Musical Score Best Ever In Current Lyric Film

From the many movie spies stationed at various vantage points in the film capital, known as Holywood, comes the report that "Tonight and Every Night" is not only lush with big production numbers but that the musical score is the best ever.

The story of this film currently showing at the Lyric theatre deals with the heroic and stoic tenacity of a group of English show folk who keep their theatre open for the boys' entertainment during the worst days of the London Blitz.

The tender love story of a couple who, because of the war, could not carry on a normal married life, is told in "You Came Along" with Robert Cummings, Don DeFore, Charles Drake and Lizabeth Scott, and currently playing at the Ohio theatre. "Rhapsody In Blue," the film which tells the life story of George Gershwin, will be premiered at 11 p. m. Thursday at the theatre. This is an advance showing of the film which will be shown later at regular prices. Tickets for the premiere can be purchased now at the box office.

"Junior Miss" with Peggy Ann Garner is the film which kept audiences in proverbial "stitches" and is continuing to do so at the Quilna theatre. When a young lady unavoidably sees her dad put his arm around another girl—supposedly a friend of the family's—her mind begins to work overtime. Sharing the billing is a murder mystery, "Caribbean Mystery."

What a combination—Van and Bogie—all on one bill. Maybe it seems too good to be true but just the same, that's the case in the Sigma theatre. Van Johnson is starred in "Born For Trouble," while Humphrey Bogart can be seen with Ann Sheridan in "It All Came True."

Last summer snow would have seemed very comfortable but now that things are becoming a little on the chilly side of its own volition, snow doesn't seem so good. In the film "Christmas In Connecticut" you can see all the snow you want and it's several feet deep—in fact, it's deep enough for sleighs. The picture is currently showing at the State theatre and stars Dennis Morgan, Barbara Stanwyck and Sydney Greenstreet.

Chester Morris and Nancy Kelly have the romantic leads in "Gambler's Choice" now showing at the Allen theatre. "Tarzan's Desert Mystery" and "Minesweeper" will open there Wednesday.

"Roughly Speaking" Done Anew For Radio Theatre

Rosalind Russell and Jack Carson recreate their film roles in the lively domestic comedy, "Roughly Speaking," for the Radio theatre at 9 p. m. Monday over WABC.

"Roughly Speaking" is the autobiography of a spirited New England woman, Louise Randall Pierson, who looks at her life thru rose-colored glasses and with an unfailing sense of humor. She says she didn't get what she wanted out of life, but has had a lot of fun trying, and is completely happy.

The right answer brings a bundle of cigarets to lucky GIs on the Bob Hawk fun-for-all quiz "Thanks to the Yanks" heard at 7:30 p. m. Monday over WABC. In addition to smokes garnered for servicemen on the quiz, Hawk will send cigarets to convalescing Yanks at the U. S. Army Stark General hospital, Charleston, S. C., and Fletcher General hospital, Cambridge, O.

Vox Pop, first radio program admitted on the grounds of the U. S. Naval Academy, returns for its third broadcast at the world's greatest naval school at 8 p. m. Monday over WABC.

Parks Johnson and Warren Hull will interview midshipmen who will be commissioned officers of the fleet and the Navy Air arm. The program will be held just two days before the official celebration of the midshipmen of the Academy's 100th anniversary.

"The Vanishing Elephant" finds famed detective Sherlock Holmes and the good Dr. Watson in India in the latest episode of "The New Adventures of Sherlock Holmes," heard at 8:30 p. m. Monday over WOR. The Maharajah of Parburtipur has brought Holmes and Dr. Watson to India to solve the problem of a sacred white elephant that has disappeared. Holmes solves the problem, but not before the Maharajah and one of his servants have been murdered.
