Action Packed Films Start Thursday On State Screen

"Flying Deuces" And "Mobtown" Are Attractions; "Captains Of The Clouds" And "Four Jacks And A Jill" End Wednesday

"Flying Deuces" and "Mobtown" both jammed to the scuppers with the hue and hurrah of terrific adventure, will be proffered Thursday on the State screen. This brace of spine curlers constitutes fine film fare for man, woman or child. So come a-runnin'.

Until the presentation of the thrillers, that cockey Cagney opus of the upper regions entitled "Captains of the Clouds" and a pat-hand honey, "Four Jacks and a Jill" are showing at the State thru Wednesday.

The Lima lovely with the pleasing voice and personality, Helen O'Connell is in the cast of "The Fleet's In" at the Ohio and therefore shouldn't be missed. That satong slinger Dorothy Lamour slithers about the acetate quite some while Jimmy Dorsey and his band run interference.

It sounds like the answer to a jitterjumper's question does the combined title "What's Cookin'" with "Murder in the Big House" as the Sigma theatre's contribution to the entertainment world. Both films show for the first times Wednesday.

That ultra-ultra hypoteneuse of the eternal triangle proposition, Marlene Deitrich, does a gam glide at the Quilna theatre with the showing of "The Lady is Willing." Fred MacMurray plays opposite. That erstwhile cute little soul with the droll accent Freddie Bartholomew stars in the second feature, "Cadets on Parade."

A vividly hewn drama of an equally vivid career is portrayed in the still more vividly constructed technicolor picture "Belle Starr" now at the Lyric theatre. Randolph Scott and that deluxe charmer, Gene Tierney, swish thru the lead roles. "Sailors on Leave" likewise is presented.

Taking the long range view we also wish to announce that "Great Guns" a Laurel and Hardy silly-symposium will be cast upon the outdoor screen of H. E. Shock's outdoor theatre located south of Lima in Route 25, beginning Friday night.

QUILNA

This is the story of Marlene Dietrich's legs.

Of them we sing. Forget the owner.

No other nether nifties in history ever won their owner the household nickname "Legs." No others were ever drafted by a government, as when Uncle Sam recently sought La Dietrich's to popularize cotton hose. No others ever made a noise that went around the world, as when the right one, its ankle, snapped during production of Columbia's new comedy, "The Lady Is Willing," which co-stars Fred MacMurray at the Quilna theatre. Miss Dietrich's broken ankle was "news" to editors thruout the world, news which crowded even the war off the front pages of many a newspaper.

More than 50 boys recently were paid for having the time of their lives. They are the lads who portrayed military school cadets in "Cadets On Parade," which is now at the Quilna theatre. Much of the action in the film called for the young players to disport themselves on the athletic field of a local military academy.

They played football, hazed other youngsters, ran around the track and, in general, acted like a lot of youngsters thoroly enjoying themselves, which they were. Included in the large cast are Freddie Bartholomew and Jimmy Lydon, who play the featured roles.

LYRIC

Guaranteed to cure any case of war jitters, no matter how severe. "Sailors On Leave," now at the Lyric theatre, plays up most efficiently the lighter side of life in the armed forces.

With William Lundigan and Shirley Ross ornamenting the leading roles, the film unrolls entertainingly and cheerfully, with plenty of laughs and tuneful songs to add to its general spirit of "lift."

The story places Lundigan at the mercy of an army of waterfront beauties who have been placed on his trail by Bill's creditors on ship. The other gobs hold notes which he gave in return for loans they made him to get him out of a scrape in Manila, and two of his particular pals (?) played by Chick Chandler and Cliff Nazarro, as a gag start the rumor that we will inherit $25,000 provided he marries before his 27th birthday.

Lungidan is normally womanshy, and his discomfort increases as his creditors continue throwing girls at him in the desperate hope that he will fall for one of them, and thus qualify for the non-existant inheritance.

The film proceeds amusingly with Lundigan finally falling in love with Shirley Ross in spite of himself, and the troublesome matter of his loans being straightened out in a very satisfactory manner.

Chick Chandler, Cliff Nazarro, Mae Clarke, Ruth Donnelly, Jane Kean and Mary Ainslee all score in the supporting cast, and to Bill Shirley goes special praise for his splendid rendition of several new and catchy tunes.

