Program to Stress Youth

A program of "Evangelism With Our Children" will be given Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock in Knights Chapel of First Baptist Church by Miss Margaret Poe, director of Christian education for the church. It will continue the School of World Friendship study.

"Parents of young people will be interested in this program," Miss Poe says, as she will "stress the nuturing of the child in the home and church school to the point he or she will be prepared to accept Jesus Christ as Savior, and then to guide him or her in Christian growth."

Miss Poe received her A. B. degree from Colorado State College of Education, and later her M. A. and bachelor of divinity from Berkeley Baptist Divinity School where she received honorary mention for Christian education work. She has had experience as a public school teacher and served in Richmond in her present work before coming to Long Beach.

MARGARET POE

Holy Name Union Communion Set

Long Beach parishes will be represented among more than 3000 Holy Name men from the 221 branches in the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Los Angeles, who will receive holy communion at the 12th annual Holy Name mass in St. Vibiana's Cathedral, Los Angeles, on Jan. 25. Most Rev. Joseph T. McGucken, administrator of the archdiocese, will be the celebrant of the mass. The men will offer their communions for the late Archbishop John J. Cantwell, under whose guidance the Holy Name Union grew from a few hundred to the present organization of 150,000, and at the close of the mass special prayers for the eternal repose of his soul will be intoned from the foot of the altar, in which the entire congregation will join.

Arrangements have been made for 1200 communicants to have breakfast at the Biltmore Hotel, where a special program of music and speeches will be given under chairmanship of J. Howard Zieman. "God Is Democracy" is the theme for the breakfast program.

Education Topic

"Higher Education Day" will be observed tomorrow at North Long Beach Christian Church, according to the pastor, Rev. Harry J. Hill. Wayne Bennett will speak about Chapman College, Los Angeles. Rev. Hill also will speak on "The Crisis in Higher Education." At the 6 p. m. service there will be reports on the midwinter conference of young people.

Seattle Evangelist

Lennard Darbee, evangelist of Seattle, Wash., will come to Long Beach to conduct meetings at Berea Baptist Church, it was announced by the pastor, Rev. Dan D. Barrington. "Evangelist Darbee is noted for his brilliant mind, ready wit and many happy gifts of personality, as well as a discerning heart," Rev. Barrington said. "He preaches the word, and is yearning for a great revival."
