Bassick Cagers Trip Central in Overtime

Seamon Brilliant as Lions Battle to 4th Straight Win, 44-39.

By JOHN JOHANSEN

Just as they did Tuesday night against Harding, the "comeback kids" of Bassick High school fought their way from behind in the last fleeting seconds to tie the score last night and then turned on the gas in an extra period to defeat Central 44-39, for their second straight overtime victory on the Bassick court.

It also was the fourth successive triumph of the season for the Lions—earning them undisputed leadership in the city championship series and Fairfield County "A" conference race—and ended a string of four Central successes. Central Coach Ed Reilly used only one substitute in attempts to keep the Hilltop winning streak alive

Seamon Is Standout

Lanky Gus Seamon again turned out to be the outstanding player in action and rolled up a total of 28 points, seven in the tail-tale extra period, with the aid of sharp passing on the part of his Bassick team-mates.

Bassick's goose appeared to be definitely cooked with less than a minute and a half left of the last regulation period when Julio Pereiro and Lou Saccone sank successive field goals that returned the lead to Central, 36-33 With only 45 seconds to go, George Bingoni converted a foul shot and the Hilltoppers commanded a four-point advantage Then husky Bob Dienes, cool Bassick guard, popped in a long range set shot and 15 second later tall Bob Wollert tapped in a field goal during a mad scramble to even the score at 37-all as Lion adherents whooped with joy.

Lions Tally First

Directly after the opening tap-off of the extra period Seamon took a brisk pass from "Yash" Rynkiewicz right under the Central hoop and set Bassick ahead with a layup shot Lou Falco, Central guard, drove all the way down the court soon afterwards to tie the score again at 39-39 Seamon, however, turned the tide in Bassick's favor with 1:15 remaining when he dribbled in for a field goal and was fouled going up by Falco Seamon also made good his free throw, his first connection in nine charity attempts, to sew up the game. He connected for a final field goal shortly before the finish, directly after the Lions had taken a time-out.

Tempers flared, twice in the final minute of the overtime session and players of the two teams tangled, but the hostilities were quickly broken up with no damage done

Bassick overcame an early Central lead due to Seamon's firing and had a 10 to 9 edge at the first quarter turn. Bingoni put Central in front just before the half ended, 17-16. The lead changed hands three times in the third quarter with Bassick ahead, 28-27, when the period ended. It was a see-saw struggle through the first seven minutes of the last regulation period

The preliminary game was an equally tight battle with two free throws caged by Bergman 30 seconds from the finish earning the Bassick Jayvees a 33-31 verdict over Central's junior varsity.

BARGAIN PROGRAM

DETROIT—(AP) Lawrence Tech's basketball fans find more in their programs than a sketchy pair of lineups. Dick Frederick, publicity man for the school, publishes a special newspaper for each of the Blue Devils' home games, with the usual program statistics, plus feature stories and pictures on the team and visitors and information on the rest of the nation's basketball squads.

Ludlowe Team Rallies in Final Period to Down Harding, 40-34.

A fighting Royal Ludlowe High school team came back strong in the final period to down Warren Harding's Presidents 40 to 34 in a Fairfield County "A" conference battle at the Ludlowe gym in Fairfield last night.

Behind throughout the first three periods the Fairfield lads paced by the 13-point shooting of Ted Ivanko, came on with a rush in the fourth quarter while holding the Presidents to a mere four points to win their second contest in six starts

By periods Harding had a 10 to 9 lead when the first quarter ended; 17 to 14 at half-time and was still ahead 30 to 25 when the last period got underway Don Hankel was next to Ivanko in the Ludlowe scoring column with 10 points while big George Tarasovic played a hang-up game for the East Siders, tossing in 18 points.

In a preliminary contest the Ludlowe Jayvees topped the Harding Jayvees, 44 to 37 with Wall starring

Milford Tops Seymour In Rough Battle, 44-37

MILFORD, Jan 9—Milford high school's cagers won their third straight game of the season and second straight in the Housatonic Valley league by defeating Seymour, 44 to 37, here tonight.

