Court Clerk Charged in Embezzlement

MILWAUKEE — (U.P.) — Francis Frohwirth, 43-year-old employe of the clerk of circuit court's office, was charged Wednesday with embezzling $1,111 from the millions of dollars that passed through his hands yearly.

Frohwirth, arraigned in district court, was reportedly earning $140 a month, plus a cost-of-living bonus. His attorney, Cornelius P. Hanley argued that Frohwirth, who handled more than $2,000,000 each year, found "it just too great a temptation."

Hanley told the court that Frohwirth "was hungry when he took the money in 1945," and said that the clerk had been allegedly earning less than some janitors in the safety building.

Judge Harvey Neelen set bond at $250, and continued the case until Feb. 5.

Frohwirth was arrested after he had passed a $120 check that proved worthless.

France has ordered 500,000 tractors for its farmers.
