Blimp Sub Hunt Will Be Aired On "Youth Salute"

Gracie Allen Finds That Cereal Advertised "To Brighten Your Breakfast Table" Will Not Polish Silver

An incident from the never-ending but rarely publicized submarine hunt by Uncle Sam's lighter-than-air craft will be the "Service Story of the Week" to be featured on "Salute To Youth" over WEAF, Tuesday, 7:30 p. m., EWT. The drama, based on official records in Washington, will describe the ceaseless vigil of the "blimps" over the Atlantic sealanes, and the successful destruction of a Nazi undersea raider.

Gracie Allen makes the amazingly intelligent discovery that it's impossible to polish silverware with a breakfast cereal, despite the fact that it is advertised as a product "to brighten your breakfast table," in the Burns and Allen chapter on Tuesday at 9 p. m., EWT, over WABC.

The story of how the war's impact has inexorably changed the pattern of life in this bustling arms production center, a story typical of dozens of America's industrialized cities, will be told during the "This Nation at War" broadcast over WJZ Tuesday at 10:30 p. m., EWT.

The mystery of a crumpled transport plane, wrecked before it could take off with desperately needed airplane engine parts for the North Africa theatre, is investigated by safety sleuth "Jim Holmes," played by Santos Ortega, during the "Men, Machines and Victory" broadcast over WJZ Tuesday at 7:15 p. m., EWT.

Lieut. John F. Hasey, 26-year-old adventurer of Bridgewater, Mass., who has served four years with the Fighting French Foreign Legion and has won the Order of Liberation, highest Fighting French award, will be guest of Ginny Simms on "Johnny Presents" Tuesday over WEAF at 8 p. m., EWT.

Archie just refuses to be thwarted. Akim Tamiroff, radio and screen player, was scheduled to appear on "Duffy's", heard every Tuesday night over WJZ at 8.30 p. m., EWT, on Tuesday. Unfortunately at the last moment the movie star fell ill, and was unable to appear.

The hi-de-ho music of Cab Calloway and his orchestra will be featured on the "Victory Parade of Spotlight Bands" over WJZ Tuesday at 9:30 p. m., EWT.

Col. Serge Drasha, exiled aristocrat, will be charged with the murder of beautiful and mysterious Countess Olga, his companion in exile, during a case to be presented on "Famous Jury Trials," Tuesday at 9 p. m., EWT, over WJZ.

BIDS ON PUTNAM-CO ROAD JOBS TO BE TAKEN

OTTAWA, May 11 — The Ohio department of highways is receiving sealed bids on the job of resurfacing about seven miles of highways in Putnam-co, it was learned here today.

The bids will be received until 10 a. m., May 18, according to Hal G. Sours, state highway director. The improvements will be as follows:

Route 65, two miles, bituminous treatment; Route 115, 3.62 miles of bituminous treatment in one location, and Route 115, 1.35 miles of bituminous treatment in another location.

METEOR HOLE

Arizona's meteor crater is four-fifths of a mile wide and 600 feet deep, yet the diameter of the meteor that made it probably was no greater than 50 feet.

Bison meat was a main item in the diet of gangs building the early railroads in the west.

INDIANAPOLIS FIRM BUYS WAPAK PLANT

(Lima News Bureau)

WAPAKONETA, May 11—Sale of the local branch factory of the Degraff Food Co., formerly known as the Macke Canning Co., to the Lutz Canning Co. of Indianapolis, Ind., was announced today by E. G. Thatcher, manager of the Degraff Food Co.

Thatcher also disclosed the sale of another canning factory at Columbus Grove which for the past several years has been operated by his concern. Both the local plant and the Columbus Grove plant are to be operated under the name of the Lutz Canning Co., which also has plants in Arcanum and Defiance.

Paul Shrider and Garnet Amic will remain in charge of the local plant. Officials of the new company have not made any statements as to operating plans of the local plant which in the past year solely confined activities to the canning of tomatoes.

COSTS ASSESSED

Don W. Rex, a resident of The Lima City Mission, was assessed court costs of $6.85 upon his guilty plea in municipal court to a charge of disorderly conduct by using loud and profane language. Imposition of jail sentence was suspended for 30 days. He was arrested in a downtown cafe.

"The Falcon Strikes Back" At Sigma Theatre Wednesday

Jane Randolph And Tom Conway In Stellar Roles; "My Son, The Hero" Will Be Co-featured

Jane Randolph appears again as the girl reporter who takes more than a professional interest in the doings of The Falcon, famous detective, in "The Falcon Strikes Back," scheduled to open Wednesday at the Sigma. Tom Conway again is in the title role. Also opening will be "My Son, the Hero," with Patsy Kelly and Roscoe Karns. Ending Tuesday will be "Sherlock Holmes in Washington," and "Night Plane From Chungking."

Virginia Bruce is a streamlined Mata Hari who kisses at the drop of a military secret in "Careful, Soft Shoulders," spy thriller currently at the Lyric. She shares top billing with James Ellison. Second attraction is "A Night To Remember," a mystery-comedy starring Loretta Young and Brian Aherne.

Maureen O'Hara has a fighting dramatic role in "This Land Is Mine," currently at the Ohio. It's a story of the passionate drama going on behind the Nazi non occupation of Europe today and Miss O'Hara portrays one of the courageous people who never surrender. Walter Slezak and Una O'Connor also have leading roles. John Carroll, Susan Hayward, Gail Patrick and Eve Arden are enough to make a picture first class but "Hit Parade of 1943," currently at the Quilna has three famous bands. They are the orchestras of Freddy Martin, Count Basie and Ray McKinley. "Hi, Neighbor," with Jean Parker and John Archer, also shows.

