ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

By HASKIN

Q. Did Lindbergh carry mail on his solo flight to Europe in 1927? M. D.

A. Lindbergh did not carry mail on this flight.

Q. In the Civil War period were there legitimate theaters in the national capital? R. H.

A. There were two theaters in Washington. Stock companies played in Grover's and Ford's Theaters. Leading actors and actresses appeared as "guest stars." Traveling opera companies also were booked into these houses. They were crowded during the war. An orchestra seat cost 75 cents.

Q. Are the funds of Federal Credit Unions protected by insurance? R. B.

A. The funds of Federal Credit Unions are not directly protected by insurance, but they are deposited in insured banks and most of the funds are invested in loans to members and in government securities. The interest on shares is not fixed and varies from 1 to 6 per cent, depending on the income of the credit union. The interest is voted by members at each annual meeting.

Q. What are the four ranking cities in respect to total livestock receipts? R. A. S.

A. The Bureau of the Census says that the following states, in the order given, ranked highest in total livestock receipts in 1947: Chicago, Ill.; Omaha, Neb.; St. Paul, Minn.; Kansas City, Mo.

Q. Why are certain types of schools called grammar schools? G. C. M.

A. In England until the end of the 16th Century, grammar meant Latin grammar, and grammar schools were schools in which Latin was taught. Ben Jonson, the dramatist (1573-1637) was the first person to compile an English grammar, which was published after his death.

Q. What cabinet officer was known as the "Great Energy"? J. C.

A. Friends sometimes applied this nickname to Secretary Edwin M. Stanton, who was Secretary of War from 1862 to 1868, during the Civil War.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLAM E. McKENNEY

TODAY'S LESSON hand is taken from Henry Brandt's excellent article in the July issue of the Bridge World, entitled "Up With the Queen?"

Before reading further, however, I would like to have you picture the following combination of cards: North has the same spade holding, but only three hearts, five diamonds to the ace-jack-ten and ace and one club. South has the same spade holding, three hearts to the ace-king, four diamonds to the queen and four clubs to the king.

West opens the jack of spades. In this case the whole hand depends upon the diamond finesse. Therefore South, the declarer, should put on a small spade from dummy, win with the ace in his own hand and take the diamond finesse into the East hand. Now, regardless of who has the king of spades, he is in no danger.

Let us now look at the hand in the box. The situation in spades is the same, but this time the opening lead is the three-spot. Suppose that this time also declarer plays low from dummy, East plays the jack and South wins with the ace. Then he cashes three top clubs. Finding East with the fourth club, he leads another club, feeling quite safe about the position of the queen of spades.

If the club suit does not break, East is the odds-on favorite to hold the fourth club. The queen of spades holds the first trick, then the three top clubs are run and East is given the fourth club. Now the opponents can cash only three heart tricks, and the contract is made.

North: ♠ Q 7 5 ♥ 10 8 3 2 ♦ A K 7 2 ♣ 9 6
West: ♠ K 10 4 3 2 ♥ A 7 5 ♦ 10 9 8 ♣ 4 2
East: ♠ J 9 8 ♥ K J 9 ♦ 8 4 2 ♣ J 8 7 5
South (Dealer): ♠ A 6 ♥ Q 6 4 ♦ Q J 5 ♣ A K Q 10 3

Lesson hand—N-S vul.

South	West	North	East
1 N.T.	Pass	2 N.T.	Pass
3 N.T.	Pass	Pass	Pass

Modest Maidens

By Jay Alan

"Johnny has little flights of fancy every once in awhile!"

SENATOR SOAPER SAYS:

Bumper crops of corn and wheat are in the cards, and that creaking sound would be a Democratic administration and Republican Congress taking bows, as thousands wonder.

In Presidential elections since 1892, the electorate of Maryland has been on 14 straight winners, a unique record among the states and possibly at Pimlico.

At 212 billions, the national income reaches a new peak, that foothill indicated on the more detailed maps between the mighty Mts. Debt and Prices.

With her tendency to oversimplification, Dora can easily tell them apart. The White Russians are the ones who wash, while Red Russians are always hot and bothered.

For cheap eating at other seasons we need a cut of meat corresponding to the 17-pound turkey of late autumn, which yields 21 pounds of leftovers.

Just as we're convinced the Red in Berlin has a built-in chip on his shoulder, he seems to soften. Maybe, though, we were right the first time.

Mr. Truman finds one family in four in the U. S. now are living "outside of income," that sordid moderne where life is worthwhile, but only for a while.

Let's Explore Your Mind

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Answer to Question No. 1

Yes. Parents who never display affection for each other make children believe that marriage is simply a cold, impersonal relationship. If they engage in quarrels and bickering, this is worse. Fortunately some boys and girls with such parents do fall in love and marry just to escape this, and do make successful marriages. But such parents do all they can to kill the natural love of the opposite sex in all young hearts.

Answer to Question No. 2

I thought so when I went to school, and now Harvard educator H. H. Holmes confirms it. He says our Puritan forefathers believed the devil tried to keep people ignorant so they couldn't read the Bible. So, in 1647 they passed "The Old Deluder Law" (the "Old Deluder" being the devil himself)—establishing schools so all children could learn to read the Bible and escape his satanic wishes. Dr. Holmes thinks now on the 300th anniversary of our public schools we should "give the devil his due." Loud applause here.

Answer to Question No. 3

Chiefly because it appeals to the individual's desire for importance—the very thing it destroys. It pictures the downtrodden—especially the have-nots marching in a grand pageant toward an abrupt millennium. Everyone will be a "partner in the great state"—the very thing he won't be. . . . It thus becomes a sort of hysterical religion.

NOW TO WIN AN ARGUMENT

By Albert Edward Wiggam, D. Sc. Presenting the scientific findings based upon the study of 20,000 interviews.

Six practical principles are explained. This booklet should prove of immense practical value to businessmen and women, salesmen, lawyers and all who contact the public. Sent upon request. Include self-addressed stamped return envelope and 15 cents to cover printing. Address Dr. Albert Edward Wiggam, care of this newspaper. Just ask for "Winning Arguments."
