during the "Fibber McGee and Molly" broadcast Tuesday at 9:30 p. m. over WEAF.

With the studio audience made up entirely of air corps cadets from Ontario, Cal., Bob Hope and his partners in nonsense will have an extra added attraction in the guest appearance of screen actress Brenda Marshall Thursday at 10:00 p. m. over WEAF.

Xavier Cugat and his orchestra, Miguelito Valdes, Carmen Castillo, Bert Parks and the exotic Margo will celebrate their last performance in the Windy City on Tuesday, at 8:00 p. m. over WJZ with a special rendition of "La Cucaracha" — probably in the Conga time, putting a swivel in the insects' hips.

Adventure Films Are Featured On Twin Bill Coming To Sigma

Betty Grable At Quilna In Tropical Setting; State Offers Screen Version Of Stage Success

A barrage of revolver fire is sprinkled thru the Sigma films commencing Wednesday as a comparative picture of bullet slingers of the East and West is offered in the double feature, "Bullet Scars," concerning the FBI, and "Come On Danger," an adventure of the cowboy land with Tim Holt in the starring role. Tuesday's concluding films are "Dumbo" and "Call Out the Marines."

"Song of the Islands," tropical fanfare starring luscious Betty Grable, is the dish at the Quilna theatre. Victor Mature, oft-labelled "beautiful hunk of man," has the necessary leading role, with Jack Oakie handling the comedy assignment. Other actors of note include Thomas Mitchell, Billy Gilbert and George Barbier.

"The Man Who Came To Dinner," screen version of the hilarious stage success of the same name, is the current fare at the State theatre, with Bette Davis, Ann Sheridan and Monty Woolley in the leading roles. Co-featured is "Design for Scandal," an entertaining bit of comedy about a judge, feminine variety, and a man who wanted to interest her in love. Walter Pidgeon and Rosalind Russell share acting honors.

Gene Autry cuts loose on "Deep in the Heart of Texas," as one of the feature spots of his new film, "Heart of the Rio Grande," now at the Lyric theatre. Smiley Burnette and Fay McKensie are the principals in support of the singing cowboy. Co-featured is "Freckles Comes Home," starring Johnny Downs, Gale Storm and Mantan Moreland.

LYRIC

Gene Autry is now at the Lyric theatre in "Heart of the Rio Grande."

If the film is as picturesque and colorful as its title, it cannot fail to ring the bell, featuring, as it does, a supporting cast of names such as Smiley Burnette, Fay McKenzie, Edith Fellows, Sarah Padden, Joe Strauch, Jr., William Haade and Pierre Watkin — not to mention the Great Autry himself.

The story places Gene as foreman of a ranch — the "Smoke River" — and as such he is pledged to protect the interests of the owner, Mrs. Forbes, who is the salty widow of a sea captain.

A group of girls from a swank eastern school, under the chaperonage of their teacher, attractive Alice Bennett (Fay McKenzie) come west to spend their summer on the ranch. One of their number, Connie (Edith Fellows) is a spoiled and precocious youngster whose only standard is money, and who habitually rides roughshod over all who attempt to interfere with her having her own way. Unwilling to go to the ranch in the first place, she proceeds to do everything in her power to make life so miserable for her schoolmates, her teacher and her hosts at the ranch that they will be glad enough to see the last of her.

But Gene, seeing that she is innately a nice kid at heart, sets about to improve her disposition and her sense of sportsmanship, and the ensuing complications provide most diverting screenfare.

SIGMA

Down on the Texas border in the eighties, lawlessness became so rampant that the courageous band of Texas Rangers, organized to preserve law, order and justice, wrote many an exciting page in American history.

It is into this locale and turbulent period that Tim Holt is plunged, in the role of Jack Mason, in his latest contribution to the exploits of western heroes, "Come On, Danger," at the Sigma Wednesday.

The situation is made unique by the odd mission upon which Ranger Mason is dispatched—to bring back a murderess instead of the usual male miscreant. Complicating the affair are the youth, charm and attractiveness of the suspect, her unmistakable signs of affection for her Ranger nemesis.

Thus romance becomes an intriguing strand in the fabric of peril, excitement, gun fighting and mystery against which the story is graphically depicted.

Ray Whitley, Lee "Lasses" White as Smokey and Whopper, Holt's two ever-present partners, and Frances Neal as the mysterious young murderess, head the supporting cast in "Come On, Danger."

* * *

QUILNA

Betty Grable, who is as blonde as they come, has finally gotten the break which all blondes dream of in her latest starring picture, 20th Century-Fox's "Song of the Islands," the technicolor musical which is delighting audiences at the Quilna theatre this week.

It is well known that every blonde actress waits for the day when she will appear in a cast composed of 99% brunettes and 1% blondes, the one per cent being the blonde herself. "Song of the Islands" gives Miss Grable her grand opportunity — in spades!

First of all, she is pictured against the lush, coffee and cream background of the South Seas, which makes her tresses stand out like a bottle of milk against black velvet. Her supporting cast, that is, the female contingent, are either native girls or made up to show long exposure to the tropical sun. Most fortunate is the fact that the picture is made in technicolor ruling out titians and semi-blondes who might photograph blonde in monochromatic film.

"Song of the Islands" boasts the co-starring talents of Victor Mature and Jack Oakie, and a supporting cast including Thomas Mitchell, George Barbier, Billy Gilbert, Hilo Hattie and Harry Owens and His Royal Hawaiians. Walter Lang handled the direction and William LeBaron produced the picture.

CITIZEN SAYS BLACKOUT CONSTANT IN PAHAQUARRY

TRENTON, N. J., April 7 — (UP) — Letter after letter was addressed to Pahaquarry-tp in Warren-co. State defense officials wanted to know what the citizens planned to do in case of a war emergency.

All inquiries went unanswered until the puzzled officials finally received the following communication from Minard Hamilton, the spokesman for the 72 unworried souls in New Jersey's tiniest town:

"We have no school, no police and a permanent blackout. If the enemy wants to waste ammunition this is a swell place to do it.

"I have the only telephone in the neighborhood and if you will give me a ring when you get a warning, I'll saddle my horse and warn the natives."
