Pharmacy Fraternity Initiates 11 Men

Dr. E. E. Snell, associate professor of bio-chemistry at the University of Wisconsin, was guest speaker Wednesday night when Rho Chi, honorary pharmacy fraternity, met in Kennedy Manor for initiation.

Initiates were Howard Bauhs, Charles Dahl, Edward Freihammer, Donald Hall, Rolf Johnsen, August Lemberger, Carl Lintner, Juan Maldonado, Eugene Parrott, Oscar Peckarsky, and John Schultz.

Speaking on "Vitamins and Micro-Organisms," Dr. Snell told of the discovery, isolation, and medical value of some of the important vitamins.

In this country as late as 1930 pellagra caused 7,000 deaths and 100,000 hospital cases annually, Dr. Snell said. Discoveries in the vitamin B substances, however, steadily brought the disease under control, he said, to the point where today there are not enough cases for clinical study.

Young said the new train was expected to be ready to run in 1949.

Woman Wins Divorce from 'Stranger' Mate

Amelia D. O'Connell, 42, of 1321 Morrison st., was granted a divorce on grounds of desertion Friday in circuit court from George E. O'Connell, 42, Chicago, former Madison clothing merchant.

Mrs. O'Connell told Judge Alvin C. Reis her husband "acted like a stranger" when he returned from army duty in China. She stated he refused to live at home with her, and wandered back to say hello once in a while.

Before the war she told the court they were very happy, but toward the end of the war her husband wrote fewer and fewer letters.

When O'Connell returned to the United States after V-J Day, she said he didn't let her know about his return until he casually walked in the door.

'Bowlitis' Breaks Out Today in Four Non-Critical Cases

(By United Press)

The post-season college football disease known as "bowlists" will break out today in the Little Rose Bowl, the Texas Rose Bowl, the Boys' Ranch Bowl, and the Grape owl—a sizeable offering but hardly to be compared with New Year's Day when some 28 bowl rivals will clash.

Chaffey J. C. of California and the Cameron, Okla., Aggies, two of the nation's most powerful junior college teams, meet in the Little Rose owl at Pasadena, Calif., and were expected to draw about 70,000 spectators.

An expected crowd of 14,000 will watch College of the Pacific play Utah State in the Grape Bowl at Lodi, Calif. college of The Pacific also will play Wichita in the Raisin Bowl on Jan. 1.

Tyler Junior College and Compton, Calif., J. C. will meet before an expected 14,000 in the first annual Texas Rose Bowl game at Tyler, Tex.

The Missouri Valley Vikings, unbeaten and untied in 30 games, take the longest winning streak in the nation against McMurry College of Abilene, co-champion of the Texas Conference, in the Boys' Ranch Bowl at Abilene, Tex.

Wanted by Police, Man Held in West

Kenneth F. Darling, 27, Albuquerque, N. Mex., who has a warrant issued against him for five counts of unlawful entry in Madison since October, 1946, is held by Berkeley, Calif., police on similar charges.

Darling was seen in Madison early one morning in September, 1946, by Policeman Russell Kiley, but was not detained when he produced a billfold full of identification and told the officer he was a new University of Wisconsin student.

Later the same day, reports of unlawful entry were reported from Langdon st. homes, and Darling was suspected by the descriptions.

Detective Capt. Harry L. Milstad said he wrote the chief of police at Albuquerque, and heard that Darling had been in jail there.

After photographs were received and Darling definitely identified as the burglar, the warrant was issued here on Oct. 7, 1946.

Capt. Milsted received a telegram from the FBI saying that Darling was being held in California. He was arrested Nov. 30.

No plans have been made for prosecution of Darling in Madison, Capt. Milsted said, until police in Berkeley take action.