Tuesday and Wednesday will be the final days for the showing of "They Got Me Covered," laugh riot at the State. Bob Hope is cast as a newsman who breaks a big story and lovely Dorothy Lamour also has a leading role. "Fiesta," also is showing.

"The Pied Piper," a first class picture, will open Wednesday at the Drive-in theatre with Monty Woolley in the lead role. "My Gal Sal," ends Tuesday.

QUILNA

Headlined by one of the most brilliant casts of personalities from screen and radio ever assembled for a single picture "Hit Parade of 1943," new musical comedy triumph, is at the Quilna.

Teamed together as a romantic duo for the first time in films, John Carroll and Susan Hayward play the principal roles, with Gail Patrick, Eve Arden, Walter Catlett, Melville Cooper, and Mary Treen importantly featured.

Very much in the spotlight are the orchestras of Freddy Martin, Count Basie, and Ray McKinley, introducing many brand-new songs.

It was Jean Parker's talent for painting that originally launched her on her screen career. The petite star, who appears in "Hi Neighbor," picture now showing at the Quilna theatre, won a poster contest, and thru the contacts made in this manner she became a model. Film stardom was but one step from her modeling career.

SIGMA

A detective's efforts to clear himself of a robbery and murder charge by capturing the real criminals forms the basis of "The Falcon Strikes Back," due Wednesday at the Sigma.

Tom Conway has the title-role of the suave sleuth who finds himself up against the toughest problem of his career when a gang of crooks frame him. Harriet Hilliard, Jane Randolph and Rita Corday have the principal feminine roles. Maurice Geraghty produced the exciting film.

A great quartet of comedians appears in the comedy, "My Son, The Hero," which opens Wednesday at the Sigma theatre. They are Patsy Kelly, Lois Alberni, Maxie Rosenbloom, and Roscoe Karns.

Here is a team who are so quick on the ad lib stuff that you could throw them in front of a camera and just let them go — and they would come up with laugh-provoking lines. It happened several times in rehearsals that one of the four started to ad lib, and the resulting dialogue was so funny that the director re-wrote the script right there, and made it a part of the actual scene.

Patsy Kelly and Roscoe Karns are the featured players in this laugh riot of a returning war hero.

LYRIC

The most mirthful murder mystery to hit the screen in recent years is at the Lyric theatre. It is delightful "A Night to Remember," co-starring Loretta Young and Brian Aherne and it richly deserves its Hollywood acclamation as "something new in laughter."

"A Night to Remember" is a gay and giddy story of a young married couple who, between kisses, hunt killers. As Nancy and Jeff Troy, who move into Greenwich Village in search of "atmosphere" and instead find a corpse and an assorted collection of peculiar characters, the co-stars leave nothing to be desired. Both are brilliantly at home in sophisticated, blithely wisecracking roles, both are easy to look at, both are extremely talented; together they make a thoroughly enjoyable co-starring team.

Jeff is a novelist, a writer of mystery stories. When a corpse is found in the Troy backyard, Jeff immediately falls under police suspicion. In order to clear himself and completely unaware that he is considered much too timorous to have been the murderer, the writer goes man hunting . . . and winds up in another gal's arms!

Nancy, for her part, wants to know what kind of clues her husband thinks he's hunting; and being inquisitive, she manages to complicate their domestic life to an extremely engaging effect. Nor can Nancy be particularly blamed for suspecting her spouse, what with a smoldering brunette like Gale Sondergaard floating around, and an amorous blonde like Lee Patrick!

Other players in the stellar supporting cast are Jeff Donnell and William Wright; Sidney Toler, as a persistent detective who justifiably wants to know who drowned who in Nancy's bathtub; and Blanche Yurka, Donald MacBride and Richard Gaines.

Virginia Bruce and James Ellison find comfort in each other's arms after a breath-taking encounter with some trigger-fast Axis spies in the new spine-tingler, "Careful, Soft Shoulders," now at the Lyric theatre.

OHIO

A colorful, musical funfilm "Happy Go Lucky," is headed this way, due to arrive Friday next at the Ohio theatre with Mary Martin, Dick Powell, Betty Hutton, Eddie Bracken and Rudy Vallee among those present.

The five stars sing, dance and make merry to the tune of five hit songs, namely, "Happy Go Lucky," "Let's Get Lost," "Murder, He Says," "The Fuddy Duddy Watchmaker" and "Sing a Tropical Song." In the singing they are ably aided and abetted by Sir Lancelot and his Calypso Songs. If you're not yet a Calypso fan, you will be after you see "Happy Go Lucky."

The picture tells the laugh-filled story of a fortune-hunting Miss (Mary Martin) who arrives at a resort island in the Caribbean on board a luxury cruiser and pretends to be the daughter of a millionaire. It's her idea that it's a lot easier to land a goldfish by using her own gold as bait. Unfortunately, her own gold doesn't last too long. Dick Powell and Eddie Bracken, a couple of happy to lucky beach boys, help her in her campaign to snaffle millionaire Rudy Vallee. By the time Vallee is safely on the hook, however, Mary is head over heels in love with Powell, and vice versa.

Filmed in gorgeous technicolor, "Happy Go Lucky" is said to radiate good cheer and vacation fun. It's intended to take your mind off war and gloom and to that end offers you a sunny playground where laughter, song and infectious comedy add up to "Happy Go Lucky." Very active in providing all three, is the vivacious, blonde Betty Hutton.
