MAILBAG

"Why don't we hear more about the blind pianist Alec Templeton? Anyone who plays so beautifully despite that handicap deserves much credit."—Betty Holt.

"Have been wondering when you would wake up to the fact that a dynamic personality (Hayden Roberts) is on the air at 1:30 over KFVB."—Jeannette Racoonin.

"Don't you think Carlton E. Morse could do better by 'One Man's Family'? It has been boring in the past few months. Our whole family used to listen faithfully but now only my sister and I do."—Judy Stone.

"Noise orchestras kill me . . . occasionally something really fine slips through the air lines. KECA—I think it was—put on a fine dramatization of 'Good-bye Mr. Chips' . . . KFI offered 'Pastel of the Masters'. I have watched for them since but haven't heard them."—Arthur Fisher.

"How about a story of a he-man, who once tamed the west, Wyatt Earp. Let someone produce these episodes."—T. L. Sharp.

"Ever since I first heard Floyd Gibbons on the air I have ached to say that I like him and his program."—Charlotte Tilton.

"Does not the incessant and boring superlatives of air commercials suggest a compromise between American and British systems of broadcasting, for intelligent minds to work out?"—M. M. Allen.
