'Wilson' Tells Great Love Story Of Illustrious Man

To many movie-goers whose only view of the White House has been in newsreel flashes of handshaking celebrities in the executive offices, the lovely white columned buildings on Pennsylvania-av may have seemed more like an institution than a home.

Now, the White House has been brought alive as the scene of a great romance, a setting for a love story as powerful as its principals were illustrious. The film is the technicolor production, "Wilson" acclaimed as the crowning triumph of 50 years of screen entertainment, and opening for a return engagement at the Quilna theatre.

Unforgettable is the term which may most-assuredly be applied to "Valley of Decision" the film now showing at the Ohio theatre. The film is as alive and real as life itself and is one picture you will want to see. Greer Garson adds to her laurels with this human story and Gregory Peck proves himself an actor in every sense of the word.

If you'll remember "Frenchman's Creek" then you'll remember the hero—Arturo de Cotdova. He's back in an altogether different role that will thrill you to the tips of your toes. This is more than a love story, tho that is poignantly told with humor and pathos subtly interwoven. It is, beyond that, the story of the hopes and aspirations of the little people of the world as typified by the "paisano" of southern California. The film is "A Medal For Benny" opening Saturday at the Sigma theatre.

Fun is something that people seldom get enough of but one thing is certain and that is the picture at the State theatre will provide enough fun and enjoyment for all for a long time to come. "Pillow To Post" has Ida Lupino in a role which is the funniest screen role she has had to date and one which marks the beginning, everyone hopes, of some more comedy roles for her.

Frances Langford is currently appearing in "Dixie Jamboree" at the Lyric theatre. Frances is in her prime when she gives out with some numbers which will simply send you.

Hollywood's first movie was made in 1909. It was "The Sultan's Power."

SERVICEMAN ASKS DIVORCE

CANTON, Aug. 3—(AP)—In a suit for divorce on file in Stark-co common pleas court today, Clayton E. Mason, a Massillon serviceman, claimed his wife, Lucile of Salem, Va., used part of her government allotment to take flying lessons instead of providing properly for their 21-month-old daughter. The Army Air Forces man charged gross neglect. He asked that his father be given temporary custody of the child and that he be given permanent custody.

Doolittle's Blazing Career Medal Of Honor Show Topic

The dramatic life story of Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, who climaxed years of history-making flights by leading the first bombing raid on Tokyo and thus winning the Congressional Medal of Honor, will be heard on "Freedom of Opportunity" Friday at 8:30 p. m. over WOR.

Gen. Doolittle recently made newspaper headlines when he announced that the first week in August he and his Eighth Air Force, which helped flatten Germany, would again be attacking Japan soon.
