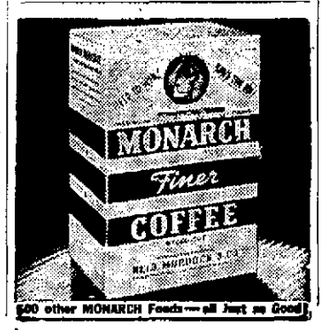
Relief At Last For Your Cough

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

CREOMULSION for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis



SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK By R. J. Scott

OCD Director, Goodland Praise Defense Council

The praise given the Wisconsin Council of Defense by John B. Martin, acting director of the Office of Civilian Defense (OCD) at Washington, was "highly pleasing," Gov. Goodland said today.

Martin Thursday lauded the Wisconsin council for its "patriotism, initiative and resourcefulness," in speeding distribution of veterans mustering-out application blanks through civilian defense county chairmen.

Goodland added his appreciation of the civilian defense workers by saying that every such worker in Wisconsin "has my warm respect for duties being performed in the protection of the home front." The governor expressed the opinion that civilian defense "has many important jobs to do as long as the war lasts."

Insurance Alliance Elects Madison Men

FOND DU LAC—(U.P.) Val Thoeny, Fountain City, today headed the Wisconsin Association of Mutual Insurance Companies, after his election here at the group's annual meeting.

C. H. Wanner, Almena, was elected vice-president, and A. J. Rammer, Sheboygan, secretary-treasurer.

Rammer also was elected president of the Wisconsin Mutual Insurance alliance; E. A. Seehafer, and James E. Kennedy, both of Madison, vice-president and executive secretary, respectively, and Theodore R. Schmidt, Kewaskum, secretary-treasurer.

Seal Drive Passes Goal

Purchases Here Rise 25% Over Last Year

Madison citizens bought more Christmas seals last year than ever before, putting the Anti-Tuberculosis seal drive over the top with a 25 per cent increase over 1942 purchases, Mrs. George R. Holdhusen, general chairman for the Madison Tuberculosis assn., said today.

The state association had set as its goal a 25 per cent increase in seal sales, and Madison exceeded that goal, Mrs. Holdhusen said. Truax Field personnel contributed $806 alone, and business firms and organizations bought 177 bonds ranging in value from $5 to $100 as against 91 bonds sold in 1942.

Mrs. Holdhusen said the response to the annual appeal was particularly gratifying because there has been a rise in tuberculosis cases during the war period. All beds in sanitoria are filled and there is a waiting list. Of the funds contributed, 50 per cent goes to the state association, of which 5 per cent is sent to the national organization. The remainder remains in the city for use here.

Among the business firms, organizations and unions purchasing bonds were:

Badger Liquor store; Business Service bureau; Cain-Ashcraft Co.; Castle and Doyle; Chocolate shop; Cities Service Oil Co.; DiSalvo's Spaghetti house; Dizon Paper and Supply; the Flame; Fritz Construction Co.; W. Roosevelt Defends Plans for Arabian Oil Pipeline

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) —Pres. Roosevelt Friday defended plans for this country to build a $165,000,000 oil pipeline from Arabia to the Mediterranean.

Reserves in this country are being depleted, he said, and the Arabian project is a forward-looking safeguard for the future.

He denied, during his news conference, reports that the Cairo and Tehran conferences involved discussion of a proposal for an Anglo-American - Soviet program for worldwide sale and distribution of petroleum products.

Mr. Roosevelt said this report was a shot in the dark and not true.

A LITTLE SATURDAY TALK: THE EARTH'S PATH

A question about the earth's path around the sun appears in this letter:

"Dear Uncle Ray:

"I am a constant reader of your column and think it very interesting. I am puzzled by one thing which I should like to have you explain.

"They say the earth is closer to the sun in winter than in summer. All diagrams which I have seen show the earth at one end of the ellipse in December, and at the other end in June. Then wouldn't the earth be the same distance from the sun in summer as in winter?

"I would be very grateful if you would explain this.

"Your faithful reader,

"Leo H. Bernard."

If we were judging by certain diagrams, you would be quite right about this matter, Leo. People who make diagrams are not always careful to show the exact truth.

In the first place the earth's path around the sun is fairly close to being a circle. The greatest difference in the earth's distance from the sun is less than three and one-third per cent.

In the long trip which the earth makes, the difference amounts to about 3,000,000 miles. The average distance of the earth from the sun is 93,000,000 miles.

The earth does not move in a true ellipse with the sun always at the center. The sun gets to be "off-center" during the mighty circular journey which the earth makes each year.

Here are the approximate distances of the earth from the sun on certain dates:

Mar. 21—93,000,000 miles
June 21—94,500,000 miles
Sept. 21—93,000,000 miles
Dec. 21—91,500,000 miles

You may be able to make your own diagram with the figures I have given.

How can we be closer to the sun in winter than summer? That is a question which people in South Africa and Australia do not ask. In their hot weather period, the sun is closest, and in their winter the sun is farthest away.

In the northern hemisphere, it is the other way around. The tilt of the earth's axis gives us slanting sun rays in December and these do not warm our part of the world so well. Also the sun shines on us longer each day in summer than in winter.
