Tobey Builds Up Anti-Pauley Case

Ickes Levels New Solicitation Charges

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — Sen. Charles W. Tobey, (R.-N. H.), used the senate naval affairs committee's one-day recess today to build up his case against Edwin W. Pauley's nomination as navy undersecretary.

Tobey requested the delay in the Pauley hearing because some of his witnesses were unable to appear. When hearings resume Thursday, Pauley is expected to have a chance to answer new charges by Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes.

Ickes said Tuesday that Pauley tried to "give something for something" in soliciting funds while he was treasurer of the Democratic national party.

'Rawest Proposition'

Ickes also said that Pauley's alleged effort to quash a suit to establish federal title to oil-rich tidelands in return for Democratic campaign contributions was the "rawest proposition ever made to me."

Pauley denied the charges. He said that Ickes was "mistaken and got the wrong interpretation concerning raising the money."

Ickes testified that Pauley was so insistent in his efforts to have the federal oil suit stopped that he brought up the subject while on the official car returning from the funeral of Pres. Roosevelt at Hyde Park.

Puts Purse First, Charge

Earlier, Tobey had charged that Pauley had "placed his own pocketbook above the public welfare."

He charged that Pauley "did everything in his power," in his former role of Democratic national treasurer, to block federal suit for title to Tideland oil and to win support for legislation giving such title to the states.

The suit was filed, however, and is pending before the supreme court. The house, on the other hand, passed legislation, now before a senate committee, to give the states the tideland oil title sought by the federal government.

Hearings Ordered on 2 Nominations

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — The senate banking committee Tuesday ordered hearings on two of Pres. Truman's important nominations.

They are Commodore James Vardaman, Jr., St. Louis, to be a governor of the federal reserve system, and George E. Allen, Washington, to be a director of the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

The committee decided to appoint a five-man subcommittee to take detailed testimony on the Vardaman nominaion. Sen. Forrest C. Donnell, (R-Mo.), said he wanted to call about 10 witnesses from St. Louis to testify about the receivership of the Vardaman Shoe Co. of St. Louis and "also the Tower Grove Bank and Trust Co."

Allen's nomination will be considered by the full committee Thursday, when witnesses will be heard at the request of Sen. Charles W. Tobey, (R-N. H.)

Raw Material Carriers Ruled Not Tax Exempt

Transportation by private motor carriers of raw materials to be used in the manufacture of farm machinery does not entitle them to exemption from weight taxes, Atty. Gen. John E. Martin ruled today.

Martin, in an opinion for Motor Vehicle Commissioner Ben Marcus, said that although truckers carrying "parts" of farm machinery are exempt from the tax, the carriers of raw materials are not.
