A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Long Beach Press-Telegram Information Bureau, 115 Eye St., N. E., Washington 2, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for return postage.

Q. Aside from immigration, which are increasing more rapidly in Palestine, the Jews or the Moslems? C. F. M.

A. From figures published in the "Statistical Abstract of Palestine, 1944-45" it is apparent that the Jews are increasing at a similar rate to the Moslems. Although the birthrate among the Jews was 30.26 per 1000 population as against 54.23 for the Moslems, the death rate was only 6.65 as compared with 16.35. Life expectation at birth was 64.13 for Jewish males and 49.35 for Moslem males.

Q. How many letters does the President of the United States ordinarily receive in one day? L. L. H.

A. The mail averages anywhere from 1000 to 3000 letters daily. In Franklin D. Roosevelt's administration as many as 6000 or 8000 letters might be expected on a normal day. Special events increase the President's mail to tremendous proportions.

Q. How many innings must a pitcher pitch to win a ball game? V. I.

A. The Sporting News says that a starting pitcher must work five innings before he can be credited with the victory, unless he is removed earlier because of an injury or illness, or because he has a sizable lead and the manager chooses to save him for another game coming up.

Q. From what source is chicle for chewing gum obtained? B. N. S.

A. Chicle is a latex of the sapodilla tree which grows chiefly in Mexico and Guatemala. At present synthetic gum bases are used extensively in the manufacture of chewing gum.

Q. Is it possible for the vermiform appendix to grow again after it has been removed? R.B.

A. The U. S. Public Health Service says that it is not possible for the vermiform appendix to grow back after it has once been removed.

Carnival

"Well, well! How much did that one score on the laugh-meter?"

Let's Explore Your Mind

Answer to Question No. 1

The situation looks bad, men. Dean Mildred Thompson, Vassar, says that man is becoming a lost sex, sick with frustration." She says formerly he had a safe refuge from family troubles in the corner saloon. Now he finds the woman there with one foot on the brass rail.

Answer to Question No. 2

Yes, but only on one condition. That we have fewer people on this planet instead of more. As shown by C. L. Walker we now have two and a quarter billion persons on earth. It takes 2.5 acres to feed each person. But there are only four billion acres on this panel, not enough to feed properly the people we have now.

Answer to Question No. 3

Yes, in the opinion of this column. You can't govern men in the mass unless you can kill them. But if they know you can kill them you can govern them without killing them. And unless the great powers agree on a jointly governed world-wide killing power, the idea of world peace is nonsense. Killing power and governing power go together. Without a united, world-governing power to control world-killing power men will go on killing each other forever.

McKENNY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY

ONE of the things that we all enjoy in a bridge game is the strategy in planning that goes into it. Today's hand was played some time ago with Gen. Robert J. Gill of Baltimore, Md. The strategy employed by the declarer was very clever, but the general, who handled German war prisoners during the war and later was assistant to the U. S. Chief Justice at the Nurnberg trials, is familiar with strategy himself. His attack in this hand was well timed.

Declarer won the opening lead of the spade deuce in dummy with the ace and immediately took three rounds of trumps. Now the question was, did the general have a six or seven card club suit and three diamonds (South was quite certain that the opening lead of the deuce of spades was a singleton), it did not look as if declarer had any chance to make the contract. If he could find the general with a seven card club suit and just the king and one diamond, he could see a way to make the hand.

North: ♠ A K 7 4 ♥ Q 9 6 4 ♦ 9 8 4 ♣ 8 4
West (Gen. Gill): ♠ 2 ♥ 7 5 2 ♦ K 3 ♣ K Q 10 9 7 6 5
East: ♠ Q J 10 6 ♥ 5 ♦ 10 ♦ Q J 10 6 ♣ J 2
South (Dealer): ♠ 9 8 3 ♥ A K J 10 3 ♦ A 7 2 ♣ A 3
Tournament—Neither vul.

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	3 ♣	3 ♠	Double
Pass	Pass	4 ♥	Pass

Opening—♠ 2 (29)

At this point declarer cashed the ace of clubs, then the ace of diamonds. He was hoping that the general would have to win the second diamond with the king. He could cash a high club, but he would have nothing but clubs left and would have to lead one which declarer could trump in dummy and discard a loser from his own hand. Thus South would lose only two diamonds and a club.

However, the general was on his toes and when declarer led the ace of diamonds, he quickly dropped his king. Now, when the second diamond was led, East won, cashed another diamond and the jack of clubs, then led the queen of spades; and declarer still had to lose a spade trick.
