Modest Maidens

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

By HASKIN

A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Long Beach Press-Telegram Information Bureau, 315 Eye St., N. E., Washington 2, D. C. Please inclose three (3) cents for return postage.

Q. What is the smallest mammal in the world? E. M.

A. Shrews are the smallest mammals. They are so tiny that they may be kept in a small glass jar.

Q. How does Washington, D. C., compare with other American cities in respect to number of telephones per 100 persons? N. I. K.

A. San Francisco ranks first among all the large cities of the world with 44.48 telephones for every 100 people. Washington comes second with 41.08.

Q. Where were "soldiers of fortune" first known? V. E. K.

A. During the frequent wars which occurred in Italy before the military profession became so generally prevalent in Europe, it was usual for men of enterprise and reputation to offer their services to the different states that were involved. They afterward extended their services and, under the title, "soldiers of fortune," fought in any country or state that would pay them.

Let's Explore Your Mind

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Answer to Question No. 1

Women, chiefly because women have had to bear and rear the children, which has made family life a necessity. As Prof. E. W. Burgess shows in his new book, "The Family," it was children and not love which brought about marriage and the family, but the family life could not be carried on without the sympathy, tenderness and good manners of the mother. Man has been the fighter and provided, women the chief builder of manners and character.

Answer to Question No. 2

More certain. When England had 200 crimes punishable by death, crime was rampant. But since only one crime, murder, has had the death penalty, crime has greatly decreased. Statistician Louis I. Dublin has shown that the eight states of the U. S. that have abolished the death penalty, have the lowest crime rate.

Answer to Question No. 3

No. First impressions are important but are colored by emotions, fears, prejudices. In one experiment 1450 college students were given an Intelligence Test, and then given a chance to take "second thought," and change their answers. This raised their scores decidedly. An executive often seems to be making snap decisions, but he has usually done a lot of analytical thinking beforehand.

THE TREND

WE HEARD a young business executive, who is an officer and the manager of a sizable business concern, say in private conversation the other day: "I've called our board of directors together for a meeting tonight to try to convince them that management is worth as much as labor. With the last union raise, the foreman of our shop is now making $10 a week more than I am!"

Unusual? Not so unusual in these unique times. Through continuous union pressure, labor has arrived at an unprecedented position in the structure of wages and salaries. Where will it end, and how?—Omaha Daily Journal-Stockman.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY

I HAVE often written up hands showing the fallacy of doubling when it discloses high cards and warns declarer of your holding, so that he makes a contract he would not have made otherwise.

Today's hand, taken from the recent national championships tournament, works the opposite way—failure to double spots an important card. I like the logic employed by Fred Kaplan of New York in making his doubled contract and an overtrick.

Kaplan (South) trumped the opening spade lead with the three of clubs, and immediately led a small heart, which East won with the ace. East returned a small diamond and West's jack forced out dummy's king.

North: ♠ 8 7 5 4 ♥ K ♦ A K 7 ♣ 10 9 7 6 5
West: ♠ A K J 3 2 ♥ Q 8 3 ♦ Q J 6 3 ♣ K
East: ♠ Q 10 9 6 ♥ A 9 6 2 ♦ 9 5 4 ♣ 8 2
South (Dealer): ♠ None ♥ J 10 7 5 4 ♦ 10 8 2 ♣ A Q J 4 3

Tournament—E-W vul.

South	West	North	East
Pass	1 ♠	Pass	2 ♠
3 ♥	3 ♠	Pass	4 ♠
5 ♠	Pass	Pass	Double

Opening—♠ K 10

This play marked West with the queen of diamonds.

Now Kaplan started to reason out the situation. West had made a vulnerable bid and had rebid. His opening lead showed that he held the ace and king of spades, and the diamond play marked him with the queen and jack of diamonds.

Kaplan's five-club bid was obviously just a sacrifice bid. Why had West not doubled it? After a careful review, Kaplan decided that the reason West had not doubled was that he held the singleton king of clubs. A double of five clubs would have marked him with the king, and therefore it would be worthless to attempt the finesse in clubs. By the very fact that West did not double Kaplan decided that the king was blank.

So he led a small club from dummy and went up with his ace. Now he proceeded to make six, as he was able to establish the jack of hearts for the discard of dummy's seven of diamonds, allowing him to ruff his losing diamond.
