HEAR FROM PRISONER

KENTON, Dec. 28 — Mrs. E. E. Jackson, mother of Maj. Calvin G. Jackson, local surgeon, now a prisoner of the Japanese government, received word Monday from him stating that he was in excellent health. He was taken prisoner at the fall of Manila in 1941. The letter came thru facilities of the Red Cross. He was with the U. S. Army Medical corps.

Sigma's Musical Comedy Features Dorothy Lamour

"Riding High," a musical comedy now playing at the Sigma, really keeps you riding high on the heels of mirth and good entertainment. Dorothy Lamour offers several good songs in the technicolor hit which also stars Dick Powell and Victor Moore. Also playing on the twin billing is "The Underdog."

Bette Davis has another hit in "Old Acquaintance" now screened at the Ohio theatre.

Rosalind Russell again scores in the sole splitting comedy "What a Woman" now showing at the Quilna.

"Sky's the Limit" and "Spitfire" are now co-featured at the State.

Local movie fans may now see two great cowboy stars at the Lyric, where Gene Autry is starring in "Boots and Saddles" and Roy Rogers, king of the cowboys, stars in "Idaho" on the double billing.

QUILNA

Rosalind Russell, starring in "What a Woman!" now at the Quilna theatre, says if she ever owned a studio of her own, she'd pay less attention to stars and more to writers.

"The writer would be head man, as far as I was concerned. I'd give him a special vitamin tablet every morning, put cushions behind his back, pat him on the head and ask him if he was quite sure he was happy.

"The screenplay's the thing, I believe. If a scene is written right, it will make a great actor out of any one. And not the greatest star on the screen can overcome a bad scene. I won't attempt a scene or dialogue I don't think is right."

Co-starring with Miss Russell in "What A Woman!" is Brian Aherne, and heading the list of featured players is Willard Parker. The writers involved are Erik Charell, who wrote the original story, and Therese Lewis and Barry Trivers, authors of the screen play.
