The Fellowship of Prayer

Prepared by
GAIUS GLENN ATKINS

COMFORT AT LAST: "And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes." Revelation 7:17. Read Revelation 21:1-5.

The New Testament ends with the vision of a tearless order "coming down from above." It is still a vision unfulfilled but the assurance that our human sorrows are a divine concern is the secret of all comfort. The promise that tears can be greatly stayed is a blessed hope. For their flow has been so endless; more, a wise teacher once said, than the four oceans. Sorrow and loss will always be the portion of life; and the tears of natural and expected loss are not too bitter.

ATKINS

But the tears we cause ourselves—and they are like the four oceans are different. God's ministers of comfort are kindness, sympathy, mutul help and a tenderness which causes no needless tear. The hands of love and goodness are, here and now, the hands of God to wipe away the tears of time. For the end of all tears we can only wait until the sorrowing find their comfort beyond this vale of tears.

PRAYER:

"O Joy that seekest me through pain,
I can not close my heart to thee;
I trace the rainbow through the rain,
And feel the promise is not vain
That morn shall tearless be."
In His Name Whose tears are our healing. Amen.