The game was a hotly contested affair from the start with a total of 41 fouls called In the final period the action was so furious that Milford lost the services of Bill Samuelson leading scorer of the contest with 17 points, due to a bad cut over his right eye that required three stitches to close.

Capt Tom Lavery who went out on fouls in the third quarter, was second high man for the victors with eight points while Larkin of Seymour who also went out by way of fouls in the fourth quarter played the best for the losers

NEW BRITAIN TEACHERS TOP WILLIMANTIC, 52-37

WILLIMANTIC, Jan. 9—(AP) The New Britain Teachers defeated Willimantic Teachers, 52-37, at basketball here tonight

Except for a few minutes in the opening period the visitors held the lead throughout, enjoying a 26-14 half-time advantage. Forward Bill Dietrich, with a total of 19 points, and center Bill Massa with 14, paced the victors

GREER EMPTIES BENCH AS U-CONNS WIN, 63-29

STORRS, Jan. 9 — (AP) Coach Hugh Greer emptied his bench tonight as the University of Connecticut basketball team overpowered the University of Maine, 63-29, in a tuneup for tomorrow night's game with Rhode Island State here.

The Uconns gained a 22 to 11 half-time margin, holding Maine to three field goals and then caught fire. Connecticut held the Maine team to five points in the third period, limiting the invaders to a single field goal in the first 10 minutes of that period

Sports Trail

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK Jan 9—(AP) Working on the theory that if you whip the bell cow into line, the others will follow quite docilely, some of the major league baseball clubs are signing their big-money stars first this year

This is a direct contrast to procedure in other years when the little guys were signed first and then, either for publicity purposes or because no effort had been made to dicker with them, the stars were brought into line with apparently great trouble, and incidentally great ballyhoo

Babe Ruth an Example

Babe Ruth was the shining example of the delayed action bomb The Bambino usually was one of the last to sign his holdouts being good for teams and reams of publicity, climaxed by triumphant photos of the great man seated at a table under the Florida palms and putting pen to paper while Jake Ruppert and Ed Barrow looked on happily

Even Joe DiMaggio tried the hesitation waltz at one time Joe even hesitating until after the season opened, with a consequent depression of $1,500 or so in his pocketbook

This year DiMaggio was the second Yankee to sign, and word from Boston is that Ted Williams, the Mr Big of the Red Sox, has agreed to terms without quibbling. Ewell Blackwell, who might be expected to be the big-money man of the Cincinnati Reds, also has his name on the line but the Reds never did have much trouble with holdouts

This psychological switch on the part of the clubs probably will have beneficial results, although when it is rumored that the stars got substantial raises it gives the little men the argument that they should be treated likewise

However the little men feel less secure in their jobs and knowing that the big fellows have signed they might get the idea that the club might figure it could get along without them When you have the big fellows on the line you can fill in the minor characters, but without the big fellows a club just can't get along

Anyway, the more prosperous clubs apparently are in a generous mood although Billy Evans at Detroit has intimated there might be a little shrinkage in the Tiger payroll

We aren't worrying too much about the contract signing. We have an idea every club will be able to put nine men on the field opening day

Free Substitution Upheld

The football coaches committee has recommended only minor changes in the rules and naturally enough has ignored the substitution rule

College football coaches' jobs in a vast majority of cases depend upon their ability to turn out winning teams with fair consistency.

Naturally, as teachers they feel they know more than their pupils and if through their superior knowledge they can win games it is only natural that they protect the rule which makes it possible for them to make use of this superior knowledge

The free substitution rule enables them to call the plays at crucial spots, and if that takes some of the game out of the hands of the players, that's just too bad After all, the coach must win to hold his job and if he can win by sending in subs with the play to call, that's what he's going to do

Eliminating free substitutions might in some instances cost victories through the calling of the wrong plays by the pupils The coaches hardly could be expected to recommend any rule change which might interfere with their regular eating
