Two more broadcasts have been scheduled for presentation from the Wisconsin Centennial exposition.

James Melton's "Harvest of Stars" will be aired there Wednesday, Aug. 4, with Elvita Clementi, Milwaukee soprano, as guestar. The program also will include a dramatization (with Milwaukee actors) of a little-known story about Solomon Juneau, Milwaukee's first citizen. The show will be broadcast by CBS-WBBM at 7:30 p. m., Madison time.

MELTON

The major portion of the National Farm and Home hour will come from the exposition Saturday, Aug. 7. Speakers will be Gov. Rennebohm, Dean Ira L. Baldwin of the University of Wisconsin college of agriculture, Manager Ralph Ammon of the exposition, Margaret McGuire ("Alice in Dairyland), and Marvin Schweers of the U. S. soil conservation service.

This program, with Everett Mitchell as master of ceremonies, will be broadcast at 11 a. m. on NBC-WMAQ and at noon on NBC-WIBA.

Eve Arden's new "Our Miss Brooks" (CBS) may replace the Kay Kyser show in the fall.

ARDEN

Comedian Herb Shriner has been optioned to fill a six-week period on CBS between the Danny Thomas and Jack Carson shows.

Mutual's "Johnny Modero" will return to the air in the fall with Brian Donlevy in the title roll.

Look for Phil Baker to come back as a comedian rather than as a master of ceremonies.

Ginger Rogers Takes On Role Judy Can't Fill

By EDITH GWYNN

HOLLYWOOD — It's worse than a shame — what's happened with Judy Garland, who is so very ill. "Easter Parade," which she and Fred Astaire recently finished, and which is cleaning up wherever it's playing, made her doubly glad that they were to be teamed again in "The Barkleys of Broadway"—from which Judy has just had to withdraw because of her complete nervous collapse —her third in the past three years. This time, it will be months before the Garland gal can return to the screen. Judy has been replaced, as you may know, by Ginger Rogers in "The Barkleys." Astaire balked at this at first, because he and Ginger have been planning an independent picture together and he figgered this might take the edge off it. But when Metro offered him Ann Miller (who towers over him) as an alternate partner in the film, he gave in—but quick.

Stewart Granger, the British star, is all set for a new movie, a play, and a wedding—all with Jean Simmons, the lovely Ophelia to Laurence Olivier's Hamlet.

The Van Johnsons are so livid about Sheila Graham's "report" that their marriage is floundering that they're demanding a retraction from Mutual Broadcasting—"or else". They tell us Miss G. also opined out loud that Clark Gable would choose between Dolly O'Brien and "Slim" Hawkes soon. "Slim Hawks ??*!? Is she clowning? Anyone who knows the whole situation (or Clark well knows that is strictly chum stuff —nothing more.

Felix Feist huddling with Carleton Alsop about the possibility of Sylvia Sidneys starring in "Shadow of Time," which Feist scripted and will direct for Gibraltar.

Finished with his stint in the star-studded "Words and Music" at MGM, Perry Como has gone back to New York.

Audrey Young and Billy Wilder are still a thrill—for each other.

Many top Hollywood names are investing in the $80,000,000 chain of hotels that Pan American Airways is building in Latin American capitals. The chain, however won't be "linked" and ready until 1952.

Dennis O'Keefe is having himself a siesta at Malibu after a fierce shooting schedule this past year. He has four more pictures lined up to do between August and the end of October.

O'KEEFE

The King brothers, who announced a few months ago that they wouldn't do any more gangster pictures, are about to produce "Gun Crazy," the Mac Kinlay Kantor thriller. Barry Sullivan will be starred in it.

Robert Stack calls those peasanty, off-the-shoulder waists the gals wear. "Pleasant blouses" . . .

Little Mona Freeman will get star billing for the first time in "Streets of Lareda" at Paramount.

Jack Benny, who with his troupe opened at London's Palladium a few days ago, has broken all existing records in the history of that place! Even topped the figures piled up by Danny Kaye and Tony Martin recently.

Those glamorous gowns on Marlene Dietrich in "A Foreign Affair" (for her singing numbers) are the same ones she wore when she entertained the boys overseas — and at the Hollywood Canteen here.