DADDY MUST BE HAVING WONDERFUL TIME, SAYS MISSIONARY'S DAUGHTER

GRANVILLE, O., April 29—(AP) — The pretty 20-year-old daughter of Dr. Gorgon S. Seagrave, surgeon-missionary who rescued five native nurses imperiled by the advancing Japanese army in Burma, thinks her "Daddy must be having a wonderful time."

Told her father had driven a truck into the southern Shan states, to bring back the nurses, and removed three bullets from an AVG pilot who had been shot down, Miss Leslie Seagrave, Denison university senior, commented:

"This is the sort of thing Daddy has been waiting for all his life. He's always wanted action and now he's getting it. Daddy must be having a wonderful time.

"That sounds just like him and so does that business about driving with one hand and holding a revolver out the window with the other to scare anyone who tried to stop him even if he couldn't 'hit the broadside of a barn,' if he tried."

The family of the 42-year-old physician returned to this country recently and are living here.

Dr. Seagrave, born in Rangoon and a fourth generation missionary, has just been appointed a U. S. Army major attached to Lieut. Gen. Joseph P. Stilwell's command.

When the physician moved from Loilem to Pyinmana last month to take care of Chinese wounded from the Toungoon valley front, he operated on 150 cases in the first 36 hours, with no surgeons to help him.

MAN HAS BRUSH WITH DEATH AS HE HITS WIRE

George White, 36, lineman, employe of The Ohio Power Co., was reported recovering in Memorial hospital after he came into contact with a 6,900 volt transmission line north of Leipsic Wednesday morning. White was working with a crew on what is known as the firm's Leipsic-Deshler line.

Ohio Power Co. officials said they had not yet determined circumstances surrounding the mishap but would conduct an investigation immediately.

They reported White suffered burns on one finger and across the back. He soon regained consciousness and was brought to Lima in a Leipsic ambulance. He probably will remain at the hospital for several days.

Now conceded to be the tallest tree in the world is a 364-foot redwood standing in Humboldt State Redwood Park, Calif.

Riotous Edition Of Junior Miss Set For Wednesday Night

Shirley Temple Again Cast In Role Of Judy Graves; Ralph Morgan Will Be Guest Of Stella Unger

Judy Graves, played by Shirley Temple, and Judy's friend, Fluffy Adams, become newspaper publishers of the "Neighborhood Bugle" and scoop the world on a crime that rocks the nation and brings an army of irate "Bugle" readers to the Graves residence in another riotous edition of "Junior Miss" at 9 p. m. over WABC on Wednesday.

Inspired by tales of the famous Pulitzer, the two girls pick up a cast-off mimeograph machine and launch their careers with headlines that scream of a horrible crime committed by friends of the family, and the repercussion that results is enough to send any would-be young publishers scurrying to the quiet and peace of a boiler factory.

Ralph Morgan, currently starring on Broadway in Steinbeck's "The Moon Is Down," will be interviewed by Stella Unger when "Your Hollywood News Girl" turns in her report over WEAF at 6:30 p. m.

Morgan, brother of Frank and father of Claudia ("Thin Man"), is equally established on screen as well as stage. Among the films in which he has been seen are "Anthony Adverse," "The Life of Emile Zola," "Wells Fargo" and "The Magnificent Obsession."

In addition to interviewing Ralph about his return to the footlights, Stella Unger will crackle the kilyocycles with a full notebook.

A city editor solves a crime and brings the criminal to justice without so much as leaving his desk in "Murder and the City Editor," to be presented on "Author's Playhouse" via WEAF at 11:30 p. m.

John Larkin, leading man, will be starred as the city editor, "Windy" Blake, and the supporting cast includes Leo Curley as Lieut. Delavan, Reese Taylor as Ronald Wollestron, Ralph Camargo as Jim, and Barbara Fuller as Kay Burdon.

The radio adaptation by William Simpson, Texas radio playwright, is based on the short story by Carl M. Chapin, veteran newspaperman. Roy Shield will conduct the orchestra and Alan M. Fishburn will direct.

Bob Strong and his orchestra will salute Alabama Polytechnic Institute, the University of Missouri and Santa Clara university during "Uncle Walter's Dog House" at 8:30 p. m. over WEAF. The three schools will be honored with strong presentations of their own songs.

Little Mary Ann Mercer, vocal star of the program, will sing "I Throw a Kiss in the Ocean." Viola Troglo (Betty Arnold), advice to the lovelorn editor, will also be featured during the broadcast which will be supervised by Tom Wallace, as Uncle Walter.
