BERLIN RELAXES BLACKOUT RULE

(By The Associated Press)

A partial lifting of all bombed Berlin's blackout—in the early morning and evening—was announced today by the Berlin radio.

The broadcast offered no explanation, but the German capital receives warnings well in advance that night bombers are approaching due to the long flight across occupied territory and Germany.

OHIO FLIER IS KILLED

DENVER, Oct. 4—(AP)—Sgt. Howard J. Lawler, whose father, Harry M. Lawler, lives at West Union, O., was one of 11 Army airmen killed in the crash of a Liberator bomber near Bailey Thursday night, Lowry Field officials reported. A 12th occupant of the plane bailed out and suffered only minor injuries.

TRAFFIC LIGHT IS INSTALLED FOR RUSH HOURS

Installation of a traffic light at Fourth and Metcalf-sts has been completed and is now in operation, according to O. C. Kohli, division engineer of the department of Highways.

Automatically controlled, the light operates as a traffic signal from 6 a. m. until 8 a. m.; from 3 p. m. until 6 p. m.; and from 10 p. m. until 1:00 a. m. between the traffic signal hours the light operates as an amber caution warning.

A lighted green arrow indicates a left turn for traffic south-bound on Metcalf and is so arranged that the turn will not conflict with north-bound traffic, Ray Andrews of the Department of Highways Traffic and Safety department, under whose supervision the light was installed, pointed out that no left turn should be made until indicated by the green arrow. The straight thru arrow indicates thru traffic only.

The four phase type light will facilitate the handling of the congested war plant traffic originating in Tank Depot, Westinghouse, Locomotive and The Ohio Steel plants.

Jack Benny, portraying a modern scrooge, is the star of the current Lyric attraction, "The Meanest Man in the World," with Priscilla Lane as the leading lady and Rochester stealing the honors as comedian. Roy Rogers and his intelligent piece of horseflesh, Trigger, appear in "Silver Spurs," and William Henry is the star of "False Face," completing the program.

Returning to the screen of the Ohio theatre Tuesday is "Du Barry Was a Lady," the Hollywood version of Broadway's popular play. Red Skelton, Lucille Ball and Gene Kelly are the stars. Attention is focused Monday on the lovely lines of Ann Corio, star attraction of the stage play booked for a day's stand.

The gay blade with the roguish tongue, Monty Woolley, has an ideal role opposite Gracie Field in the new comedy hit, "Holy Matrimony," now at the Quilna theatre. Warren William heads the cast of the second attraction, "The Lone Wolf."

Cary Grant and Laraine Day—as a gambler and a social aristocrat—are caught in the strange pattern of events that make up the entrancing story of "Mr. Lucky," now showing at the State theatre. Dennis O'Keefe and Margo appear in the co-feature, "The Leopard Man."

The acme of mighty muscles, Tarzan, is the principal character of the new Drive In film, "Tarzan Triumphs."

A tribute to the contribution of Texas A. and M. to the U. S. Army, "We've Never Been Licked" is the current attraction at the Sigma theatre. Richard Quine and Anne Gwynne are the stars. Also showing is "Report From the Aleutians."

LYRIC

Hilariously disguised as a starving lawyer bent on making good in the worst sort of way, Jack Benny is currently making 'em roll in the aisles at the Lyric theatre, where he arrived yesterday starred as by fair—"The Meanest Man in the World."

The immediate cause of docile Jack's transformation is pretty Priscilla Lane, his home town sweetheart. The remote cause, but apparently not remote enough, is Mr. Benny's worldly-wise right hand, a young man by the name of Rochester.

At the out set, Jack is his old genial self, starving but satisfied until Priscilla's pop puts thumbs down on him because he's a failure. Priscilla, says Pop, will not marry Jack until he makes good in a big way. Which means, says Rochester, Benny's got to turn over a new leaf.

Continuing from there, the romantic minded Rochester convinces Benny that, in this world the kind-hearted perish and only the unsentimental survive. Hmm says Benny, seeing the light—hmm. And with this terse manifesto, he resolves at once to become "The Meanest Man in the World," if that be necessary to win fair Priscilla's hand.

From here on in hold on to your sides!

QUILNA

If you'd like to see a wild and Woolley-Fields day of fun and frolic—and who doesn't, these days—don't miss "Holy Matrimony," which is now at the Quilna theatre.

For when he of the pointed beard and double-jointed tongue—Monty Woolley—gets together with that lovable lady of laughter and song—Gracie Fields—there's bound to be an uproar! And that's the way it is thru the new comedy hit, according to advance reports.

As you might imagine from the title, Kid Cupid draws a bead on bewhiskered Monty, and before he knows it he's together with Gracie in a rose-covered cottage—with a laugh for every single shingle on the roof.

To Producer Nunnally Johnson goes the credit for much of the hilarity in the film, for in addition to the responsibility of filming the picture, he wrote the screen play from Arnold Bennett's famed "Buried Alive." And he made certain that the film was peopled by superior actors well known in Hollywood.

DR. DEXTER WILL BE AWAY TILL TUESDAY, OCT. 12TH.

COMEDIAN TO APPEAR DESPITE LEG INJURIES

Despite recurring trouble from an old leg injury, Eddie Foy, Jr., one of the headline attractions of the stage show at the Ohio theatre Monday, is appearing with the show, W. J. Elliott, manager, announces.

Foy's injury has necessitated the elimination of some of his routine, but to avoid disappointment to Lima fans, he offered to include as much of his act as he could without aggravating the injury.

Foy is the son of the famous comedian of pre-World War I days. He has spent the last few years in Hollywood, handling comedy roles in pictures. In "Yankee Doodle Dandy," involving characters of a bygone stage era, he portrayed his father.

Appearing in the stage production with Foy is Ann Corio, of "How to Undress With Finesse" fame. She is a veteran of the New York bald-headed row.

Herb Miller's band, with former Lima-ite Frankie Schenk at the piano, furnishes the music for the production.
